Architect Notes.

Rankin and Kellogg, architects, 1001 Chestnut Street, have been engaged under contract to prepare all the plans and supervise the erection of the new State Asylum, to be erected near Wernersville, Berks Co., Pa., by the State. These plans are quite elaborate, but have not been developed sufficiently to describe them in a satisfactory manner. Much minutæ and detail remain for the authorities to decide upon, after which the work will be pushed to completion with vigor.

Harold Godwin, architect, 905 Walnut Street, has made complete plans for an alteration and addition to the Gerson stores, 40-42-44 N. Eighth Street, which will soon take place. These contemplate the entire rebuilding of No. 44, and interior and extension work upon Nos. 40 and 42. New heating and ventilating, elevator service, electric work and all modern improvements will be introduced in order to make it one of the finest business houses upon the thoroughfare.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, Drexel Building, have been engaged to prepare plans for construction of the Central M. E. church, Allen and Franklin Streets, Frankford. The structure, as designed after competition, will be of local stone, one-story high, slate roof, with a tower at one corner, and in general will be a handsome edifice. The seating will be amphitheatre in form, and interior furnished very handomely; heating and ventilation will be of the most approved kind, and the whole will cost about $35,000 when completed. No contracts have been let.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut Streets, has prepared plans for the Charles G. Coulston Memorial Building, to be erected at Broad and Wolf Streets, upon the grounds of the Methodist Episcopal Hospital grounds, and will be part of that institution when completed. The structure will be of stone, one-story high, and 50 x 50 feet in area. It will be built with all modern improvements, best sanitary features, and with a design to prevent microbes of disease remaining or adhering to the walls. This additional building is the gift of Charles G. Coulston. The same architect has gone to Chicago, Ill., to receive further instructions in regard to the erection of the Pennsylvania State Buildings, the plans for which were drawn by him, and won the competitive award. The limits of ground and position will now be assigned by the General Board of Construction and Supervising Architect, after which the contract will be awarded.

Edwin F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut Street, has made plans for the following structures, which will be erected under his supervision: A new chapel for the Sisters Academy, at West Chester, Pa., to be 44 x 88, to be built of Avondale stone, and will cost about $25,000. Also, a new chapel for the Sisters of Mercy, at Merion, Pa. The building will be 60 x 200 feet, with a main projecting one 50 x 36 feet. Also, an addition to present home, which will be 39 x 99 feet, and two-stories high. All to be of Port Deposit stone with granite dressing. Same architect has made drawings for the new central buildings of the Keystone State Normal School at Kutztown, Pa. These will be 179 x 70 feet; basement to be of stone; remaining four stories of brick, and will cost $70,000. Also, plans for Church of St. John, at Lambertville, N. J. Gothic in style, 62 x 125 feet, with a tower at one corner which will be 22 feet square and 130 feet high, built of Stockton stone, and cost about $45,000. Also, plans for a chapel of the Sacred Heart, at Mobile, Ala., to be 60 x 150 feet, and to be erected of buff brick, with Indiana stone dressing; cost, $35,000. Also, plans for a new hospital for Sisters of St. Francis, at Reading, Pa., 250 x 60 feet, and four stories high. Will cost about $80,000.

Adrian W. Smith, architect, 907 Walnut Street, has just completed elaborate plans for a convent to be erected in the city of Wilmington, Del., upon ground known as "Ke t mere." The grounds are 300 feet square and will be enclosed by a stone wall ten feet high. The building will be 116x168 feet, and will be constructed of Avondale stone, Brandywine granite or Indiana limestone, three stories high, with an ornamented gable on the Gilpin Avenue front. To the right will be upon ground floor three guests parlors and three community rooms, also an assembly room, refectory, kitchen, bakery, and to the left of hallway, which runs to rear of the structure will be a transept, chapter room, novitiate, library, cabinet, procuratrix, larder, laundry, linen room, etc. On the same floor will be the sacuary, priests' sacristy, small chapel, confessional and sisters' sacristy. Second floor will contain guests rooms, infirmary, and sixteen cells. The transept, sanctuary and choir will be two stories high. Three out-sisters' cells, dining room, studio, robiers office, eighteen cells and linen-keepers' room will be upon the third floor. A tower and crosses will ornament the exterior of the various corners of the immense structure. The foundation walls will be of Wooddalstone. All chimneys will be topped off with masonry. No salmon brick will be used. Separate proposals will be received for facing interior walls of chapel and choir throughout with press bricks, with one row of moulded bricks around the windows. The outside wall will be of Morris quarry Avondale limestone or Brandywine granite. The building will be pointed throughout with cement mortar. The jambs, posts and caps, and arch stones in the three-story building will be of cut stone, as well as the cornice and balustrade and the mouldings of the portico niches. All cut stone on the Bayard Avenue front of the chapel will be the best quality of Indiana oolithic limestone, as a rule. The girdles between the choir and sanctuary and choir and little chapel will be of  $\frac{3}{4}$  inch bars. The girdle opposite the centre opening of the balustrade will be like a shutter to open outwards. The front and vestibule doors will be operated by a switch lever or wheel in the portress' room. The roof of the chapel will be of white pine. The consoles under the ends of trusses and iron beams will be carved. The floors will be of Georgia yellow pine and Virginia heart yellow pine. The vestibule door will be of white or red oak, other doors of white pine. A freight elevator will run from the cellar to the third floor. Throughout the building best double thick American glass will be used except in the chapel and little chapel, where the best cathedral glass will be used. In the main hall, opposite the main stairs, will be a full richly-toned bell of not less than twenty-five pound weight. Gas fixtures in the chapel will be of bronzed old copper finish; other parts of the building, plain bronzed iron. Everything about the building will be finished in a first-class manner. Plans are on boards for estimates and these must be in by January 15, 1892 when the contracts will be awarded under the supervision of the architect and Bishop A. A. Curtis, of Wilmington, Delaware.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Phil. J. Walsh, merchant, 28 South Street, is about to erect two fine summer houses with all attachments, upon his grounds near Mont, Delaware Co., Pa. Mr. Walsh will install the best appliances for propagation in these structures.

William H. Irwin, 2449 Turner Street, will build a fine large stable 63 x 80 feet in area and three stories high on east side of Ridge Avenue, south of Twenty-sixth Street. The structure will be fitted with all conveniences for the purpose of a livery and boarding stable.

Henry R. Shoch, builder, has just taken title to over eight acres of land at Ontario and Kennedy's Lane, upon which he will construct a large operation of houses during the coming season, and all of which will be in keeping with others erected by him in the immediate vicinity.

John M. Sharp, builder, 1336 South Coll Avenue, will at once begin the erection of fine three-story houses on Sansom Street, north side, east of Twenty-second. These to be of press brick, with stone trimmings and best of interior work, which will include all modern improvements.

It is currently reported that option of purchase of the old Dundas Lippincott property, at Broad and Walnut Streets, has been given to William Weightman, chemist, for the purpose of erecting a large hotel thereon. As a matter of investment no definite action, however, has taken place in the matter.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communication for publication may be left.

WITH this number THE REAL ESTATE RECORD enters its seventh year of publication. As the years roll along the field and scope of its usefulness widens and its practical worth to the interests it serves becomes more apparent. With the experience of the past six years behind him, its publisher can look forward with increased confidence in his ability for maintaining the strength and vigor of its building news columns, which have gained for the paper, both at home and abroad, a popularity possessed by few journals devoted to its kind of work.

With no axes to grind the editorial columns, although limited through the great volume of building news which must be reported weekly, have been particularly free from bias or unfair criticism, and, to the credit of those in charge of this special department of the work, be it said, no statement has ever been recalled, no assertion gainsaid nor apologies made. Fearless and independent, serving no master but the public, in whose interest it has worked and prospered, THE REAL ESTATE RECORD has sought to merit and command the respect of those whose esteem is worth having, and it is to this fact that its success is largely due. "Nothing if not useful" has been the maxim which has guided its management from the start, and the effort has been maintained throughout to make its value a hundred fold greater than its cost to each subscriber. No effort has been spared to justly merit a reputation for reliability in its building news department; and not only has a vast amount of earnest, conscientious and painstaking work been done in this direction, but it has been done under an intelligent appreciation of the serious nature of the work involved and the costly annoyance any less efficient service would entail upon those who from past experience have learned to put faith in its statements. With this issue a full and specific report of the work of building, together with the transfers of real estate for the year 1891, is presented. The tables will prove particularly interesting as they are not only sufficiently specific in their character, but they afford a rare opportunity for those interested in the statistics of, perhaps, the most rapidly developing city on the American continent. With an abiding faith in the ability of our builders to keep pace with the people's growth, however great, and with a firm belief that much good must come from the active and energetic efforts of such organizations as the Trades' League, the Operative Builders' Association, the Master Builders' Exchange and others, we promise our earnest and unqualified support to any and all who are honestly aiming and working for the advancement of the business and social interests of the whole city.

The Wilson Home Trust.

Any honest scheme in the hands of honest officials that will enable the heads of families to acquire a home merits the unqualified endorsement of everyone. There are hundreds of small houses in this city awaiting buyers that are now likely to become available to people of limited means through a generous, as well as a perfectly feasible system of instalment certificates to be issued by the Wilson Home Trust, whose office is located at the Southwest corner of Tenth and Chestnut Streets. One out of every eleven of the certificates issued matures each year, and all of them must mature at the end of seven years, and, under certain conditions, controlled by the subscribers, the yearly number of maturing certificates can be largely increased. The object of the Trust is not to confine subscribers in their selection of homes to any locality nor to any special character of a house. The proposition is certainly a commendable one, as it represents the application of the earnings of the subscriber, who, while now paying a yearly rental for the house he lives in, has no interest whatever in the property outside of the shelter it affords him, while under the Wilson system the weekly or monthly rentals are applied toward the payment of the purchasing price of the home he selects, which he enjoys and improves to suit himself, becoming its sole owner upon the payment of the last week's or month's rent.

For those who wish it a life insurance policy in the Mutual Life, of New York, is issued so that in case of the death of the subscriber before all of the payments have been made, the home reverts to the wife or heirs, absolutely free of any incumbrance whatever, besides which in case he lives a few years longer than the time necessary to acquire ownership through the payment of rent, a thousand dollars in cash in addition is paid. No cash capital is necessary to join the Trust.

Builders having houses for sale should acquaint themselves with the workings of the Trust. In fact it is suggested that builders furnish a list of the houses they have for sale in order that the subscribers to the certificates may make a selection from the number if they desire. With the proper support from our builders, the Trust could be made a valuable adjunct in finding customers for hundreds of our small new houses.

THE old established American Fire Insurance Co., Nos. 308 and 310 Walnut Street, this city, according to its usual custom has issued a handsome calendar, which will be found particularly useful, by its large and clear type, for office and other purposes. The design and workmanship display good taste as well as sound judgment, and the "bird of the broad and sweeping wing," so closely identified with the American Fire, occupies an honorable and conspicuous position.

N. & G. TAYLOR Co., roofing tin, 301 Branch street, have kindly remembered us by sending one of their handsome new calendars for 1892. It is gotten up with their usual good taste, and with an eye to use as well as beauty. Beside other attractive features, it is ornamented with the well-known "old style" trade mark of the firm.

MORSE, WILLIAMS & Co., of the Morse Elevator Works, have favored their many friends with a calendar for 1892 possessing merits of a high order, both in design and workmanship, the most noted feature being a fine steel plate engraving of the famous picture, "Naufrages et Sauveteurs."

THE firm of Lesley & Trinkle, dealers in cement, plaster, etc., has issued a handsome and artistic calendar for 1892. The engraving with which it is embellished is unusually attractive, representing the well-known picture of the "Horse Fair," by the celebrated painter, Rosa Bonheur.

WE are in receipt of a beautiful calendar from John D. Emack, roofing slate, 411 Walnut Street. The picture with which it is ornamented is particularly fine, being an artistically colored lithograph of the beautiful actress, Mary Anderson.

THE Doylestown Intelligencer, as an evidence of continued prosperity, celebrated the New Year by an increase in size. It is one of the institutions of Bucks Co., and has evidently come to stay.

ONE of the most artistic calendars of the year has been issued by William G. Fischer, Pianos, 1221 Chestnut street, and has to be seen to be appreciated.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Coatesville, Chester Co., $20,000 will be expended in street improvements.

—At Wilkesbarre, Luzerne Co., the Lehigh Valley Railroad Co. will erect a new station at River Street.

—At Reading, Berks Co., the directors of the Carpenter Steel Co. have decided to rebuild the works which were destroyed by fire a short time since. The insurance of $125,000 will about cover the expense of rebuilding.

A Falling off, including Alterations

Under ordinary circumstances comparisons may prove annoying and vexatious; for it is a well-established peculiarity of human nature that when figures are presented, no matter how large or how much they express in push, enterprise and prosperity, if they indicate even a small decrease when compared with statements of some previous years, the greatest possible importance is given to the decrease, as being indicative of "hard times," "bad business" and "a deplorable condition of trade and money matters generally."

If any reasonable man will but temporarily dismiss from his mind the results of previous years and give his earnest consideration to the figures we now present as the results of 1891, and also weigh their true meaning and importance, as well as the magnificent work they represent, he must agree with us in saying that the results of the year 1891 are both gratifying and encouraging.

Of course, disaster has overtaken a few who were engaged in building, who under different circumstances might or might not have pulled through; but in forming conclusions it is the successful results attained by the many on which estimates are based, and the list of unfortunates must be many times greater than this year to even disturb the equanimity of the building interest.

It is quite evident that the rushing methods of a few years ago have been largely abandoned, and it is also evident that the year has been one of serious thought and consideration, and that fewer idiots and adventurers have secured the faith and backing of capitalists in building schemes that our practical and conservative builders would not entertain even under the most favorable conditions.

It must be gratifying to the interested reader to learn that the falling off last year in buildings erected for industrial purposes is not as great as might have been expected, the figures being 247 against 345 for 1890, the falling off amounting to 98, divided as follows: Warehouses, 4 short; dye and dry houses, 1; factories, 18; engine and boiler houses, 1; breweries and bottling houses, 4; foundries and shops, 53; stores, 17.

With the view of presenting a more general review of the buildings erected for our industrial interests we herewith give the classification for the last three years.

Warehouses . . . . .	39	32	28
Dye and dry houses . . . . .	4	11	10
Factories . . . . .	77	83	65
Engine and boiler houses . . . . .	18	30	29
Business and bottling houses . . . . .	5	11	7
Foundries and shops . . . . .	75	117	64
Stores . . . . .	78	61	44
	296	345	247

Hence it will be seen that the number of industrial buildings last year were only 49 short of 1889, notwithstanding the fact that 10,250 new buildings were erected during that year; in other words, the percentage of industrial buildings erected during 1891 is greater than either 1890 or 1889, as shown by the following table:

	New Bldgs.	Indus. Bldgs.	Percent.
1889	10,250	296	2.8
1890	10,136	345	3.4
1891	6738	247	3.5

Our industrial growth is the keynote of the situation, and we are more specific in our reference to industrial buildings than heretofore, in order that the serious decrease may not be hidden, and may receive the consideration it merits; for it is out of the shops and foundries that we must look for occupants for our two-story houses.

It will be seen that the falling off in two story house building last year was enormous, the shortage being 2669 from 1890 and 2818 from 1889. Three-story houses fall short of the number erected in 1890 615 and 649 from the number constructed during 1889.

Office buildings over two stories show an increase of two over 1890, while the increase in investments amounts to $1,090,000. The Betz Building, at $1,000,000, and the Iron Hall Building, at $250,000, constitute the two largest operations of this nature, whereas during 1890 there were no large office buildings erected.

The following statement will prove of interest. It is the result of careful compilation, and we believe it to be rather below, than above, the actual cost of the new buildings of all kinds erected in this city since January 1, 1887:

No. New Buildings.	Estimated Cost.
1887.
6784	23,787,320
1888.
8262	27,790,816
1889.
10250	31,276,739
1890.
10136	33,830,046
1891.
6738	24,115,870
42,170	$140,800,791

According to our tables there were 14,204 transfers of real estate made during the year 1891, representing a value of $71,875,876.33. This is a falling off from 1890 of 1367 transfers and $11,003,288.89 of the money value. The mortgage incumbrance on last year's transfers amounts to $16,575,031.10, or about twenty-three per cent., a slight increase over previous years. The ground rent incumbrance amounts to $505,538.47, which, on a six per cent. basis, represents a further incumbrances of $8,425,641.16.

The sales of real estate at auction amount to $3,941,060.48, which carries a mortgage incumbrance of $173,797.28 and ground rents to the amount of $6,103.82. The sales at auction amounted to $215,799.28 more than 1890. The following resume of transfers for the last four years will be of interest:

Transfers.	Amounts.
1888	12,679 $62,663,201.87
1889	15,945 80,225,270.88
1890	15,571 82,879,165.22
1891	14,204 71,875,876.33

It will be seen that in both the number and the value represented, the transfers for 1891 were largely in excess of 1888.

The following tables merit a careful perusal:

The following carefully prepared Table, with classification, shows the total number of New Buildings erected during the twelve months of 1891 with the estimated cost of the same, exclusive of the value of the land.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

A new Presbyterian church has been formed at Oak Lane and a board of trustees elected. Also two elders, T. V. Bosworth and H. S. Stout. It is the intention of the new congregation to at once take measures to build a suitable place of worship, a sufficient sum of money having already been subscribed and paid in for this purpose.

Samuel R. Riley, carpenter, 627 Filbert Street, has contracted to make quite extensive alterations and additions to the store of Finley Acker & Co., 123 North Eighth Street, and will at once begin the operation. This firm has found it necessary to include No. 121 in their new work, which will give them two stores five stories high. All modern conveniences will be introduced.

The Danver Safe and Vault Co., of Boston, Mass., are about to remove their plant to this city, and will locate their factory in the old building occupied by the late Wilson & Hubbard Bolt Co., Cherry Street, above Twenty-third. A number of alterations and additions will be made on the premises, including steam power and heat, new machinery, electric work, etc. Work will be started at once.

The new apartment house, at Broad and Spruce Streets, known as the "Cleveland," will inaugurate a new idea in the matter of building in this city. The mortar with which the structure will be plastered will be manufactured in Wilmington, Del., and sent to its destination ready for use by the Charles R. Warner Co. of that place, a contract having been made for over $3000 worth of the material, this being what is termed machine or factory made mortar.

The New Church, Swedenborgian, of Philadelphia, through B. F. Glenn & Son, 555 North Seventeenth St., have made purchase of a large tract of land in Moreland Township, Montgomery Co., Pa., for the purpose of erecting a large college or school, to be under the direct supervision of that denomination. The entire tract is 336 acres. This school will be specially adapted for the education of both sexes, and during the coming year the preliminary arrangements for the work will be entered into. The capital for the undertaking is largely in hand, and the enterprise will be pushed with vigor.

N. and G. Taylor Co., manufacturers and importers of tin plate, 306 Branch Street, has now determined to erect an immense factory upon ground just purchased through the company's agent from J. Pemberton Ellis. The location will be upon the north side of Tasker Street, between Meadow and Swanson, in close proximity to the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroads. A front will be given on Tasker Street of 390 feet. Steps will be taken at once by the firm to have plans made and award contracts for the work of construction. The main building will be fitted with a capacity of 24 stacks, which will produce about 1200 boxes per day. Corresponding steam power will be introduced and all the most approved machinery for the purposes. The company says that the present plant has proved too small for the demand for brands of "American Tin," and that nothing will be left undone to now meet this pressing want.

An association of all the leading cement dealers of this city is about to be formed for the mutual protection of the trade. At present there is no settled method in vogue for testing the tensile strength of the cement. The form usually adhered to is to make what is technically known as a "brickette," which is a small quantity of cement formed like the figure eight, the centre being one inch square. The brickette is placed in a machine to which power is gradually applied until the cement is broken. The claim is made by the manufacturers that an expert can attain any result he wishes merely by the manipulation of cement when it is being prepared for testing purposes. The manufacturer makes a test and gets seventy-five pounds, while the consumer only gets thirty or forty pounds. This, of course, causes a disagreement. To avoid any discrimination resulting from such manipulation, the Cement Dealers Association will be formed, with a special department organized for testing all of the brands now on the market, which will form a basis for fixing both prices and quality.

THE WILSON HOME TRUST

PURCHASING HOMES FOR CASH AND SELLING THEM ON EASY PAYMENTS.

THIS PLAN IS PATENTED, COPYRIGHTED, AND ALL RIGHTS ARE RESERVED.

ITS OBJECT IS

To enable persons of small means but in regular employment to become OWNERS OF A HOME of their own selection, on small payments amounting to little more than rent.

THE PLAN

We offer Instalment Certificates at a premium of $1.25, and a weekly payment of 75 cents per thousand, agreeing that at least one of such certificates in every Eleven shall mature each year, and all inside of seven years. Under certain conditions the number maturing could be largely increased. These certificates, as they mature, entitle you to a home of your own selection, which we will purchase for you, and we will furnish you with a ten-year Mortgage, at a cost to you of $2.25 (on every thousand dollars) per week in lieu of rent. At the end of which term you will own the property absolutely, without any incumbrance whatever.

Should you desire to pay about 50 cents more a week, we will effect an insurance, subject to a doctor's examination, with the Mutual Life and Insurance Co. of New York, whereby, in case of your death at any time after being placed in possession of your house, the property will revert to your wife, heirs or assigns absolutely free.

By doing this, should you live, the property will become your own, and a few years later one thousand dollars cash in addition.

ITS ADVANTAGES

1. No Cash Capital required to join.
2. Immediate possession on maturing of certificate.
3. Paying little more than rent and possessing your own home free of all incumbrance in ten years.
4. Privilege of life insurance feature at small additional cost, which in case of death at any time leaves the property absolutely unincumbered, or, should you live, you obtain the property at the end of the term, with one thousand dollars cash in addition.

EXAMPLE

A house costing $2,000 we would charge you $234 a year for, payable in small weekly instalments, giving you possession thereof as soon as your certificate matures, which might be within a few weeks, and in no event can be delayed beyond a term of seven years. This house would rent for $16.00 per month, or $192.00 per year, showing the small increase of only $42.00 per year, in return for the convenience which our easy system of payment affords.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Northwestern Architect.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well. Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city."

[From the Builder, Decorator and Wood-Worker.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

"There is not the least doubt about 'Adamant' wall plaster will last as long as the building upon which it is used."

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communication for publication may be left.

The Philadelphia Record's Wonderful Souvenir Edition.

The souvenir number of the "Record," which appeared on January 1st last, was not only a remarkable production, but it was several stories above any single issue of any journal ever published in Philadelphia. Besides its wonderful showing of the city's manufacturing and mercantile resources, the paper was a perfect business encyclopædia, invaluable as a book of reference, and worth a generous binding for library as well as business purposes. The history of the "Record," written by Mr. W. C. Russel, Jr., an attache of the editorial staff, is certainly one of the best pieces of descriptive writing that has appeared in a Philadelphia journal for many a day.

The preparatory work involved in the production of the "Record's" generous souvenir edition was enormous, as each firm had to be interviewed personally, and many of them several times, to obtain the necessary data and consent, and in hundreds of instances consent was refused by those who now regret that their firms were not presented with their more enterprising competitors.

It would be a healthy and lasting advantage to the business interests of this city if the "Record" hereafter would issue just such a souvenir number every year.

On Monday evening, January 11th, the members of the "New Century Club," together with a large number of friends, thronged the new building at 124 S. Twelfth Street, the occasion being the formal opening of the new club house. It was the unanimous opinion of all present that the club has every reason to congratulate itself upon the architectural beauty of the building, the excellence of the workmanship, and the taste displayed in the interior decorations and furnishing. Great credit is due the architect, Minerva Parker, for designing a building handsome on the exterior, with an interior combining beauty and convenience. Besides a few offices, which will be rented, the club has a parlor, library, tea room, kitchen, directors' room and two bed rooms, together with the most beautiful and completely appointed and equipped "Drawing Room" in the city. It is the purpose of the club to rent the "Drawing Room," with adjoining apartments, for receptions, private theatricals, musicales, teas, luncheons, etc., and quite a revenue is expected from this source. With such inspiring surroundings the "New Century Club" will doubtless enlarge the scope of its usefulness and influence, and enter into new and important fields, relating to women and their work, which have been hitherto unoccupied, owing to the club's limited accommodations.

A handsome souvenir pamphlet, compiled by W. W. Morgan, Superintendent of the exhibition department of the Master Builders' Exchange, has just been issued to the public, giving a history in brief of the building and its adaptation and design in advancing the welfare and interest of all those who have favored the Exchange with their patronage, and detailing the various advantages afforded the general public. Admission is free to the display of the products of Philadelphia manufacturers of building material and completed articles, ornamental as well as useful, that enter into the comforts of every home in the land, and every visitor is made most welcome by those in charge. Information is given and answers made to any questions propounded. This department is open daily except Sunday and holidays from 8 A. M. to 5 P. M.

THE Board of Public Education has again shown its wisdom by the re-election of Isaac A. Sheppard as President of that body for the year 1892. Since Mr. Sheppard has occupied that chair many economical reforms have been inaugurated and new measures and rules adopted for the government of the school system of our city, and he has unselfishly devoted much of his time for the benefit of the rising generation. These duties could not have been laid upon abler shoulders nor where they would be more willingly borne. Mr. Sheppard is a pioneer in his day, and most happy when advancing a good cause or ameliorating the condition of mankind. The office has sought for such a man and in the incumbent has not been disappointed.

R. C. BALLINGER & Co., contractors and builders, Ballinger Building, 218 N. Thirteenth Street, Philadelphia, have issued a neat and useful calendar for 1892. It is ornamented with a cut of the magnificent Palace Hotel, at Goshen, Va., for which the firm were the contractors, from plans drawn by Yarnall & Goforth, of this city.

Our thanks are due to the Lawrence Cement Co., 505 Chestnut Street, for one of the most beautiful calendars of the year, and one which combines both usefulness and beauty in a marked degree. The handsome picture with which this calendar is ornamented appeals particularly to all lovers of "our dumb friends," and deserves framing.

THE Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch Street, has kindly sent us the Columbia Daily Calendar for 1892. The calendar is in the form of a pad, containing 367 leaves, each  $5\frac{1}{4} \times 2\frac{5}{8}$  inches; and each slip bears a short paragraph pertaining to cycling or some kindred subject, and at the bottom of each leaf is a blank for memoranda.

THE REAL ESTATE RECORD, of Philadelphia, entered upon its seventh year of publication with the issue of January 6. It is one of the most valuable trades' journals published and enjoys a constantly increasing clientage. — Daily Democrat, Doylestown, Pa., January 8, 1892.

WE are under obligations to Mr. Henry A. Bray, Manager of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., 520 Walnut Street, for a most elaborate calendar, consisting of a beautifully designed and colored leaf for each month in the year.

WE are in receipt of a beautifully designed calendar for 1892, from Mr. Henry G. Shultz, builder and contractor, 2633 Germantown Avenue., Philadelphia.

THE City Trust, Safe Deposit & Surety Company, 927 Chestnut Street, has increased its surplus from $140,000 to 150,000.

Architect Notes.

E. W. Thorne, architect, has discontinued his profession in Philadelphia, at 1307 Arch Street, and contemplates opening an office at Baltimore or Washington, in the near future. His present address is 724 W. Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Md.

R. G. Kennedy, architect, Drexel Building, has prepared plans for the erection of a one story brick structure for the Pennsylvania Iron Works, at Merion Avenue and Fiftieth St. It will be of brick and fitted with machinery and all conveniences. Contract has been given to Messrs. Gardner & Warner, work to begin at once.

Moses & King, architects, 431 Walnut Street, have made plans for the necessary alterations and addition to the buildings at the northwest corner of Twenty-third and Cherry Streets, and estimates are being offered upon the work. When completed it will be occupied by the Damon Safe and Vault Iron Works, of Boston, Mass.

The drawings made by Hazelhurst and Huckle, architects, Drexel Building, for a parochial house for the Church of the Messiah, Huntingdon and Thompson Streets, and noted in this journal some time since, have been placed on boards for estimates. It will be remembered the basement will contain a gymnasium and heating apparatus. The first floor will contain library, lecture hall, consultation room and study. It will contain all modern improvements.

Walter H. Geissinger, architect, Twelfth and Chestnut Streets, has in course of preparation plans for a very large factory to be erected upon ground just purchased by Hoyle, Harrison & Kaye, manufacturers of upholsterers' materials. The location of the new plant will be bounded by Indiana, Front, Fillmore and Tusculum Streets, and in area will be 610 feet on Tusculum by 443 on Fillmore Street, thus giving room for fine fronts upon either side. The above named firm are at present located at Third Street and Lehigh Avenue.

Some time since a full description of the new stores of N. Snellenburg & Co., which are to be erected at 932-34 Market Street, was given in the columns of this journal. At that time the plans were incomplete, but are now in a condition soon to be placed upon the boards of contractors for estimates. The base is to be of Indiana limestone, with pressed brick above, and stone and terra cotta ornamentation. The interior work to be of slow-burning material and construction, two elevators, steam plant, electric plant, and all modern conveniences. Frank R. Treat, the properties ranging in price from fifteen to twenty thousand dollars. We look for more than usual activity during the coming year; and, speaking for Wayne, the market is good.

—At Norristown, Montgomery Co., Henry E. Elston, hardware dealer, 149 W. Main Street, has purchased the property No. 60 E. Main Street, and will begin at once to make a number of improvements, among which will be a new galvanized iron front and another building, 100 feet long, in the rear of which will be erected a barn and wagon house. ### Architect Notes.

George Smith, architect, Harrisburg, Pa., has prepared plans for the First Lutheran Church of Altoona, Pa., to cost about $40,000. Also, plans for the United Presbyterian Congregation of the same place, who will erect a handsome new church building.

Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, have prepared plans for an additional building to the Reading Terminal to be erected at the Southwest corner of Twelfth and Filbert Streets. As these are not yet complete a description cannot be given at this time.

F. L. & W. L. Price, architects, 731 Walnut Street, have made plans for the alteration of certain floors in the house of Mr. Monroe Smith, 3717 Chestnut Street; also for new bathrooms and outfits as well as different hardwood decoration for the bedrooms and library, some of which are to be in mahogany, other in quartered oak. The drawings are being estimated on by contractors.

F. William Rumpf, architect, Odd Fellows Hall, 147 Ellison Street, Patterson, N. J., has been selected by the freeholders of Passaic County, N. J. to prepare plans for the new Court House. Ground covering a full block has just been purchased from the Colts Hill Land Co. for $76,000. The structure to be erected will cost about $200,000 to $250,000. The drawings will be ready by about March 1, 1892, when estimates will be invited.

Horace Traumbaur, architect, 310 Chestnut Street, has made plans for a fine residence to be built for Miss Mira Force, at Beechwood Heights, N. J. to cost about $10,000. Also plans are being prepared by him for a house for William Johnson, at Hillside, Montgomery Co., Pa. Also plans for a fine $10,000 building to be erected at Wayne, Delaware Co., Pa., for F. A. Treat, and drawings for a residence for Harry Middleton to be built at Moorestown, N. J.

Thomas P. Lonsdale architect, Manhattan Life Building, has been selected as the supervising architect to erect the Pennsylvania Building at Chicago, Ill., after the plans prepared by him and accepted by the State Board of Commissioners. It is now proposed to be in shape to begin the work of construction by March 1, 1892, and it is likely the blue prints will be placed on boards for estimate at an early day. Mr. Lonsdale has been paid the first prize money of $1000 for the accepted plans.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut Streets, having completed all the detail drawings for the new building of the Gambrinus Sangerkrantz, they are now being estimated upon. These contemplate a handsome structure of four stories, the first of which will be of Michigan redstone, the remainder of buff brick ornamented with red brick. Considerable galvanized and cast iron will be used upon the front decoration, while the interior will be fitted with every convenience inclusive of electric work, best of sanitary plumbing, speaking tubes dumb-waiters and all modern improvements.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Henry R. Shoch, builder, has just bought a piece of ground for $24,000, on York Street west of Nineteenth, for building purposes in the spring season.

City Council's Committee on Police and Prisons has prepared an ordinance for the purchase of a lot of ground on the south side of Berks, between Frederick and Warnock Streets, upon which to erect a new patrol station.

The Dutch Evangelical Church has purchased a lot of ground on the east side of Eighth above Cambria Street, for $8000, and intends to erect thereon a chapel at an early day. The ground was bought of John Mitchell.

Marsch Bros., 2505 N. Broad Street, will at once begin the erection of a stable for livery and sale purposes. It will be 26 x 60 feet, two stories high, built of stone and brick, with all modern conveniences and sanitary work.

The American Wood Pulp Co, at Manayunk, has closed its works for two months, during which time a number of improvements will be made on interior as well as exterior. It is quite large and employs about 125 persons.

The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad will at once begin the construction of an immense train shed at Wayne Junction. It will be located south of the present one and be 30 x 600 feet in area. It will be mainly built of iron.

M. Shoemaker, the lessee of the Frankford Opera House, intends to make alterations to that structure to the extent of about $1500. A new entrance on Unity Street and change of the rear wall will be the principal features of the work.

Subscriptions amounting to over $13,000 were received on Sunday, January 10th, at the Mantua Presbyterian Church of which Rev. W. H. McCaughey is the pastor. The money secured is to be used toward the erection of the main audience room.

A. H. Williams & Sons, contractors, 402 Tenor Place, have been awarded the contract to construct the roof garden upon the Manufacturers Club building, Walnut Street above Broad. It will be principally of iron and glass, with best of interior accommodations.

Estimates for the work of construction of the new recitation hall of the Normal School, at Westchester, Pa., are being received by T. Roney Williamson, architect, who drew the plans and which have been noted in full by this journal. These are to be acted upon January 22.

City Councils in the last year's appropriation set aside $10,000 for a new station house to be erected at Chestnut Hill. No action having been taken looking to its erection, Col. Samuel Goodman has offered to pay rent for such a house as may best suit the purpose until such time as a new station may be erected.

T. and J. Gallagher, owners and builders, 1905-7 Dickinson Street, will at once begin their spring operations by erecting thirty-eight two-story houses on both sides of Latona Street, west of Twenty-seventh. These are to be of press brick with stone facings and steps, interiors to be fitted with all modern conveniences.

New estimates are being made for the completion of the Naval Observatory, now being erected at Georgetown, D. C., the contractor having defaulted who was originally awarded the contract for the construction. The architect of the structure, Richard M. Hunt, 143 Nassau Street, New York, drew the plans and is in charge of erection.

The Bourse subscription list has received quite an increase to the fund from the architectural and building fraternities of this city, among whom may be mentioned: Addison Hutton, T. P. Chandler, Hazellhurst & Huckle, G. W. Kugler & Sons, Watson Malone & Sons, Geo. W. Roydhouse, John Baizley, Cope & Stewardson and R. G. Ledig.

At the last meeting of the Board of Managers of the Philadelphia Sanitarium Association, the President, Daniel Baugh, submitted architect's plans for a pavilion which the association will erect at Red Bank, N. J. George D. McCreary is Vice President, Dr. Eugene Wiley, Secretary and Edward H. Rowley, Treasurer. Messrs. Thackara, Smith and Col. Banes were appointed a committee to procure bids for the erection of the pavilion.

From an interview with Mr. E. F. Davis, real estate manager for William Weightman, Esq., we learn that the report which appeared in the daily papers of the 16th inst. as to the intention of Mr. Weightman to erect an immense hotel upon the Dundas Lippincott property at the northeast corner of Broad and Walnut Streets is absolutely and unqualifiedly without foundation, no negotiations of that character having taken place at any time.

Archbishop P. J. Ryan has purchased the property of T. S. Weigand, druggist, on south side of Market, east of Thirty-eighth Street, lot 30 x 114-6 feet, for the purpose of building in the near future a parochial house to be attached to the R. C. Church of St. James the Greater, at Thirty-eighth and Chestnut Streets, Rev. P. J. Garvey in charge. No plans have been prepared for the building, but it is intended to erect a house sufficiently large to accommodate the societies of the parish and the needs of the church as well. The matter of building will not be taken up until enough funds are on hand to insure success.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JAN. 20, 1892.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communication for publication may be left.

THE meeting held at the Academy of Music on Saturday evening in the interest of the Philadelphia Bourse was significant of the strong hold the idea has already taken upon the minds of our prominent business men. The drift of the sentiment expressed by the speakers was to the effect that a decided change in our business methods is needed, as too much tribute had already been paid to New York and other cities for the selling of goods that we are well enough able to sell for ourselves, and all that is needed is first to fairly comprehend our own wonderful resources and then to courageously meet the difficulties and overcome them. The Bourse itself is already an assured success, as sufficient money has been subscribed to make the task of obtaining the balance an easy matter. A very large number of architects, builders and contractors, lumber dealers and material building men generally have subscribed for blocks of the stock, as well as a few of the leading real estate brokers and conveyancers. Mr. S. Lewis Jones is the business manager of the Bourse, and in order that those desiring to subscribe for the stock may be inconvenienced as little as possible, a postal requesting him to call will meet with an immediate response.

WE have the strongest assurance that the Dundas Lippincott property, at the northeast corner of Broad and Walnut Streets, has not been sold to Mr. Weightman. The property will not be sold during the lifetime of Mrs. Lippincott.

The Proposed Ship Canal Between Philadelphia and Raritan Bay.

At a meeting held in the rooms of the Board of Trade and Transportation, New York, January 13th, Mr. Thomas Martindale said that he hoped the present meeting would be the opening wedge of a movement that would not only result in the building of a ship canal or water-way connecting the waters of the lower New York Bay with the Delaware River, but that the completion of the canal would be the first link of a comprehensive interior water-way, reaching from New York Bay to Florida, and from the sea-coast line of Florida over to the gulf coast, thus connecting the Gulf of Mexico with New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Savannah and Jacksonville, making the commerce of the Mississippi interchangeable with that of the Atlantic seaboard, and vice-versa. It is very hard to overestimate the importance of such a project, or the benefits to the nation at large, from a military as well as an economic point of view. The opening up of land at present totally unproductive and comparatively valueless along the whole of this immense stretch of navigable water-way would quickly stimulate the growth of factory, village, town, and city development, making practically the "desert to blossom as the rose," with the pulsating throb of the steam engine and the tread of thousands upon thousands of busy artisans who would find their living and their dwelling places along its pathway. From a military standpoint, the advantages of such a water-way are equally important. Complete this canal or system of canals, and the internal commerce of our wonderful and magnificent country could be carried on safely, expeditiously, and cheaply, in time of war as well as in time of peace. All the combined naval power of the greatest countries of the globe could make no impression upon our interior seaboard cities from New York down to Florida, as the mouths of our harbors could be effectually sealed up by planting torpedoes, outside of which the most powerful ironclads would be harmless and impotent for evil; at the same time our ships, laden with the products of North and South, East and West, would pass to and fro in safety and security. We desire, therefore, to consider the ship canal between New York Bay and Philadelphia as the first link in this chain. But what of the first link?

1st. We believe it to be thoroughly practicable.

2d. We believe it will result in a great saving in freights both to Philadelphia and New York, but particularly to New York.

3d. That we believe it is almost a necessity at the present time and will become more so in the future.

We believe that through the completion of this canal that your supply of anthracite coal (of which you used in New York and Brooklyn last year over 6,000,000 tons) will be delivered to your wharves at a saving of nearly $3,000,000 per annum, making a goodly return on an investment of over four times the amount required for the completion of the project. We in Philadelphia will be enabled to get our merchandise purchased in or shipped through your city at about one half the present rates. The country through which the canal will pass will be largely benefited and improved, and, in short, it is a project which seems to have everything to encourage, foster and promote it excepting the expected jealousies of existing lines of communication.

As an outcome of the meeting Erastus Wiman, Francis B. Thurber and Orlando B. Potter have been appointed a committee to urge upon Congress the introduction of a clause into the Harbor and River Improvement bill, appropriating $25,000 for necessary surveys, etc.

A Congress of Real Estate Men to be Held at Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 17.

The following letter from the Hon. John P. Buchanan, Governor of Tennessee, to the editor of this journal is sufficient endorsement of the proposed scheme for a National Real Estate Congress to be held at Nashville:—

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
STATE OF TENNESSEE.

NASHVILLE, TENN., January 9, 1892.

The National Real Estate Congress will convene in annual session at Nashville, Tennessee, on the 17th day of February, 1892. The objects of this meeting, in part, are: To suggest a uniform mode of real estate transfers for all the States; to formulate a plan for enabling the industrial classes to secure homes for themselves; the gathering and discussion of the statistics relating to real estate in the United States; the real estate wealth of the United States, including its mineral and timber wealth, and how this wealth can be best utilized and developed for the good of the whole country, farm lands and their betterment. Tennessee will welcome to this congress the real estate agents, dealers and land owners of the United States.

JOHN P. BUCHANAN,
Governor.

It is to be hoped that the active real estate firms of this city will meet at an early day for the purpose of selecting a large delegation to represent Philadelphia at the proposed congress, the purpose of which is to establish a uniform system of transacting real estate business throughout the United States. It is justly argued by the promoters of the scheme that the business men of almost every other trade, profession or business have their national organizations, which have uniformly been of great business advantage to those most interested, and why should not the real estate men of the country organize?

When one remembers that the foundation of all wealth is based upon real estate, and for a moment contemplates the vast interests in the hands of men in this line of business, the necessity for the betterment of methods and more extended acquaintance, one with another, are at once apparent. These results can only be obtained through such meetings as that to be held at Nashville.

Those having charge of this enterprise are men of influence in their vicinity, and their efforts have been ably seconded by the Governor of the great State of Tennessee, whose proclamation welcoming every one to the meeting may be found on another page of this issue. Men of prominence from various sections of the country will take part in the discussion of such papers as may be offered to the meeting. Reduced railroad rates are being arranged for from all the principal cities, and arrangements are being perfected for the entertainment of those in attendance.

The time of the meeting has been well selected. February is a most disagreeable month, for the most part, in the Northern States, and the opportunity to take a trip South at that time should be taken advantage of by real estate men. Business is usually dull just at that time, so nothing will be lost by an absence of a few days. Let us all go to Nashville. Let that meeting be the initiatory to great good to be accomplished by it and others to follow.

Mr. M. M. Kline, Nashville, Tenn., the Secretary of the local committee, will send information to any one desiring it.

David S. Creswell's New Eagle Iron Foundry.

At the junction of the Pennsylvania and Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, at Nicetown, Mr. D. S. Creswell has erected large buildings to be used for the mechanical work of the old and popular Eagle Iron Foundry, of which he is the proprietor, and which was established by his father, the Rev. Samuel J. Creswell, in Cohocksink, in 1838. The business was subsequently carried on at Sixth and Christian Streets; on Seventh below Arch Street, and lately at 812, 814 and 816 Race Street. The Race Street buildings having been destroyed by fire, and the rapidly increasing business requiring more room and better facilities, Mr. Creswell wisely decided to build elsewhere, and the occasion which brought together several hundred business and personal friends of the proprietor, on Thursday last, was the formal opening of the new works, with all the attending ceremonies necessary for such an occasion. The rehabilitation of the old Eagle Works, on its new site, is complete in every respect, and in future there will be no trouble in filling orders expeditiously, however large. The office remains at 812 Race Street, and is connected with the works by telephone.

Rare Oil Paintings For Sale.

The sale of fine paintings now in progress at the galleries of Messrs. Davis & Harvey, at 1212 Chestnut Street, this city, is one calculated to attract the attention of all lovers of art and those who desire to secure choice works of well-known artists. The collection comes from the galleries of Mr. Charles Rode, of New York, whose name is a sufficient guarantee of the excellence of the nearly two hundred paintings now on exhibition and awaiting purchasers. Among the artists represented in the collection are such well-known names as Daubigny, Corot, Eugene Verboeckhoven, Dupre, Leon Caille, Mosler, Ricci and Diaz. It is to be hoped that many Philadelphians will avail themselves of this rare opportunity to adorn their homes with valuable works of art. The galleries are open all day that visitors may view these paintings, and the sale will continue on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, January 20th and 21st.

THE American Fire Insurance Company has issued its eighty-second annual statement, which shows a state of financial stability to be expected from the wise and conservative management of its affairs. The surplus over all possible claims amounts to $307,152.28, and the assets are thoroughly reliable, valuable and profitable investment securities. The officers of the company are: Thos. H. Montgomery, President; Charles P. Perot, Vice President; Richard Maris, Secretary and Treasurer; Actuary, James B. Young. Directors: Thomas H. Montgomery, Alexander Biddle, Samuel Welsh, Israel Morris, Charles P. Perot, Charles S. Whelen, P. S. Hutchinson, Joseph E. Gillingham and Edward F. Beale, Jr.

THE black color of our drinking water clearly demonstrates one of two things: The intercepting sewer is either a miserable failure or some of our city officials are shirking their duty, for nothing under the sun but dye stuffs from the mills along the banks of the Schuylkill could give our water its present color and taste. A mud mixture is bad enough, but the stuff we are compelled to drink at the present time expresses the worst possible condition of affairs in our water department. Respectfully referred to His Honor the Mayor or the Director of Public Safety, for the health of the people is certainly involved

THE EQUITABLE TRUST COMPANY, No. 624 Chestnut Street, has issued its second annual statement, which shows a flattering degree of success for the year just closed, as well as for the preceding year. The net profits from January 8, 1890, to December 31, 1890, were $25,515.70, and from January 8, 1891, to December 31, 1891, $42,943.29, making in the two years $68,458.99.

THE Philadelphia Volksblatt has favored us with a calendar for 1892 which combines beauty with an unusual amount of useful information, including a street directory, the tax rate from 1869 to 1891 inclusive, the cost of the different city departments from 1880 to 1890 inclusive, and various other items of interest.

WE are in receipt of a handsome calendar for 1892 issued by F. A. Culin & Sons, electrical contractors, 55 South Fourth Street, Philadelphia. It is artistically designed and of superior excellence and workmanship.

THE New Jersey Trust and Safe Deposit Co., Market and Third Streets, Camden, N. J., has issued a neat and useful calendar for 1892. It is ornamented with a finely executed cut of the company's new building.

MR. GEORGE W. STEWART, of 2536 North Sixth Street, has requested us to state that he is not the George W. Stewart against whom a judgment was entered on January 9, 1892.

WE are under obligations to Macan & Co., Beach Street, for a very handsome desk calendar for 1892.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The delegates to the National Master Builders Convention, which will assemble at Cleveland, O., on January 19th, are as follows: George Watson, Franklin M. Harris, William B. Irvine, Murrell Dobbins, John S. Stevens and William Harkness. Alternates—Charles Gillingham, William Carlisle, Charles G. Wetter, William H. Albertson, Samuel Hart and David A. Woelpper. The entire Wharton Street front will be repaved with probably slab stone. The Board of Directors are James Walker, John D. Vautier, James B. Cowden, Edward Stumm, Joseph G. Ward, J. C. Cartledge, Wm. F. Smith, Daniel Mahorn, James Preston and John Christian.

Edward Henry Collin, of London, has just spent some time in Philadelphia looking about for a good suburban site upon which to erect a prospective gingham manufactory. As a result of this investigation, while no location was selected, yet sufficient grounds exist to justify the statement that the firm which Mr. Collin represents, will within a year select one within the limits of the city and direct the plans to be prepared by their architect, John F. Windrim, 132 S. Third Street.

George E. Goldbeck, real estate agent, 4217 Lancaster Avenue, and Charles F. Hall, 3944 Lancaster Avenue, have plans in hand for the erection of a theatrical building in West Philadelphia, the structure to be located at the junction of Lancaster and Haverford Avenues and Fortieth Street. The lot is 54 x 87 feet, and it is proposed to have a number of stores upon the first floor, while the remainder will be devoted to the theatre. The matter of construction is now under consideration.

A new ice manufacturing company has just been formed in Manayunk, with a capital of $200,000 and the charter applied for. It is composed of the following gentlemen: Peter P. Leibert, President; A. C. Brown, W. H. Bouvard, Charles J. Weinman, Isaac Wilde, Geo. C. Thompson and Fred. G. H. Woerner. The old ice houses belonging to H. R. Leiper and those of Leibert & Obert, at Glen Willow, will be fitted up for storage, and a new ice factory erected with the necessary machinery, etc.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is negotiating for the purchase of what is known as the Central Market, at Seventeenth and Market Streets, in order to make the proper line of extension to the tracks rendered necessary by the erection of the new wing of the main depot at Broad and Market Streets, which is to be commenced at an early day, plans for which are all complete and have been fully noted in a previous issue of this journal. It is understood that if a mutual agreement cannot be reached the company will give bond of indemnification and proceed with the work of extension.

The following letter will explain itself to real estate agents and owners interested in the annual meeting of the Congress: Executive Office, Nashville, Tenn., January 9, 1892. The National Real Estate Congress will convene in Nashville, Tenn., on the 17th day of February, 1892. The objects of this meeting, in part, are to suggest a uniform mode of real-estate transfers for all the States, to formulate a plan for enabling the industrial classes to secure homes for themselves, the gathering and discussion of statistics relating to real estate in the United States, including its mineral and timber wealth, and how this wealth can best be utilized and developed for the good of the whole country. Tennessee will welcome to this congress the real estate agents, dealers and land owners of the United States. John P. Buchanan, Governor. The secretary of the association is H. M. Kline, of Nashville.

Common Council, on the 14th inst., passed the following ordinances which will soon become laws. They have been noted in a previous number of this journal. An ordinance abolishing the grade crossings at Fourth and Ontario streets, Glenwood and Sedgley avenues, North Penn Junction. The sum of $100,000 is to be paid by the Pennsylvania and Reading Railroads for their share of the expense in making the necessary revision of lines and grades, and $200,000 is to cover the entire expense to the city. The Mayor is instructed by the ordinance to enter security for any damages arising in carrying out the work. The Reading Terminal Company was given permission to construct tunnels under Arch and Filbert Streets for the purpose of carrying steam heat to the new station and material to cold storage rooms in the New Market house, and also for electric light conduits, pneumatic tubes, etc. The ordinance, introduced by President William M. Smith, to improve the wharfage and water front on the Schuylkill at the Almshouse, was passed, as were also ordinances creating McPherson Park, in the Thirty-Third ward, and Wharton Park in the Twenty-sixth.

THE WILSON HOME TRUST

PURCHASING HOMES FOR CASH AND SELLING THEM ON EASY PAYMENTS.

THIS PLAN IS PATENTED, COPYRIGHTED, AND ALL RIGHTS ARE RESERVED.

ITS OBJECT IS

To enable persons of small means but in regular employment to become OWNERS OF A HOME of their own selection, on small payments amounting to little more than rent.

THE PLAN

We offer Instalment Certificates at a premium of $1.25, and a weekly payment of 75 cents per thousand, agreeing that at least one of such certificates in every Eleven shall mature each year, and all inside of seven years. Under certain conditions the number maturing could be largely increased. These certificates, as they mature, entitle you to a home of your own selection, which we will purchase for you, and we will furnish you with a ten-year Mortgage, at a cost to you of $2.25 (on every thousand dollars) per week in lieu of rent. At the end of which term you will own the property absolutely, without any incumbrance whatever.

Should you desire to pay about 50 cents more a week, we will effect an insurance, subject to a doctor's examination, with the Mutual Life and Insurance Co. of New York, whereby, in case of your death at any time after being placed in possession of your house, the property will revert to your wife, heirs or assigns absolutely free.

By doing this, should you live, the property will become your own, and a few years later one thousand dollars cash in addition.

ITS ADVANTAGES

1. No Cash Capital required to join.
2. Immediate possession on maturing of certificate.
3. Paying little more than rent and possessing your own home free of all incumbrance in ten years.
4. Privilege of life insurance feature at small additional cost, which in case of death at any time leaves the property absolutely unincumbered, or, should you live, you obtain the property at the end of the term, with one thousand dollars cash in addition.

EXAMPLE

A house costing $2,000 we would charge you $234 a year for, payable in small weekly instalments, giving you possession thereof as soon as your certificate matures, which might be within a few weeks, and in no event can be delayed beyond a term of seven years. This house would rent for $16.00 per month, or $192.00 per year, showing the small increase of only $42.00 per year, in return for the convenience which our easy system of payment affords.

Architect Notes.

Harold Godwin, architect, 905 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, is engaged on plans for fifty-four two-story dwelling houses to be erected in Allegheny City, Pa. These are to be of buff brick, red brick and sandstone trimming and quite ornamental in design, with all modern conveniences on interiors.

W. Frisbey Smith, architect, northeast corner Broad and Arch Streets, has nearly completed plans for a handsome country house to be erected near Woodbury, N. J., the first story to be of stone, the remaining two to be of frame and shingle treatment, with slate roof. The interior will be in hard wood, with all modern improvements.

J. C. Worthington, architect, 1305 Arch Street, Philadelphia, is engaged on plans for three fine dwelling houses to be built on Forty-first Street, south of Girard avenue. They are to be of Indiana stone, with plate and stained glass windows, electric bells and all modern conveniences on interiors. These are part of the operation now in progress upon same block fronting on Girard and Elm Avenues and Forty-first Street.

Theophilus P. Chandler, Jr., architect, Brown Bros. Building Fourth and Chestnut Streets, has on boards plans for a fine residence to be erected for J. H. Little, at Wallingford, Delaware Co., Pa., to be three stories high, of stone, with slate roof, interior to be a model of comfort, being fitted with hard wood, steam heat, electric work, plate glass windows, as well all modern convenience. Estimates will be asked at an early day.

T. Frank Miller, architect, 1221 Arch Street, Philadelphia, has just completed all plans in detail for a new Presbyterian church to be erected at Ambler, Pa. The structure will be of Indiana limestone, one story high, slate roof, with tower at one corner. An annex in bay shape will be erected for use of Sabbath-school, also a detached room for trustee meetings, etc. Seating capacity will be about 300 in amphitheatre form. Estimates upon work will be invited at an early day.

M. Fielding, architect, 110 S. Fourth Street, has in course of preparation plans for a house for Dr. Thomas C. Potter, on Green Street, Germantown. To be stone, three stories high, shingle roof, and will contain offices and dwelling apartments, which will be fitted with all conveniences, including electric work, steam heat, etc. Also plans for a school and college to be built at Radford, Va., which will consist of two structures. The first will include college, lecture hall, reading and other rooms, with an immense hallway with dormitories opening into it. The second will be for recitation and assembly purposes. All to be of stone. Estimates will soon be asked.

George W. Plowman, architect, 1408 Chestnut Street, is engaged upon plans and details for the new theatre which will be erected by George E. Goldbeck, Charles F. Hall and others, at Fortieth Street and Lancaster Avenue, and which will be managed by Henry Pincus when completed. All matters concerning material and finish not having been decided upon, it is too early to describe fully the structure; but it is certain to be one of the finest houses of the kind in the country. It will be furnished with every comfort and convenience, best of electric appliances, steam heat and improved ventilating system. The walls will be mainly of red brick, with considerable ornamentation.

F. Miles Day, architect, Penn Mutual Building, 925 Chestnut Street, has prepared a handsome perspective or preliminary drawing of the new "Bourse Building," which is now an assured adjunct to our New Philadelphia. The drawing presents a very handsome structure of massive proportions, which will be nine stories in height and will be of material yet to be decided upon. The interior will be fitted with electric appliances from dynamos and engines, elevator service and the most improved ventilating and heating system. Besides a general mart for salesroom a large number of private offices and sample rooms will be fitted up throughout the entire structure, and, if completed as designed by Mr. Day, will be one of the finest structures of the kind in the world. No decisive action has yet been taken as to locality, plans or time for building.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, Drexel Building, have prepared plans for a shelter and recreation building for the Sanitarium at Red Bank, Gloucester County, N. J., to be 75 x 110 feet, one story high, of frame and shingle work. Also, engaged on completion of plans for Central Methodist Episcopal Church, Frankford, and plans for enlargement of the Sabbath-School in rear of the church building. An extension of 35 feet will be made, to be of stone same as church, a description of which has been given in a previous number of this journal. Same architects have awarded the contract to build the house for H. J. Maris, at Chestnut Hill, to W. J. Gruhler, of Germantown. Same architects are making plans for a club house to be built at Asheville, N. C.—The plans for the Odd Fellows Temple, to be erected at Broad and Cherry Streets, have also been completed and will be placed for estimates at a very early day. The drawings, as before noted in this journal, show a fine six-story edifice of beautiful and massive design. The first two stories will be of stone, the remainder of buff brick with stone trimming. An auditorium or Grand Lodge room and a banquet hall will be two of the main features of the interior, while handsome lodge and committee rooms and library, as well as lavatories and toilet rooms, will be distributed throughout the structure. All of these will be reached by elevator service. Electric work, heating and ventilating upon the most approved systems will be introduced.

A. Druiding, architect, Room 27, Metropolitan Block, corner La Salle and Randolph Streets, Chicago, Ill., has prepared plans for a dwelling for Rev. Barth, to be 29 x 70 feet, three stories, built of stone, gravel roof, have electric bells, bath-room outfits, gas fixtures, furnaces and plumbing. Cost, $15,000. The same architect has also plans for a church, to be erected in Toledo, O., to be 87 x 185 feet, built of stone, slate roof, have frescoing, electric light, gas fixtures, plated and stained glass, steam heat, pipe organ, pews, altars, bells, and have 13 granite columns, with marble caps. Rev. E. Hannin, rector. Cost, $125,000. Also, plans for a church, to be erected in La Grange, Ill., to be built of frame, shingle roof, have frescoing, steam heat, electric light, stained glass, organ, bells, pews, etc. Cost, $22,500. Rev. Jas. Hagan, pastor. Also, plans for a church at Sedalia, Mo., to be of brick, with stone foundation and trimmings, slate roof, galvanized iron cornices, altars, pews, organ, stained glass windows, gas fixtures, plumbing, washstands, bell, ventilators, plaster ornaments, etc. The cost is estimated at $39,000. Rev. B. Dickman, Sedalia, Mo., is the pastor. Also, plans for a church to be erected at Ellinwood, Kan. It will be of press and common brick, stone foundation and trimmings, altar, pews, bell, clock, gas fixtures, etc. Cost, $24,000. Rev. Epp, pastor. Also, plans for a church to be erected at Swan River, Minn. It will be of brick, with stone foundation and trimmings, handsome interior finishing of altar, pews, a communion rail, organ, and furnace heat. The estimated cost is $32,000.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The handsome residence of Captain C. R. Williams, at 262 S. Fifteenth Street, was damaged by fire to the extent of about $10,000, on January 19th.

Wm. F. Albrecht, builder, 2341 North Twentieth Street, has purchased the East Park Hotel opposite Laurel Hill, and will improve the site by erecting a number of fine dwellings fitted with modern conveniences.

C. J. N. Platt, contractor, 1018 Academy Street, has been awarded the contract to erect the Gerson stores, 40-42-44 N. Eighth Street, and noted fully in a previous issue of this journal. Harold Godwin, architect, 905 Walnut Street, will supervise the work.

The Atlantic Refining Co., at Point Breeze, is about to begin the erection of an immense filtering house, 68 x 353 feet, one story high, and which will cost about $80,000 to complete. The material for the structure will be brick, iron and stone, being entirely of a fire-proof character.

Cofrode & Saylor, iron work manufacturers, contemplate the erection of a new steel plant in Reading, Pa., with a capacity of about 400 tons output per day. Their contracts are very large for the Fair Buildings at Chicago, Ill. Hence the new buildings are a pressing necessity.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JAN. 27, 1892.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communication for publication may be left.

AS FAR as we can learn there has been no effort made in real estate circles in the way of preliminary organization for the purpose of making arrangements to send a delegation of representative real estate men from Philadelphia to the National Real Estate Congress to be held at Nashville, Tenn., on February 17th next. The time designated for the convention is less than three weeks off. If anything is to be done toward organization, it is necessary to begin at once. To say that Philadelphia real estate interests are not of sufficient moment to merit a delegation of representative men is to beg the question and to admit our apathy and indifference to matters of national importance.

If the real estate interests of this city can be bettered by a national congress, or if a uniform system of transacting the business throughout the whole country is desirable, then it is absolutely necessary that a delegation of our active men should attend. There is no room to question either the ability or character of those who are the originators of the idea of the congress, for they have received the unqualified endorsement and support of the Governor of Tennessee. If Philadelphians would take the same interest in heralding the greatness of their own city that the average Westerner does the city in which he lives, it is certain that a better opinion would prevail among outsiders as to our own worth, and commercial and financial strength. If it were more generally known, and particularly if a representative delegation from Philadelphia would impress upon the minds of those attending the National Congress that, during the last five years, Philadelphia real estate transfers amounted to $297,643,514.30, and that, during the same time, our builders erected 42,170 new buildings at a cost of $140,800,791, we are sure that the members of the Philadelphia delegation would have no reason either to regret their presence or to be ashamed of the proportion of the entire real estate business of the United States they would represent.

THERE are several reasons for the popularity of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, but the greatest is perhaps the distribution of its stock among Philadelphians. The close identity of the Reading with the business interests of the city, together with the familiarity of our citizens with its affairs, and the natural interest taken in its prosperity are potent reasons why every one has a kindly word and an earnest wish for its future success, besides which it has never antagonized public sentiment. It has asked for what it wanted in a fair and manly way and without making itself foolishly antagonistic to other roads for no other reason than because it was the other great railroad corporation in a big city. The Reading Terminal franchise was secured without the use of a single dollar for corrupting influences. This statement may seem singular in the face of public opinion as to the methods of railroad companies, but it is absolutely true, nevertheless. What the Reading most needs at the present time is the earnest support of our own citizens, not in empty sentiment and good wishes alone, but the more practical and tangible support of patronage in both freight and passenger traffic. A single car fare to New York and return contains more earnest support than all the good wishes in Christendom. The season for seashore travel will soon come around again, and so long as the service on the Reading is equal to the best, why shouldn't it have your patronage as against the other monstrosity that opposes every advanced idea if it cannot absorb and control the proposition? The people of Philadelphia can make the Pennsylvania Railroad Company pay a rich penalty for its opposition to the Belt Line if they want to exercise a little of the old Mosaic law. And why not?

A Grand Showing for the Penn Mutual.

The Forty-fourth Annual Report which has just been issued by the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co., 927 Chestnut Street, this city, is one showing a degree of prosperity only possible in an efficiently organized and well managed financial institution, and is calculated to inspire that needed confidence on the part of the people which leads them to reap the advantages offered by a company that can show such large assets invested in such a way as to eliminate all danger from risks. That the public fully appreciate the safe and business-like methods of this company, it is only necessary to state that the new business last year on 8944 new policies represented the enormous sum of $25,591,719, making the total now carried $103,753,521, on 39,723 policies. From this it is evident that the full strength of the company is not only maintained from year to year, but that its well-earned popularity is extending. By referring to the statement of the Penn Mutual it will be seen that the gross assets of the company now reach the enormous sum of $18,551,338.30, and the net ledger assets $17,646,877.81—a gain of $1,714,549.09 over 1890.

When a life insurance company can pay promptly $2,312,042.97 to its policyholders, and at the same time add to its net assets nearly two millions of dollars, it is self-evident that its affairs are in the hands of competent men, and that it is a safe company to tie to, as its system is based on mutual principles that have stood the test for forty-four years.

Forcible Testimony.

Department of Fire, No 367 Jay Street. Office of the Fire Marshal. Brooklyn, December 21, 1891.—Thomas Barrington, Esq., Manager Adamant Manufacturing Co., New York City.

DEAR SIR:—The Adamant Wall Plaster which was used in my building, at Pleasant Lake, Sullivan Co., N. Y., three years ago, has demonstrated that it is superior to any plaster or preparation now in use. I have found it exceedingly tough, hard and strong, requiring almost superhuman efforts to break it from the wall, while its adhesive qualities are all that can be desired. No cracking or other disfigurements can be discovered from its use. But, better than all, is its fire-resisting qualities, which I have practically tested in various ways; and I am justified in saying, after twenty-five years experience in fire matters, that had Adamant been in use in that period the record of loss of life and buildings would not have been nearly so great. Yours very truly and sincerely, Benjamin Lewis, Fire Marshal.

The New York Life's Tontine Policies Maturing.

It is stated that the most important event in life insurance circles that has transpired during the last twenty years is the maturing of the tontine policies that were issued by the New York Life in 1872. The results representing the increment to the cash investments made by those who had confidence twenty years ago in the future greatness of the New York Life, means a cash increase over cost of from 58 to 71 per cent.; in other words a tontine policy for $5000, and costing $4853, since 1872, is now worth in cold cash, just $8,238.45, the insured having been thirty years of age when the policy was issued, and fifty years old at its maturity. The prospectus of the company can be found among the advertisements in this issue, and the many advantageous features set forth therein will certainly afford subject matter for serious thought and consideration for the architects, builders, and material men all over the country.

Railroad Rates Reduced to the National Real Estate Congress.

F. M. Cruzen, secretary of the committee having in charge the affairs of the Real Estate Congress, to be held at Nashville, Tenn., on February 17 next, informs us that arrangements have been made for reduced railroad rates and hotel charges for those who desire to attend. The full car fare is to be paid to Nashville, where, upon the presentation of a certificate issued by the secretary of the congress, return tickets will be issued at one-third the regular fare. Any real estate dealer or agent is eligible as a member of the congress.

CRAIG D. RITCHIE, formerly President of the Real Estate Title Company, D. C., Dallam and Henry Hazellhurst have formed a copartnership under the firm name of Ritchie, Dallam & Hazellhurst, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut Streets. The new firm will conduct a law, conveyancing, investment and real estate business.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Equitable Trust Co., held on January 20, the following officers were unanimously elected: William F. Harrity, President; Frank J. Johann, Secretary and Treasurer; and Thomas Robins, Trust and Title officer.

OUR thanks are due to Levering and Garrigues, iron-bronze work for building purposes, 218 South Fourth street, for a very handsome gold bronzed calendar with black lettering.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The new Presbyterian church congregation recently organized at Oak Lane, and noted in a previous number of this journal, has concluded to purchase a lot in the vicinity of Seventh Street and Sixty-sixth Avenue, for building purposes, and at once begin the consideration of the kind of structure, material, etc.

The management of the Odd Fellows Home and Orphanage have decided to erect an addition to the institution which will accommodate about forty or fifty more inmates. Work upon the structure will not be started until the spring, and will be done under the supervision of James Neal, on behalf of the Board of Management.

Horace F. Weeks, Esq., 51 N. Sixth Street, has just taken title to three lots of ground at Fortieth Street Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, two of which front on Pennsgrove Street, and will at an early day improve them by erecting three handsome houses, somewhat of a different style from those now erected upon the adjoining property.

Contractors are now estimating upon drawings for the construction of the Train Shed superstructure of the Reading Terminal, extending from the south side of Filbert to Cherry Street. This will include iron work, chiefly, considerable plumbing, flooring, and general construction work, masonry, etc. These plans were prepared by Wilson Bros., architects, Drexel Building.

B. Frank Livezey, building contractor, 625 Walnut Street, has been given the contract for fitting up the offices of Phillips & Cunningham 136 North Delaware Avenue. The same to be fitted up handsomely in hard wood. Also, the contract to remodel two dwellings at Ashbourn, Pa., for Joseph Burr. The same to be fitted up with sanitary plumbing and hot air heaters.

B. H. Cramp & Co., brass founders, will at once begin the erection of a factory on east side of Thompson, south of Adams Street, to be 60 x 150 feet, two stories high, of corrugated iron. This establishment will be for the manufacture of the famous Driggs-Schroeder guns lately patented. Work will be pushed with vigor, and will be under charge of Maurice F. Smith, when complete. Considerable heavy machinery will be placed in the new building.

The Rev. Russell H. Conwell has just taken title to the premises of Wm. Maier, on east side of Broad, north of Ontario Street, for hospital work in connection with the Temple Baptist Congregation, over which he presides. He is also the executive officer in charge of the hospital work of the church, which has been established for some time. Some minor additions and alterations may be made to the property at an early day. Price paid was $15,000.

The Spring Garden Presbyterian Church and the Columbia Avenue Church, of same denomination, have decided to consolidate, and will hereafter be identified under the name of the McDowell Memorial Church, and the new structure, now being erected at Twenty-first and Columbia Avenue, the foundation only of which is laid, will be completed by them jointly. The committee in charge has decided upon all the furniture, etc., for the interior, as well as the work of constructing the new building.

The Board of Managers of the Odd Fellows' Home, at Seventeenth and Tioga Streets, has decided to erect an addition to the Tioga Street front of the present property. The addition will be large enough to contain forty rooms, and the estimated cost is about $17,000. Elias Johnson is President of the Home. Horace B. Winpenny, Vice-president, and James F. Neall, H. A. Miller, James Bingham, Thomas Graham, Thomas Sipps, T. J. Harrison, G. M. Roth, A. R. Lukins and C. W. Hancock, Managers.

Mr. Gottlieb Schmidt, of Cincinnati, O., was a visitor in Philadelphia during the last week and has been exceedingly busy in the endeavor to fix upon a location for the establishment of an immense brewery which will be erected by a syndicate of which he is the agent. From present indications it is likely a piece of ground in the vicinity of Thirty-third and Girard Avenue may be taken, and Otto C. Wolf, architect, 1345 Arch Street, be engaged to prepare the plans. Also that the new plant will greatly exceed anything of the kind in this country or in the amount of production.

The Operative Builders' Association has elected these officers for the ensuing year: President, William T. B. Roberts; Vice-Presidents, Thomas G. Hunter, William T. Lindemann, James L. Stevenson; William C. Merritt, C. C. Moore, J. C. Moore, L. A. White, C. Pemberton, Jr., William C. Carman, Thomas H. Parks, J. H. Virkler, O. A. Guenthoer, William G. Serrill, Jacob Dowler, William Conway, Edward Darby, George H. Backmire, T. T. Rockett, H. A. Heisler, Samuel P. Ferrers, James Hastings, Daniel Adams, H. T. Cornell, M. B. Andress.

A movement is now on foot in the Manufacturers' Club, Walnut, above Broad Street, to have the organization represented at the coming Columbian Exposition, at Chicago, Ill., by a special building of its own, and the members, products of manufacture exhibited within. The building itself it is proposed to erect from voluntary contributions from members of the club, which would include architecture, masonry, carpentry, electric work, hardware, tiling, roofing, plumbing, heating and ventilating, bricks, lumber, plastering, etc. The size of the structure will be in accordance with the amount of ground given the club, and the whole to be a first-class exhibition of Philadelphia products.

At last a feeling of confidence is expressed as to the location of the immense Bourse Building which is now projected, and about to be realized. Mr. George S. Bartol, Chairman of the Committee on Real Estate, on the 22d inst., inspected very thoroughly the site bounded by Market, Third, Bank Streets and Elbow Lane, and is quite convinced of the availability of and its probable selection when the matter is acted upon, as this spot is very desirable on account of its central position in the business markets of Philadelphia, and accessible to all railroad communications. The matter will be brought up at the next meeting of the committee, but will not be definitely settled before all the money has been secured for stock subscribed.

Council's Committee on Municipal Government met on the 20th inst. in the clerk's office and bills to place on the city plan two plots of ground in the First Ward, to be used as public parks, were favorably considered. One of these parks is to be called the John Dickinson Square, in honor of Governor Dickinson, and the other will be named Mifflin Square, after Governor Mifflin. Dickinson Square is bounded by Morris, Fourth and Tasker Streets and Moyamensing Avenue, and Mifflin Square is enclosed by Wolf, Fifth, Sixth and Ritner Streets. The two ordinances were referred back to Councils with a favorable recommendation. An ordinance enlarging Weccacoe Square, in the Third Ward, was brought up for consideration. The square is bounded by Catharine, Weccacoe, Queen and De Kalb Streets. Mr. Meehan stated that Mr. Monroe had worked very hard to have the square enlarged, and, as it could be done with very little expense to the city, he thought it would be advisable to refer it back to Councils with a favorable recommendation. This motion was then made and carried. Mr. Meehan presented a deed for six acres of ground near Chew Street and Cheltenham Avenue, Germantown, from the Haines estate to the city, to be used as a public park. The tract is valued at from $20,000 to $30,000. The deed was presented to Common Council on the 21st inst. for acceptance.

The Secretary of the Treasury has asked for the following appropriations to provide for the care and preservation of public buildings in Pennsylvania during the next fiscal year: Philadelphia Court House and Post Office, $30,070; Custom House, $6200; Appraisers' Stores, $5520; Erie Court House and Post Office, $2940; Harrisburg Court House and Post Office, $2250; Pittsburg Court House and Post Office, $16,580; Old Custom House, $8940; Reading Court House and Post Office, $2130; Williamsport Court House and Post Office, $3660; Scranton Post Office, $2019. The Secretary of War has sent to Congress the report of the Board of Engineers organized to report upon a proposed national harbor of refuge for deep draught vessels near the mouth of Delaware Bay. The Board says: "The necessity of a harbor of refuge in this vicinity was early recognized, and it was provided for by the construction of the existing harbor at Lewes, Del., which was projected by a commission of distinguished officers in 1828. Notwithstanding the fact that the plans for this harbor have not been fully carried out, it has been of immense benefit to commerce, and numerous reports establish its great value and its national character. "At the present time this harbor is inadequate to the needs of commerce, and it will continue to be so after the work of Breakwater extension, now in progress, has been completed. Since this harbor was projected the number of vessels requiring its shelter has enormously increased. Its anchorage area is far too limited, and its low water depth of only about 16 feet prohibits its use by the deep-draft vessels of the present day. No extension or improvement can adapt it to the uses of modern deep-draft vessels. Major Raymond, engineer in charge at this port, has prepared plans for the new Breakwater, which are made the basis of the above report, and which will require about $4,000,000 to build.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Pottstown, Montgomery Co., there is some talk of organizing a new national bank.

—At Glenside, Montgomery Co., M. L. Kohler will erect a livery stable on Glenside Avenue.

—At Elizabethville, Dauphin Co., arrangements are being made to start another hose company.

—At Harrisburg, the Clinton County Electric Light, Heat and Power Company, of Lock Haven, Pa., has been granted a charter.

—At Downingtown, Chester Co., Dr. L. T. Bremerman will erect a residence on a lot which he recently purchased of J. B. Canning.

—At Pittston, Luzerne Co., the building owned by Strong Bros., and occupied by J. J. Donnell as a hotel, has been destroyed by fire.

—At Media, Delaware Co., a petition has been formulated by the authority of President Reilly, of the Media Fire Co., setting forth the necessity of the erection of a building to be used as a borough hall and engine house combined, at an estimated cost of $15,000. It is thought by some that this amount is excessive, and that a building suitable for the purposes intended could be erected for $9000 or $10,000.

—At Harrisburg, the following charters have been issued: To the Apollo Electric Co., of Apollo, capital $20,000; to the Central Cycle Co., of Philadelphia, capital $25,000; to the Henry H. Roeloff Building and Loan Association, of Philadelphia, capital $1,000,000; to the Scranton Stone Co., capital $10,000; to the Pen Argyl Electric Light and Power Co., capital $10,000; to the West Philadelphia Real Estate Co., capital $10,000.

—At Chester, the trustees of the First Baptist Church are considering a number of improvements which will probably be made to the present structure. One of the plans proposed will occasion an expenditure of about $3000, the most of which will be used in putting in a new steam heating apparatus. Some of the members of the congregation are in favor of purchasing a lot in a more favorable locality and of erecting a new edifice.

—At New Castle, Lawrence Co., a company has been formed for the manufacture of tin plate. Among those interested are John Stevenson, Jr., W. S. Foltz, S. W. Cunningham, M. S. Marquis, John Fahline, Frederick Ichberger and George Greer. The proposed plant will cost about $150,000 and about 200 men will be employed. The site of the mill has not yet been selected, but it is probable a location in the southern part of the city will be selected.

—At Chester, Delaware Co., Edward Dickerson, a member of Common Council, is negotiating for the purchase of a large plot of ground in the First Ward, upon which he will erect about thirty substantial brick dwellings. It is said a Philadelphia capitalist is interested in the operation.—At a meeting of the two branches of City Councils the appropriation to the Public Property Department was increased from $15,000 to $18,000 in order to to provide for some improvements to Edgemont Avenue Pier, and to purchase a steam boiler to heat the public buildings.

At Meadville, Crawford Co., at a meeting of Council held recently, Councilman Harris offered the following resolution, which was adopted: Resolved, That this body petition Congressman Matthew Griswold, of this district, to introduce a bill in Congress for seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) for a United States public building in this city, the county seat of Crawford Co., and would respectfully ask him to urge the passage of the same. And that we would also solicit the co-operation of the United States Senators from this State in this important matter.

—At Reading, Berks Co., a lot has been purchased by the Mutual Fire Insurance Co., on Fifth above Penn Street, for $16,000. The company contemplates the erection of a handsome new building in the near future. The structure will be of rough-faced sandstone, four stories high, and the interior will be handsomely furnished and supplied with all modern conveniences and improvements.—The Directors of the Poor House have decided to put a new floor in the hospital building at the Almshouse. It will require about 35,000 square feet of lumber for the work, and bids will be received for the same in a short time.

—At Scranton, Lackawanna Co., the Mayor, in his annual message, read Thursday evening, January 21, said: "It is a great disappointment to me and to a large number of our citizens that the municipal building has not been completed; for we are paying interest on the bonds and also spending a large sum for rents; and I hope and trust that if there is any way possible for the bond ordinance, which is now pending before your honorable bodies, to be passed within a few days, that you will exert your every influence to bring about such a passage, and that you will lose no time in providing for a contract for the final completion for the same, and endeavor to have it completed by the first of April next. We must not forget that it will be necessary to make an appropriation to furnish and equip the municipal building, as there will be no use in having a building without furniture and equipments. I therefore recommend that you make an appropriation for such furniture and equipments as will be necessary."

—The Williams Block and Knight's commission house was destroyed by fire last week, causing a loss of about $15,000.—At Greensburg, Westmoreland Co., the Walker planing mill was destroyed by fire last week, causing a loss of $10,000.

Through New Jersey.

At Seaville, Cape May Co., Mr. Charles Macallister will erect an addition to his present dwelling, known as "Torbert Lodge."

At Cape May, Cape May Co., the congregation of the Presbyterian Church has decided by vote to erect a new church. The estimated cost is $12,000.—Mr. Elwood Roland will give out a contract in a short time for the erection of a cottage.

At Orange, Essex Co., Charles A. Lindsley and others have filed with the Comptroller of Currency at Washington, D. C., application for authority to organize the Second National Bank of Orange, N. J.—Horace Stetson, City Clerk, 238 Main Street, wants proposals until February 17th for sewers, etc.

At Trenton, a bill has been passed authorizing the expenditure of $1600 for the construction of a new gas plant at the State Prison. A bill was introduced in the Senate providing for the establishment of an industrial home for adult indigent blind, and appropriating $12,000 a year for its support.

At Cramer Hill, Camden Co., a fire, on January 2d, destroyed a store and five dwellings. The store was that of Edward R. Megargee. James H. Asay lost his dwelling, together with some others.—The plans and specifications for the new Stockton Township Water Works Co. are now drawn up, and bids will be received in a short time. Work is to be begun within thirty days. The site of the works has not yet been definitely settled.

At Camden, the officers of the line of the Sixth Regiment, N. G. of N. J., held a meeting in conjunction with the Board of Freenolders and private citizens on the evening of the 20th inst., at which Major William H. Stansbury presided, and a resolution was passed requesting the State Military Board to confirm the selection of a site made near City Hall for an armory which it is proposed to erect. If this selection, which is on east side of Haddon Avenue and bounded by Stevens and Mickle Street, is confirmed a claim can be made for $75,000 from the State.—The Share Co., lately organized with a capital stock of $100,000, has purchased the Sinex farm on Pea Shore, near the Fish House Station, and intend to improve land and lay out a public park. The directors are E. P. Hall, E. A. Armstrong, R. C. Reese, F. W. Ayer, G. G. Browning, E. C. Knight, W. J. Sewell, W. S. Scull and A. G. Cattell.—It is reported that the West Jersey Railroad Co. has purchased fifty-five acres of ground located in the Fifth, Sixth and Eighth Wards, and will use the site for a freight yard after many improvements are made. It is said that an ordinance will be introduced at the next meeting of Council to grant the railroad the privilege of laying double tracks on Everett Street, from Seventh Street to the river.

Through Delaware.

Prechrel and others have incorporated the Vorwarts, Hollenbau Gesellschaft Co. Capital, $10,000, to deal in lands.—J. F. L. ## A Few Quiet Words with House Builders and Owners.

If the kitchen of your house is small, you need to economize room. You can do this by using a range with elevated boiler, such as the

"FIDELITY."

It will reduce the cost of plumbing also. We make them with seven inch or eight inch boiler holes, ovens on right or left of fire, with or without hot closets, and also to heat an upper room. Splendid bakers. Hot water in abundance. The latest and best of their class.

FIDELITY HOT AIR RANGE WITH HORIZONTAL BOILER.

Excelsior Double Oven Range.

If the kitchen is roomy and large, cooking capacity is sought. You will want a brick-set range with a vertical circulating boiler, set in the usual way. The

are acknowledged all over Philadelphia, in which city and vicinity some 75,000 have been sold as the standard brick-set range. They are furnished with ventilated ovens, oven-door pedals, rocking grates, and all modern improvements. Made in seven and eight inch sizes; single, double and hot-air ranges. Send for descriptive pamphlet, entitled "PERFECT COOKING."

Architect Notes.

The plans for the new structure of N. Snellenberg & Co., to be erected at 932-4 Market Street, have again been placed upon boards for new estimates, certain changes and modifications having been made in the drawings by the architect, Frank R. Watson, 518 Walnut Street. The award of the contract will be made in a few days.

Willis G. Hale, the architect, 1524 Chestnut Street, has completed plans and details for erection of a handsome factory 64 x 170 feet, seven stories high, for William Weightman and to be located at 1010 to 1014 Race Street. When completed it will be occupied by the Heywood Chair Co. The plans contemplate a very ornate front of light colored bricks, stone, and probably some terra cotta work. The interior will be fitted with electric work, elevator service, steam power and heat, best of sanitary plumbing and all modern conveniences. Benj. Ketcham & Son, 1029 Brown Street, have been awarded the contract. Work will not be started until early spring.

George W. Plowman, architect, 1408 Chestnut Street, has completed all plans for the West Philadelphia Theatre, noted in the last issue of this journal, to be located at Fortieth and Lancaster Avenue, and has made blue prints for estimates of contractors. The structure will be three stories high and built of buff brick and terra cotta, with some iron columns and frames in front. The first floor will be fitted for stores, while the remainder will be included in the theatrical portion. An individual electric plant will be used to light the structure, and all the doors will be opened for exit by the same power. It will be heated by steam and will seat 2360 people, and the upholstery will be of the best. Unique proscenium boxes will be at either side and elegantly furnished. Extra outside iron stairways will be provided for exit from galleries, and iron lathing will be used to retain the plaster upon the interior of the building, and every means will be utilized to make it thoroughly fire proof. Work will be started as soon as contracts are awarded upon the estimates now being made.

A. W. Leh, architect, 214 Second Street, South Bethlehem, Pa., has made plans for a fine $10,000 residence on the colonial style for Mr. Harry Weiss at South Bethlehem, Pa. Also, for a twelve room high school building, 92 x 112, three stories high, for borough of South Bethlehem, to be of brick with stone trimmings. Also, two brick store buildings three stories in height, 40 x 75, for Mr. M. Conolly, South Bethlehem. Also, three-story store building 40 x 60 for Semmel, the shoe dealer, in West Bethlehem; to be of brick with stone trimming. Also, two store buildings, 43 x 100, three stories high, for Captain Wiley, of Bethlehem. This building is of Romanesque design and will be located corner of Main and Market Streets. The first story to be of carved stone and above that brick with stone trimming. Estimates are being made on a brick and stone residence for Mr. F. L. Nadler, the undertaker of South Bethlehem. The building is to be 30x58, and was designed by A. W. Leh, and will have hardwood finish throughout and all modern conveniences. Mr. Nadler will at the same time have a brick undertaking establishment built 30 x 70, with warehouse, morgue and stables combined. It is also the design of Mr. A. W. Leh.

P. Albert Welsh, architect, 429 Walnut Street, has on boards plans for a handsome office building for Broomall & Black, to be erected in Chester, Pa., adjoining the new post-office building, to be four stories high, of stone, slate roof, tile floors, vaults throughout, hardwood finish, electric work, steam heat, elevator service, and will have twenty eight offices fitted up, exclusive of the first floor, upon which Mr. Broomall will have a fine suite of rooms for legal offices. The structure will be known as "The Law Building." Same architect has plans for a house at Ridley Park, Pa., for Charles Faligan, to be three stories high, of brick, with shingle roof and all modern conveniences, steam heat, gas fitting, electric bells, and best of sanitary plumbing, etc. Also, just finished plans for large school house and preparing for estimates on the work of construction. Also, getting in shape for estimate on work of fitting up the hall of St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church with stage, machinery, furniture, etc. Same architect has submitted the plans for estimate upon the construction of the house of Robert Wetherill at Chester, Pa. Mr. Welsh is about to begin work upon the interior work of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, on Fourth Street, below Locust, which will be of a very fine character, and has been fully described by us in a former number of this journal. Also, getting in readiness to start work upon St. Agatha's Church at West Chester, Pa., for which plans have been prepared for some time. Mr. Welsh has been engaged to prepare plans for a fine Roman Catholic church to cost about $100,000, of which a full description will be given when drawings are complete. In a few days estimates will be asked for twelve houses to be erected at Sixtieth and Springfield Avenue for Mr. Dwight, who has built a number in the same vicinity. Work under the supervision of Mr. Welsh will at once be started on the parochial house of St. Agatha's Roman Catholic Church at Thirty-eighth and Spring Garden Streets. Estimates are being received on the frescoing, grates, stained glass, etc., for St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, at Lancaster, Pa. Mr. Welsh says he has only fairly opened on his spring work.

The Electric Lighter.

One of the most delightful accessories that electricity furnishes to the household is the newly invented "Electric Lighter," a beautiful ornament for home, and instantly responsive to a call for light, besides being serviceable in many other ways to the family. It is made of highly polished nickel plate, is but six inches high, and occupies only six square inches of space. Its construction is so simple that it can be taken readily to pieces and as easily readjusted to working order. It needs no wires or connections, the current of electricity being generated by chemical action within the cylinder. It is operated by pressing the little button at the top of the centre rod, the light instantly appearing at the opening under the ornament upon the upper band, and is perfectly safe and secure, and a child can operate it. The material used in the battery is sold by every druggist, and ten cents will purchase a supply sufficient for from thirty to sixty days of constant service. Its construction is so ornamental that it will readily find a place among the bric-a-brac, and it is easily portable from room to room. Though originally designed for a lighter, it has been found practicable to add several useful accessories. A medical coil with hand electrodes can be readily attached, by which either gentle or sharp electric shocks can be given to persons suffering from nervous affections, rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, headache, etc. This attachment can also be connected by wire to doors and windows, thus providing a complete and perfectly reliable electric burglar alarm, besides which it can be connected by wire to the nearest police station. Another adjunct is the call bell, which is also easily adjustable, and operated by pushing down the central rod. This novel invention with its various accessories will be found a most desirable companion for business and professional men, for students and for housewives for domestic purposes of various kinds. It would be impossible to describe properly this invention within the limits of a newspaper article, as its beauty, quick service and simplicity of construction need to be seen in order to be appreciated. It is manufactured and sold by the Barr Manufacturing Co., at Nos. 17 and 19 Broadway, New York, and additional information may be obtained by addressing the company as above.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Equitable Trust Co., 624 Chestnut Street, held on January 20th, the following officers were unanimously re-elected: William F. Harrity, President; George M. Dallas and Daniel Donovan, Vice-presidents; Frank J. Johann, Secretary and Treasurer, and Thomas Robins, Trust and Title Officer.

Architect Notes.

George T. Pearson, architect, 427 Walnut Street, has made plans for a house for Mr. R. Rathbun, at Bethlehem, Pa., to be three stories high, of Ohio river bricks, tile roof, electric bells, steam heat and all modern conveniences. Also, plans for a fine residence for Mrs. Ivins, on Upsal Street, Germantown, to be of English style of architecture, Ohio river brick, green slate roof and all modern conveniences. Also, plans for a hotel and excursion house and engineer's cottage, at Mill Mountain, Roanoke, Va. Open timber work on interior and good modern conveniences.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Leonard Schwab, contractor, 940 N. Sixth Street, will at once begin alterations and addition to Mechanics Hall, Fourth and George Streets.

John R. Wiggins, 1536 Seybert Street, has the contract to erect a glass conservatory for the German Hospital, at Girard and Corinthian Avenues, and will begin work at once.

The Northern Liberty Gas Co. is about erecting a large boiler house at its works on Laurel, east of Front, to be of brick, iron, and cement work, two stories high, and 23 x 125 feet in area.

Archbishop P. J. Ryan has taken title to the old Scott property, on north side of Pine Street, east of Eighth. Price paid $20,500, to be used for diocesan work, and will probably be somewhat altered on interior.

Lewis Snyder & Son, contractors, 114 N. Thirteenth Street, will at once begin the erection of a boiler house at Reed and Swanson Streets, adjoining sugar house, to be three stories high, 38 x 64 feet, of brick, slate roof, etc.

The congregation of St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal Church, Frankford, assisted by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's, have started a fund with a view of erecting a parochial building in rear of the church, which will cost about $10,000.

Thomas Dolan's Dye Works will be enlarged by an additional building at Front and Oxford Streets. It will be of brick, one story high, 40 x 206 feet, and contain the necessary steam fittings for the work. David Mayhew, contractor, 1426 Palmer Street, will erect the structure.

The building so long occupied as a storehouse by Leslie, Trinkle & Co., Delaware and Fairmount Avenues, has been condemned by the Board of Building Inspectors, and interior and exterior repairs will be necessary to place it in proper condition.

William Weightman, chemist, has purchased quite a large tract of ground in the vicinity of Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth and Carpenter Streets. Also another smaller purchase facing on Grays Ferry Road, and one upon Washington Avenue. These purchases at present are matters of investment.

The Harmonic German Society have bought of Benjamin Teller & Bro. the Spring Garden Presbyterian Church property at Eleventh Street north of Spring Garden, for $25,000, and intend to remodel it to suit the purposes of the society at once. No plans or details have been completed, as the transfer has only been recorded within a few days.

Oscar L. Wilson, 113 S. Eleventh Street, has leased with privilege of purchase, the premises at the southeast corner of Eleventh and Arch Streets, and will erect a handsome hotel upon the site. It is also understood that an adjoining property will be added to the premises, which extend to Cuthbert Street in the rear.

W. R. Brown, real estate dealer and builder, 3229 North Seventeenth Street, has bought of George H. Hill quite a large lot of ground at corner of Sixteenth and Westmoreland Streets, Tioga, on which to build a number of fine houses when the spring season opens; also a lot at Seventeenth Street and Atlantic Avenue for the same purpose.

J. C. Bell & Co., who lately purchased the property southwest corner of Orthodox and Richmond streets, known as the Jenks estate of ten acres, contemplate a large building operation of about 280 two and three story houses, in the early spring, upon the site. Already ground has been broken for about 43 on Orthodox Street in the way of grading.

The conditions of the union of the Columbia Avenue Presbyterian Church and the old Spring Garden Church are that the former shall raise $10,000 and the latter $19,000 upon the new structure now in course of erection at Twenty-first Street Columbia Avenue. The above has been agreed upon and the Presbytery will be asked to confirm the propositions and the union.

The work of demolishing the old buildings upon which the new offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad will be erected, at Broad and Market Streets, has been started, and the new building will be commenced at once under direction of the company's engineer and architect, A. Felspaugh, who drew all the plans. These have been noted in former editions of this journal in full.

The contract to erect the train sheds and work for the Terminal Station, extending north from the southern line of Filbert Street, has been given to Charles McCaul, contractor, No. 20 N. Eleventh Street, who has constructed the base work now ready for the superstructure. This work has been so fully described in previous numbers of this journal that no further notice is deemed necessary.

The Baldwin Locomotive Works is about to make an addition of two structures to its works on north side of Pennsylvania Avenue, west of Seventeenth Street, each being respectively 82 x 85 feet and 40 x 80 feet, each to be of brick and iron, the latter being a boiler house and the former a spring manufactory, which will require about $10,000 worth of machinery to fit up for that purpose.

George E. Goldbeck, builder and real estate operator, 4217 Lancaster Avenue, has purchased ground on north side of Master, between Fifty-second and Fifty-third Streets, upon which he intends to erect quite a number of fine houses, the fronts of which are to be of buff brick with brown-stone trimmings, and interior to have all modern conveniences, including hardwood finish, electric bells, sanitary plumbing, etc.

George F. Payne & Co., contractors for the handsome country house of Mitchell Harrison, at Chestnut Hill, including a large stable, is pushing the work forward with vigor. When completed it will be one of the finest in that locality, being 150 feet in length and mostly only two stories high. The centre of structure is in shape of an arcade, extending clear through and arched over. Messrs. Cope & Stewardson, 324-26 Walnut Street, drew all plans and will supervise the work.

Henry A. Hornickle, Thirteenth and Sansom Streets, has just taken title to the property at northeast corner of Twelfth and Arch Streets, and will alter or rebuild entirely the present structure for hotel purposes. Mr. Hornickle has considered some preliminary ideas or plans, but has not definitely settled upon what will be his line of action; but it is certain he will erect a very handsome and commodious hotel upon the site, upon which work may not be commenced for some time yet.

The Master Carpenters and Builders' Co. of Philadelphia held their annual meeting on the 27th inst. and elected the following officers: President, Stacy Reeves; first vice-president, Benjamin Ketcham; second vice-president, Rush J. Whitesides; secretary, Charles G. Wetter; treasurer, Thomas H. Marshall. The Board of Directors for the ensuing year will be Stacy Reeves, George Watson, Jacob R. Garber, Charles McCaul, Charles G. Welter, Jacob Myers and John Garrison.

The Caledonian Club have sold their property at 214 to 218 Pine Streets for $12,000, and in turn at once took title to the northeast corner of Thirteenth and Spring Garden Streets, formerly owned by R. D. Wood. The lot in size is 40 x 100 feet, and it is the intention of the organization to at once take measures to erect a handsome four-story club house upon the site, which will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000, much of which fund is now in hand. It is likely that John Ord, Architect of the Public Buildings, will prepare the plans for the structure.

J. R. Jordan is about to begin the erection of a fine three-story school house with basement at northwest corner of Frankford Avenue and Ontario Street. The plans were drawn by Architect Austin, and contemplate a red Hummelstown stone structure with slate roof and artificial stone pavement. Interior to be fitted with best of modern conveniences and improvements, inclusive of electric bells, best plumbing and gas fitting, sliding doors, book cases and closets, heated by air furnaces, etc. The structure will be erected under supervision of the architect.

The Haddington Y. M. C. A. Athletic Association is booming to the front more rapidly than any young athletic association across the river. They have purchased grounds at Sixtieth and Vine Streets, and will have them ready in the spring. The grounds will be much larger than the present athletic grounds of the association at Belmont and Elm Avenues, and will have a quarter of a mile racing track. The athletic department have just finished their gymnasium at the rear of the building, and will have it fitted up with the newest and most approved apparatus.

The High School Committee of the Board of Education of Philadelphia have decided to ask of City Councils an appropriation of $500,000 to erect a new High School for boys, and with a view to that end have directed preliminary plans for explanation to be drawn by Mr. Austin, architect. Two sites have for some time been in view for this purpose, the one at Broad and Green Streets, and the other at Twenty-sixth and Jefferson Streets; but the former seems to be the most desired by a majority of the Board. It is said that additional ground can be bought adjoining the present school, which would make it all that could be desired as a first class location.

At a meeting of the Builders' Exchange, Seventh, below Market Street, on the 26th inst. the following directors were elected for three years: Franklin M. Harris, John Kisterbock, Charles P. Bancroft, A. B. Barber, John P. Eyanson, Murrell Dobbins, William B. Irvine; and two years, Peter Gray. The officers will be chosen at a directors' meeting. The following will probably be the successful ticket: President, Murrell Dobbins; first vice-president, William H. Albertson; second vice-president, F. M. Harris; secretary, William Harkness, Jr.; treasurer, Charles Peers. All the superintendents will be retained.

The Property Committee of the Board of Education, at a meeting held on January 27th, formally accepted the plans for the new Normal School, to be erected at Thirteenth and Spring Garden Streets. They call for a structure four stories high, with a large basement, in which will be located a gymnasium, dining room, etc. It will probably be surrounded by an asphalt pavement. A committee was present at the meeting from the Master Builders' Exchange to submit certain points which it was desired to have embodied in future contracts for the protection of sub-contractors. Although at a loss to see how this could be remedied by the Property Committee, Chairman Kavanaugh agreed to consult City Solicitor Warwick, and, if possible, means would be taken in future to modify the contracts as requested by the committee from the Exchange. As soon as the City Solicitor has passed on the question of the contract, proposals will be invited for the new building.

Ordinances have been offered as follows in City Councils by: Mr. Henderson, to open Anthracite Street, from Belgrade Street to Aramingo Avenue; also to open Belgrade Street, between Anthracite and Huntingdon Streets. Mr. McLaughlin, to pave Pink Street, between Master and Jefferson Streets; also, to pave Philip Street, between Master and Oxford Streets; also, to pave Bodine Street, between Jefferson and Oxford Streets; also, to pave Palethorpe Street, between Jefferson and Oxford Streets. Mr. Bateson, to open Columbia Avenue, between Fiftieth and Fifty-second Streets; also, to pave Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Streets, near Aspen; also, to pave Viola Street and Columbia Avenue, between Fifty-first and Fifty-second Streets. Mr. Savidge, to grade Clarence Street, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth. Mr. Adams, to grade Linden Street, between Jefferson and Bolton Streets. Mr. Knight, to grade Sepviva Street, north and south of Venango Street. Mr. Wilson, granting permission to W. G. Warden to drive an artesian well under his sidewalk on Quince Street, above Pine. Mr. Anderson, to build a sewer and lay gas and water pipes on Fifteenth Street, between Mifflin and McKean Streets. Mr. Garrett, from the Tenth Sectional School Board, requesting the purchase of ground to the west of the Edwin Shippen School House, Cherry Street, above Nineteenth. Mr. Hicks, to place a street on city plan, between McFerran and Broad Streets.

The "STAR VENTILATOR"

For Ventilating Mills, Factories, Foundries, Breweries, also Churches, School-houses, Theatres—in fact all kinds of buildings, none equal the "Star."

THE WILSON HOME TRUST

PURCHASING HOMES FOR CASH AND SELLING THEM ON EASY PAYMENTS.

THIS PLAN IS PATENTED, COPYRIGHTED, AND ALL RIGHTS ARE RESERVED.

ITS OBJECT IS

To enable persons of small means but in regular employment to become OWNERS OF A HOME of their own selection, on small payments amounting to little more than rent.

THE PLAN

We offer Instalment Certificates at a premium of $1.25, and a weekly payment of 75 cents per thousand, agreeing that at least one of such certificates in every Eleven shall mature each year, and all inside of seven years. Under certain conditions the number maturing could be largely increased. These certificates, as they mature, entitle you to a home of your own selection, which we will purchase for you, and we will furnish you with a ten-year Mortgage, at a cost to you of $2.25 (on every thousand dollars) per week in lieu of rent. At the end of which term you will own the property absolutely, without any incumbrance whatever.

Should you desire to pay about 50 cents more a week, we will effect an insurance, subject to a doctor's examination, with the Mutual Life and Insurance Co. of New York, whereby, in case of your death at any time after being placed in possession of your house, the property will revert to your wife, heirs or assigns absolutely free.

By doing this, should you live, the property will become your own, and a few years later one thousand dollars cash in addition.

ITS ADVANTAGES

1. No Cash Capital required to join.
2. Immediate possession on maturing of certificate.
3. Paying little more than rent and possessing your own home free of all incumbrance in ten years.
4. Privilege of life insurance feature at small additional cost, which in case of death at any time leaves the property absolutely unincumbered, or, should you live, you obtain the property at the end of the term, with one thousand dollars cash in addition.

EXAMPLE

A house costing $2,000 we would charge you $234 a year for, payable in small weekly instalments, giving you possession thereof as soon as your certificate matures, which might be within a few weeks, and in no event can be delayed beyond a term of seven years. This house would rent for $16.00 per month, or $192.00 per year, showing the small increase of only $42.00 per year, in return for the convenience which our easy system of payment affords.

Baily & Truscott, architects, 138 South Fourth Street, have made drawings for extensive alterations to the house of Mr. Charles W. Baily, 304 South Thirteenth Street.

Otto C. Wolf, architect, 1345 Arch Street, has made plans for an extension to the J. and P. Baltz Brewing Co. plant at Thirtieth and Thompson Streets. Considerable interior work will be done; new flooring placed throughout some of the structures and general overhauling will be done.

Charles W. Bolton, architect, 1510 Chestnut Street, has made plans for a large livery stable to be erected at 1835 North Nineteenth Street. It will be 35 x 100 feet and two stories high, brick with stone trimmings and best of modern conveniences. Mr. Bolton will supervise the building, and work will be started at once.

Theophilus P. Chandler, Jr., architect, Brown Bros. Building, Fourth and Chestnut Streets, is engaged on plans for a house to be erected at Bryn Mawr, Pa. Structure to be of stone, three stories high, slate roof, interior to be in hardwood, hot air heat, best sanitary work in plumbing, electric light and bells, and all modern conveniences.

The Art Club of Philadelphia has offered a gold medal for the best architectural designs, and a bronze one for the best specimen of draughtmanship to be prepared for the spring exhibition. The Philadelphia Chapter of Architects has also offered a prize for the best architectural designs, and the competition promises to be quite an animated one.

Furness, Evans & Co., architects, 209 S. Third Street, Philadelphia, have completed plans for exterior and interior alterations and additions to the Provident Life and Trust Insurance Company Building at Fourth and Chestnut Streets. These drawings are quite extensive and include the two additional properties of the company on Fourth Street now idle. Whatever is done will be under the supervision of Furness, Evans & Co.

Angus S. Wade, architect, 20 S. Broad Street, Philadelphia, has on boards plans for a frame country house for H. Anderson, at Cheltenham Hill Station, to be two story high, shingle roof, interior to be in hardwood finish, and to have all modern conveniences, electric lights and bells, best of plumbing, furnace heat, etc., and will cost about $10,000. Same architect is now receiving estimates on the Masonic Temple Building, which is to be erected in Camden, N. J., and which has been fully described in this journal in a previous number. Bids will be opened on the 15th of February and contract awarded soon after.

Walter Smedley, architect, 435 Chestnut Street, has prepared plans for the new class and gymnasium building to be erected at Sixteenth and Cherry Streets, for the Friends' Select School. The structure will be four stories high, of brick, with stone trimmings, slate roof, steam, direct and indirect heat. The interior will be subdivided into class rooms for manual training, scientific drawing, physical and chemical laboratories, offices for teachers and supervisors of the institution. The basement will contain a complete culinary department with dining room, seating one hundred persons. The gymnasium will, with other departments, be fitted with the most approved paraphernalia. Estimates are being made upon the structure, and the contract will be given out at an early day.

Samuel Hall Day, architect, Drexel Building, Philadelphia, has on boards plans for a handsome Hook and Ladder and Engine House for the Moyamensing Company, of Chester, Pa. The structure will be three stories high and have a stable in rear for horses of the Company. The building will have a brown stone base with hard brick, red brick superstructure with mottled brick arches, a slate roof with bell tower at one end, quite ornamental in design. Two main entrances on front, and one upon side with arches, large plate-glass windows throughout the building. First floor will be for apparatus, second will contain reception rooms, wash rooms and dormitory, third will be fitted up as a banquet hall and ball room, and will contain a kitchen fitted with good accommodations, electric work, and plumbing of the best kind. Steam heat and every modern convenience will be introduced.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Medical Inspector Taylor has condemned the drain pipes of the Geo. W. Nebinger School, Carpenter, above Sixth Street, and the system will be remedied at once.

The Tioga Baptist Church has just purchased a lot on Broad Street, between Tioga and Ontario, 110 feet front, and will erect thereon a church of considerable pretensions, and probably at an early day.

The Mechlin Bros., chemists, have taken title to property on Ninth Street, north of Poplar, 99x100 feet, and will make such alteration and addition as may be necessary to render it useful to their business.

John Loughran, builder, 2238 N. Broad Street, will at once start the erection of sixty-six two story houses on both sides of Thomas Street, north of Cumberland, all to be of press brick, stone trimmings and good conveniences.

The Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Co., located on old Point House road in the First Ward, will at once erect an addition to their present large plant 85 x 220 feet, two story high, also a furnace house 62 x 82 feet at same place.

The School Board of the Thirty-fifth Section is urging upon the general Board of Education the importance of a new school house at Somerton, in the Thirty-fifth ward. The board has requested their councilmen to urge the matter.

James H. Stevenson & Son, Thirtieth and Ridge Avenue, are making preparations to start their operations at an early day upon ground in close proximity to their last year's work. Their number of houses for the season will be likely extensive.

Fred. J. Amweg, contractor, Hale Building, 1328 Chestnut Street, will begin at once the erection of sixty-three two story houses in the immediate neighborhood of Fifty-second and Master Streets. For these, plans were drawn by Daniel S. Beale, architect, who will supervise the construction.

M. E. O'Brien & Bro., Germantown builders, will start a large operation of dwelling houses, about 150 in number, on ground located between Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh and Yocum Streets and Kingsessing Avenue, mainly to be two stories, and fitted up in the usual manner of dwellings of that class.

George Roydhouse, contractor, will begin the erection of a large freight warehouse for the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., on the east side of Thirtieth, south of Market Street. It will be 40 x 300 feet, two stories high and of brick with stone trimmings. Considerable iron work will enter into the construction.

Councils Water Committee, on the 2d inst., voted to recommend for favorable action by Councils the adoption of the Schutzen Park site for the new reservoir. It is bounded by Thirty-first and Thirty-third Streets, Queen Lane and Abbotsford Avenue. The above action will undoubtedly be endorsed and work started at an early day.

Jos. S. Hagan, builder, 202 S. Fifth Street, has just purchased ground at Second and Ontario Streets and will erect quite a number of two and three story houses at an early day. These will be in keeping with others erected in that vicinity by the same builder. Mr. Hagan has been quite fortunate in the sale of nearly all his operations of last year.

William J. Gruhler, contractor, 46 Herman Street, Germantown, will erect a fine brownstone house at Thirtieth and Hartwell Streets, finished in hard wood and all modern conveniences, including tile work, electric work, best sanitary plumbing, etc. Also another at Green and Lafayette Streets, finished in same manner as former one, and cost about $18,000.

The Graphite Industry.

The Graphite Industry is fittingly represented by the company whose founder first gave it birth. The Joseph Dixon Crucible Co., Jersey City, N. J., was founded by Joseph Dixon in 1827, who, at that time, began the manufacture of black lead crucibles, and completely revolutionized the crucible business. All crucibles used at the present day for melting brass, steel, copper, gold, nickel, etc., are made of black lead (the common name for graphite), and by the Dixon process.

The Dixon Co. have not only been progressive, but they have been aggressive, and have pushed their goods into all parts of the civilized world. During the past year they made extensive changes in their factories, located in Jersey City. Their graphite mines are at Ticonderoga, N. Y. and their cedar mills are at Crystal River, Fla.

The nature of graphite, sometimes called plumbago, or blacklead, is not generally understood; and therefore, its great value in the mechanical arts has not been fully appreciated. Graphite is one of the forms of carbon. It is not affected by heat, cold, acids, alkalis or any known chemical solvent. It is also the best solid lubricant known to science. A remarkable conductor of heat and electricity. The peculiar qualities of graphite have given it a wide range of usefulness. It is used in the manufacture of lubricants for all purposes, crucibles, stove polish, lead pencils, foundry facings, electrotyping graphite, graphite paint, etc.

The Dixon Co. are miners as well as importers of graphite in all its forms, and use no graphite that they do not mine or prepare. Their mines are located in Ticonderoga, N. Y., and they have every facility in the way of chemists and expensive machinery, etc., necessary for completely freeing the graphite from the silica, sulphur and other impurities which it contains when it comes from the mines.

The company's illustrated catalogue of graphite production is an interesting pamphlet and well worth reading. It is sent free on application.

A Rare Collection.

It is seldom that Philadelphia is afforded such an opportunity to examine and to purchase fine oil paintings as is now offered in the very choice collection on exhibition at the galleries of Davis & Harvey, 1212 Chestnut Street, and which will be offered for sale on the afternoons of Thursday and Friday, February 11th and 12th. The collection embraces works by the following eminent artists: Fortuny, Senet, Corcos, Gomes, Corot, Diaz, Meissonier, Willems, Rico, Gimenez, Rousseau and Detti. Besides these paintings, four rare gobelin tapestries painted by the celebrated artists, Brenda and Simonetti, and representing "An Agreeable Lesson," "Abundance," "The Mysterious Basket" and "The Acceptable Bouquet," will also be offered for sale. The collection is now on exhibition, and the public is cordially invited to visit the galleries.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

It is reported that the property at the Northwest corner of Twelfth and Arch Streets has been purchased by Wm. Weightman, upon which to erect an immense hotel, to cost a million dollars.

The Directors of the Master Builders' Exchange have unanimously elected the following officers: President, Murrell Dobbins; First Vice President, William H. Albertson; Second Vice President, Franklin M. Harris; Third Vice President, Charles Gillingham; Secretary, William Harkness, Jr.; Treasurer, Charles H. Reeves; Superintendent, Jacob Janney.

Plans have been made and submitted by Engineer Smedley, of the Public Works Department, for the Boulevard, which is now being considered by Councils and Director Windrim. These are to be placed before the special committee in charge of the matter, and upon these drawings will likely be based an ordinance in favor of the project.

The Dairymen's Association of Chester, Montgomery and Delaware Counties has decided to make a new move, viz., establish at some good, available point in Philadelphia a creamery where all the surplus milk of the members of the association will be used. The committee, of which George Seeds, Pocopson, is a member, met recently to make a selection of a site.

The Knickerbocker Ice Co. has purchased the lot of the Second Regiment, N. G. of Penna., southwest corner of Eleventh and Hamilton streets. It is 150 x 198 feet in size and will likely be improved at once for the purposes of the company, as much of the present plant at Ridge Avenue and Noble Street has been condemned for use of the Reading Terminal Co. Price paid, $65,000.

S. Oscar Smith, builder, 1605 Erie Avenue, will at once begin his spring operations by the erection of twenty-nine three story houses on southeast side of Cayuga, west of Wayne Street, and twenty-nine two story ones north side of Newcombe, south of Wayne Street, all to be of fine press brick with stone trimmings and steps. Interiors to be models of comfort with all modern accommodations.

Contractors are now estimating upon the extensive alterations and additions to the Penn Mutual Building, 925 Chestnut Street, previously described in this journal, after plans and drawings by Louis C. Hickman, architect, located in the same building. These are quite extensive, and work will be started as soon as award of contract has been made. The entire work will be done under supervision of Mr. Hickman.

At Frankford, J. C. Bell & Co., real estate brokers, have purchased the property on the southwest corner of Orthodox and Richmond Streets, known as the Barton Jenks property, and contemplate the erection of a large number of dwellings on the tract. The tract comprises about ten acres, and it is said that over two hundred dwellings will be erected. Other parties will erect about forty dwellings on Orthodox Street, to cost $2000 each.

The Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania is taking measures to establish and erect in this city a house for the use of the entire church of the State, and to be under the direction of Bishop Whitaker and assistants. Preliminary plans have been examined and sites discussed, the one being 221 S. Broad Street, and another at Dean and Locust Streets, below Broad, the latter being strongly favored by a majority of prominent persons who had been invited by the bishop to consider the matter. Definite action has not as yet been taken, but will receive consideration by those interested at an early day.

The Fidelity Storage and Warehouse Co., located at 1815 to 1819 Market Street, intend at an early day to enlarge their present warehouse by the addition of an eight story structure upon the east including the Nos. 1811-13. The structure will to some extent be in architectural uniformity with the present building. On the interior it is designed to introduce some new features. A large store or salesroom will be upon the first floor, and powerful elevators for the purpose of transporting to any of the different stories the loaded vans of the company, also passenger elevators for accommodation of patrons, electric work, including light and bells, will be introduced. In fact, every modern improvement and convenience will be a feature. No contracts have been made, and it is proposed to invite competition in preparation of plans by architects. W. Douglass Halfman is the manager.

Through Pennsylvania.

 When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Ashbourne, Montgomery Co., a Mr. Dobbins will erect a public hall.

—At New Castle, Lawrence Co., $250,000 will be spent on street improvements.

—At Dunmore, Lackawanna Co., a new sewer will be constructed at a cost of $10,000.

—At Caraopolis, Allegheny Co., the congregation of the Methodist Episcopal church will erect a new edifice.

--At Washington, Washington Co., the foundation walls of the new Baltimore and Ohio Station are about completed.

--At Allentown, Lehigh Co., a vote will be taken in a short time on the question of raising funds for water works.

--At Homestead, Allegheny Co., a vote will be taken in February on the question of issuing bonds for water work extensions.

It is one thing to know just what you want when you are going to buy a piano, and quite another thing to see that you get it. You may have the most accurate ear for discriminating between the false and the true in chords and yet be deceived. It is in the nature of things that pianos must be bought, to a great extent, on faith. The point about which there must be no dispute is the reliability of the maker. One thing that is sure is that you will make no disappointing discoveries with the Weber.

Washington, D. C.

Bills have been introduced into the U. S. Senate asking for appropriations for public buildings at McKeesport and Washington, Pa., to cost $100,000 each.—The donation of Father McMahon to the Catholic University at Georgetown, D. C., having become available work, will be begun at an early date on the McMahon Hall of Philosophy.—Secretary Elkins has sent a report to the House of a commission of engineer officers upon an examination with estimate of cost for the construction of a deep harbor of refuge near the Delaware Bay. The plan calls for a stone breakwater a mile and a half long, and a row of ten ice piers across the upper end of the harbor. The estimated cost is $4,665,000.—The plans are now complete for the new post office which will be erected at a cost of $2,000,000. The main building will be seven stories high, and it will be handsomely fitted up on the interior with all modern conveniences and improvements. The proposals for its erection will be invited, it is thought, in a few weeks.—Messrs. Barr & Sanner will erect a block of eight dwellings on M Street, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Streets. They will be of brick, handsomely finished on the interior, and furnished with modern conveniences and improvements. The estimated cost is $32,000.—J. H. Richards has had plans drawn for a handsome dwelling which he will have erected at 2108 R Street. It will be of brick, with a front of Indiana limestone, four stories high, mansard roof, covered with tin and tile. The interior will be finished in hard woods, and modern conveniences and improvements will be introduced. The cost will be about $10,000.—Plans have been drawn by Edward Woltz, for four dwellings, two to be erected at 2900 and 2902 P Street, Georgetown, to cost about $10,000, and two on Twenty-ninth Street, to cost about $7000. They will be of press brick, well finished on interior and modern improvements will be introduced. J. S. Clark is the contractor for the operation. The same contractor has been awarded the contract for quite an extensive operation at Eckington, a suburb of Washington. This will consist of nine dwellings for C. V. Riley, of Wyoming Avenue. They will be of brick, two and three stories high, and handsomely finished on the interiors. The plans have been drawn by J. A. Sibley.—Mrs. A. Lancaster will have a handsome dwelling erected at 209 New Jersey Avenue at a cost of $5000. W. J. Kolb is the contractor.—Plans have been drawn by J. A. Sibley for a new front and additional story to 203 North Capitol Street for Mrs. A. Brondriff. J. F. Talbert will erect a dwelling for J. H. Glick, to cost $5000.

Miscellaneous.

At Holyoke, Mass., it is reported that a new bridge will be constructed over the railroad tracks at Dwight street.

OFFICE, BROWN BROS.' BLD'G,
FOURTH & CHESTNUT STREETS.

Through Pennsylvania.

—At Lansford, Carbon Co., J. G. Pence and others have made application to the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington, D. C., for authority to organize the Lansford National Bank.

—At Chester, Delaware Co., a site has been selected for the proposed new hospital building, and a building committee has been appointed to prepare plans and specifications. The committee consists of Thomas J. Houston, Sarah B. Flitcraft, Mrs. J. R. T. Coates, Mrs. Joseph Deering, Mrs. Mary B. Shaw, Col. S. A. Dyer and C. B. Houston. Fifteen thousand dollars has been appropriated by the State for the erection of the building, and $4000 for its maintenance the first year. The site will cost about $9000.—There is a prospect of another industry being established, that of lace making, by a company of Scottish capitalists. Archibald Campbell, Esq., of Glasgow, is now in Chester, and has been looking at various sites. M. McConnell or W. T. Gayly, of the Aberfoyle Manufacturing Co., can give information.—Work has been begun by Smith Downie on four new dwellings to be erected near Ninth and Tilghman Streets.

—At Pittsburg, Black & Baird have sold three lots on Forbes Avenue to M. Jacob, an architect, who will improve them by the erection of three handsome dwellings the coming season.—Charles Bickel, 91 Fifth Avenue, has finished plans for the new market house which will be erected on the South Side at an early date. It will be of brick with stone trimmings, and two stories high, surmounted by a tower. The lower story will be fitted up for the use of butchers and fish dealers, and the upper story for truck gardeners. There will also be offices, &c. The estimated cost is $35,000.—McDonald Bros. have been given the contract to erect the new dwelling for A. J. Mellon in the East End.—A new Central police station will be erected. Chief Brown has given the contract to S. Klenke for $15,850. It will contain twenty cells in two tiers.—Plans are being prepared for an eight-story warehouse which will be erected in the spring by L. H. Smith, at Cherry Alley and Seventh Avenue.—The Pittsburg "Press" contemplate the erection of a handsome building, twelve stories high. A site on Fourth Avenue, opposite the new post office, is favored.—J. W. Offerman is receiving bids for the erection of the Newsboys' Home at Forbes and Stringiss Streets. It will be of stone, three stories high, modern improvements, contain twenty rooms, a gymnasium and an auditorium.—A six-story factory and warehouse will be erected by Bernard Gloekler, on Penn Avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth Streets. It will be of iron, stone and brick, entirely fireproof, contain elevator and all improvements. The estimated cost is $45,000. The plans have been prepared by Ludwig Dick, McCintock Building. No contracts let.—Mr. Morris, of the firm of Morris & Aislitt, will erect two handsome dwellings in the spring on Juliet Street.—A club house will be erected by the Keystone Bicycle Club on Howe Street, East Liberty. The estimated cost, exclusive of furnishing, is $16,000.—A large building for store purposes will probably be erected by Messrs. Kaufman Bros., at Fifth Avenue and Smithfield Street.—The Thirty-third Street public school building will probably be enlarged the coming summer by the addition of another story.—Bickel is preparing plans for a large building for business purposes to be erected on Penn Avenue. It will be of brick with stone trimmings, and all modern improvements will be introduced.

The New York Life and its Critics.

The New York Life Insurance Company, with all its enterprise, could never have got for money so good an advertisement as it has obtained through the recent attacks upon its management. It was generally known as a very large and strong concern, but these attacks have directed attention to its enormous strength with an effect that no ordinary reports could have.

The charges were of a nature involving such large responsibilities as to compel the most searching official scrutiny, and the result of this has been to present the colossal wealth of the company, with its hundred and twenty millions of assets and nearly fifteen millions surplus, so distinctly before the public mind that its popularity and prosperity must be greatly enhanced.

In the statement printed to-day the president of the company considers some of the criticisms made in the recent official report, and a particularly interesting feature of this statement relates to the business of the agencies, and especially of the important agency in Philadelphia. These are, in effect, branch offices, which transact a great deal of the business of the company, and must always carry a considerable share of capital. Thus the point made that too much of the company's money is in the hands of the agents falls completely when it is understood that the money is not in the hands of the agents at all, but is legitimately employed in the business of the agency—a different matter altogether.

This is particularly interesting to Philadelphians because of the great importance of the agency here and the very large share it has contributed to the business of the company. It is precisely by this policy of maintaining an available working balance at the local agencies that the New York Life has been able to transact its business so promptly and thus continually to command new business through these same agencies, so that this feature, instead of being a point of weakness, is really one of especial strength. Both the company and its Philadelphia representatives are to be congratulated on the result of this agitation—a result that, through the many thousand policy-holders, interests the entire public.—The Philadelphia Times.

INSTANTANEOUS ELECTRIC LIGHTER

PRICE,

$5.00.

FOR PARLOR, DINING ROOM OR CHAMBER.

Electricity Generated by Chemical Action.

OFFICE, STORE, CIGAR SHOP OR SALOON.

A Handsome Ornament for Table, Mantel or Counter.

This illustration represents our ELECTRIC LIGHTER and is one-half its actual size. It is complete in itself—requires no extra Power Wires or Connections. The Current of Electricity is generated by Chemical Action. It occupies the space of but SIX SQUARE INCHES.

The construction is simple in the extreme. It can be taken to pieces at will, and just as easily readjusted. A CHILD CAN OPERATE IT. Simply by pressing the Centre Rod, the Current of Electricity is generated, and the light is instantaneous.

ECONOMY.

The material to charge the Battery can be obtained at any drug store at a cost of Ten cents, and will run 30 to 60 days.

Any part can be replaced at a cost not exceeding Ten cents. Aside from its use as a Lighter, this apparatus does away with the use of matches and the dangerous results and disagreeable odors arising from same.

We have taken especial care in the manufacture of these Electric Lighting Batteries. They are handsomely constructed in nickel plate and highly ornamental, and will take a prominent place among the bric-a-brac of Reception Rooms, Parlors, etc.

Full directions and one charge for the Battery accompany each apparatus. All orders for less than $20.00 must be accompanied by Postal Express Money Order or by draft on New York. Goods shipped C. O. D. on receipt of Twenty per cent. (Remittances with order save return charges.) LIBERAL DISCOUNTS TO TRADE AND AGENTS. At New York City, N. Sherwood, chairman of the committee, recommended the purchase of land and erection of a house similar to the Grolier Club, at a cost of about $60,000. The locations recommended by the committee were sites in Fifty-second Street, between Fourth and Madison Avenues, and Forty-fourth Street between Fifth and Sixth Avenues. The committee has been authorized to purchase a site and erect club house thereon.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Northwestern Architect.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well. 'Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city.'"

[From the Builder, Decorator and Wood-Worker.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

"There is not the least doubt about 'Adamant' wall plaster will last as long as the building upon which it is used."

JOHN F. BRISBANE, City Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, FEB. 17, 1892.

OUTSIDE of the prominent officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the master stroke of the Reading's president is hailed with joy. To fully realize that a veritable Moses has risen up with brains enough to best the low cunning of the meanest combination of avarice, ingratitude, deception and corruption as exemplified by the record of the management of the Pennsy in its treatment of the citizens of the entire commonwealth is joy enough for every Philadelphian for the whole of 1892.

Of course, the baby act must be played and the constitutionality of the Reading's leases must be tested, if for no other reason than to establish the righteousness and law-abiding peculiarities of the Fourth Street crowd, who now whine when beaten.

The fact is the Reading now becomes for the first time a formidable rival. A new road through the State to Pittsburg must come as a natural sequence; and a new trunk line from the West to Boston, with a careful regard for the interests of this city, will make everybody except, perhaps, the few holders of Pennsylvania stock, its earnest friends and supporters.

The citizens of Philadelphia owe the Pennsylvania Railroad Company nothing but kicks and curses. Its management concedes nothing; it is not compelled to yield through public sentiment. It recently tried to force the Dock Street Market commission men to vacate where they are and remove to the company's new market at Thirtieth and Market Streets. Organization and the transfer of most of the freight to the Baltimore and Ohio defeated the project and the Pennsy yielded.

The Washington Limited was never intended to stop at Philadelphia at all. Pressure from certain quarters made the Pennsy yield, and a stop each way is made at South Street.

The vulnerable point of all railroads is the traffic receipts. If our citizens would make it a point to patronize the Reading and the Baltimore and Ohio every time it is possible to do so the lesson would not be lost and the moral would be effective.

An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth is a good way to meet the arrogance of railroad officials.

JOHN HAGAN & Co., dealers in granite, flag and blue stone, have removed from their old quarters to the southeast corner of American and Cambria Streets, and now possess one of the largest stone yards in Philadelphia, its dimensions being 130 by 300 feet. Ample facilities, including a track running into the yard from the Reading Railroad, have been provided to meet the demands of their increasing trade.

Architect Notes.

All the plans for the Odd Fellows' Temple, to be erected at Broad and Cherry Streets, having been completed by Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, Drexel Building, the blue prints will now be placed on boards for estimates by invited contractors.

Yarnall & Goforth, architects, 14 S. Broad Street, have completed plans for a patrol stable to be attached to the station at Sixty-fifth and Woodland Avenue; to be one story high, of brick, and furnished with general stable fittings. James H. Bradley, contractor.

T. Frank Miller, architect, 1221 Arch Street, has been directed to push to completion at once the Mantua Presbyterian Church, for which he prepared plans more than two years ago; and, in accordance with the instructions of the Building Committee, will begin the work.

M. H. Hubbard, of Utica, N. Y., has drawn plans for a parochial residence to cost $6000, and to be erected at Waitsboro, N. J., by the congregation of St. Paul's Church. It will be of brick, stone and terra cotta, handsomely finished on the interior, and equipped with all modern conveniences and improvements.

Collins & Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut Street, have completed plans for a large stable to be erected at Seventeenth Street and Fairmount Avenue, to be two stories high, built of brick, stone and iron, with artificial stone flooring, as well as all modern conveniences. Estimates for the work are being received.

Culver & Hudson, architects, 234 W. Fourth Street, Williamsport, Pa., have just completed plans for a business block, 35 x 100 feet, to be erected at Wellsborough, Pa., for C. R. Converse, comprising store and warerooms, offices, etc. A 2000 pound hand-power elevator and individual gas plant will be features of the building.

Baker & Dallett, architects, Fifth and Walnut Streets, have completed plans for an infirmary building to be placed upon the grounds of Princeton University, at Princeton, N. J., and placed them upon boards for estimate by contractors. The drawings contemplate a complete three story structure, with a finished basement, and will be in keeping with the other buildings in style of architecture.

L. M. Hallowell, of Post 2, G. A. R., has made all the plans for rebuilding the church property recently purchased by that organization on Twelfth Street, above Melon. The front will be of brownstone and buff brick, ornamented by a cornice in imitation of a battlement; at the corner of structure and upon the roof will be placed at each corner a cannon giving the entire front a fine military appearance. The interior will be in hard wood, with electric work, steam heat, and best of modern conveniences. It is expected to have the work of construction completed by May 30, 1892.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, Drexel Building, are busy pushing forward the plans in detail for the Central Methodist Episcopal Church, of Frankford. These contemplate a structure Romanesque in style of architecture, 73 x 88 feet. The stone of the old structure will be utilized in the new, trimmed with Indiana limestone, slate roof, and a sloping auditorium with seating capacity for about 500 persons. Fine furniture and upholstery will be a feature, and many modern features of improvement in church construction will be introduced. The plans will likely be placed for estimate at an early day.

An exhibition of architectural drawings will be opened at the Art Club on Tuesday, February 23, to remain open until Sunday, March 6. The committee has secured a large number of drawings in Philadelphia, New York and Boston, chief among which are the accepted designs for the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, in New York. They have also had the good fortune to secure thirty or forty original drawings by Joseph Pennell. These drawings are representative of his best work, and will undoubtedly be of great interest to the city of his birth. In addition to the special attractions there will be a great many designs for public buildings and for city and country houses. The exhibition promises well and will undoubtedly be as popular as the exhibition of a similar nature which was given by the Art Club two years ago, and which was visited by over ten thousand people. There will be a private view of the exhibition on the evening of Monday next, to which members of the Art Club and their friends have been invited.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Charles Benton, Thomas Henry, T. P. Haggerty, Charles C. Mann, George McGowan and Dr. Judah Isaacs have been appointed a committee to fix up and furnish the new quarters of the American Club, at 1429 Chestnut Street.

The Delaware Insurance Co., at Third and Walnut Streets, has purchased the adjoining property on the east and intend to enlarge the present quarters by alteration and addition of these premises, which will be somewhat extensive.

William McCarter, builder and owner, 1400 South Twenty-second Street, will at once begin the erection of sixteen two story houses on Pierce west of Twenty-first Street. These will be in keeping with others erected in same vicinity.

The American Wood Pulp Co., at Manayunk, is about to begin the improvements noted in this journal some time ago. These will consist of a boiler house 40 x 200 feet, one story high and contain about eight large boilers. Also other minor additions.

Washington J. Gear, Jr., No. 12 N. Seventh Street, has contracted to erect the new additions to Bergner & Engle's, Thirtieth and Master Streets, after plans drawn by John J. De Kinder, architect and engineer, and will at once begin the work.

William F. Albrecht, builder, 2341 North Twenty-ninth Street, is about to start the erection of nine two story houses on west side of Thirty-first, north of Norris Street, all to be of press brick, stone facing and best modern improvements.

M. Schmid, 639 North Sixth Street, will at once begin the construction of an ice factory at Glen Willow Avenue and the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, to be 80 x 176 feet, two stories high and fitted with all the machinery, steam and otherwise used in making the product.

D. J. Fow & Bro., builders, have taken title to a block of ground bounded by Lehigh Avenue, Huntingdon, American and Second Streets, and will during the coming season erect about 150 two and three story dwellings, all of fine press brick, stone facings and best modern conveniences.

Brennan Bros., builders, 1625 South Seventh Street, will at once begin the erection of eighteen two-story houses on Cantrell Street, west of Second, all to be of the same class of dwellings erected in that vicinity. Also a number on Hancock Street south of McKean Street, of the same kind.

James H. Bradley, contractor, 40 North Thirty-eighth Street, has been given the contract to erect a mounted patrol station at Sixty-fifth and Wood Streets, and for the new police station at Sixty-first and Thompson Streets. Fred. J. Amweg, Hale Building, was the successful bidder. Both will begin operations at once.

John R. Wiggins, builder, 1536 Seybert Street, has received the contract to erect the nine story store for N. Snellenburg, at 932 and 934 Market Street, for which Frank R. Watson, architect, drew the plans and which has been fully described in this journal in previous numbers. Mr. Watson will also supervise the construction.

Charles Auchter, contractor, 1523 N. Twenty-seventh Street, will erect the Saenger-Krantz Hall, at Thirtieth and Master Streets, he having been awarded the contract. Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, who drew the plans, will supervise the work of construction, which will be started at once. The drawings and structure have been fully described in this journal.

Several preliminary plans have been submitted to the Tacony Club for a new hall and club room which they propose to erect, but have not as yet definitely settled upon. This club is desirous of building in Tacony, if a feasible plan presents itself, and the requisite stock is subscribed for, the site having already been selected.

William F. Albrecht, 2341 North Twenty-ninth Street, has bought the old Kelly's Market House, located on Christian and Catharine Streets, below Eighth, and will alter it considerably to adapt it to market purposes alone, much of the structure having been utilized heretofore for other uses. Mr. Albrecht will make this one of the finest market houses in the city.

Ground for a new Roman Catholic Church, schoolhouse and parochial house having been purchased about two years ago, at Sixth and Tioga Street, by the parish of St. Veronica, Second and Butler Streets, plans are being prepared by J. F. Brennan, architect, for these structures, and it is more than likely that they will be started at a very early day. Rev. Thomas Larkin, pastor, is in charge.

The Dobson Bros. Blanket Mills, which were destroyed by fire on the night of the 15th inst., were the largest of the kind in this State, and will be a serious, but only a temporary loss to the trade, and measures will be taken, we are assured, to re-erect them as soon as possible. The loss of machinery and structure is total, so that no time will be consumed in considering claims for insurance.

Samuel R. Hart & Son, contractors, will erect the large factory for manufacture of tin plate about to be constructed by N. & G. Taylor, at Meadow Street, near the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, also the Pennsylvania Railroad. This will be the largest and best establishment of the kind in this country, and will be fitted throughout with the most approved machinery used in producing terne and tin plate.

Medical Inspector J. Howard Taylor, of the Board of Health of Philadelphia, has submitted a report of his general examination of the school-houses from the Nineteenth to the Twenty-fourth sections inclusive, and in which he condemns quite a number, principally on account of defective latrines and drainage, which will no doubt be considered by the Board of Education at an early day and the remedies applied.

The Bureau of Charities have resolved to sink a drain system under the new insane wards just completed at Blockley and in which springs of water have made their appearance under the foundations, thus keeping the basement of these buildings constantly flooded with water and rendered unfit for occupancy. The drain ditch and pipes will extend to a ravine beyond the Woodlands Cemetery and ultimately into Maylandville Creek and sewer.

It is announced officially that each bid for the Pennsylvania Building at the Chicago Exposition must be accompanied by a $1000 bond as guarantee of good faith. A change has also been made in the plans and specifications at the request of Director General Davis. The tower and main structure will be of corn-colored brick, the entire wood work to be of semi-colonial style. The main hallway will be an exact reproduction of that of Independence Hall.

The Maennerchor Society has purchased the property 511 North Fifth Street, where they have met for about two years, and at a meeting on the 10th inst., resolved to make alterations and additions. There will be likely a new hall in the rear with a summer and winter garden upon the roof, as the structure would cover the yard surface. Preliminary plans have been asked for, and from these a selection will be made. President, E. R. Teubner. Secretary, Herman Sternau.

Charles D. Hill, contractor, 1511 North Twenty-seventh Street, has contracted with Mrs. C. F. Holby to erect at 43 North Sixth Street, a fine five story building for the double purpose of business and dwelling. It will be 15 x 66 feet, first and second floors fitted for saloon purposes and remainder dwelling. The front will be of iron and plate glass, with buff bricks for the upper stories. Interior to be in hard wood and best of modern conveniences. Cost, $10,000.

Defeated in committee, the owners of the ground wanted for the Queen Lane Reservoir are getting ready to fight the plan on the floor of Councils. The ground, they say, is worth $4000 an acre, and will cost more time and money than Director Windrim has any apprehension of. Henry Warden, Samuel Bradbury, James Dobson, C. F. Abbott, Horace E. Richards and others will fight the scheme, not only in Councils but in court, and will claim damages that threaten to make the Scheutzen Park Reservoir an expensive luxury.

Senator Cameron has introduced a bill to purchase additional lots of ground adjacent to the Philadelphia Post Office on the west, for the purpose of giving wagon room and obviate the crowding or massing of wagons on Market street, as is done at present. The ground to be taken will include the Ridgway property, 16 x 231 feet, on Market Street and the Magee property in rear, fronting on Chant Street. The amount is limited by the bill to $135,000. If purchased by the Government considerable improvements will be necessary.

The Highways Committee, City Councils, have agreed upon an ordinance to be offered in Councils at an early day which will be in accord with the Mayor's views and will receive his sanction if passed, relative to paving of Broad and other streets. Under its provisions Broad Street will be paved with asphalt from Columbia Avenue to Spring Garden Street and from Chestnut to Spruce Streets. A number of minor streets will also receive attention by being paved with the stone taken from Broad Street. As the bill now stands it is likely to become a law.

Green's Hotel, Eighth and Chestnut Streets, has now changed hands and passed to that of a syndicate of Boston and Philadelphia capitalists, who will, at an early day, it is understood, make many alterations and additions, if not construct an entirely new hotel upon the site. Mr. Green retires from the business absolutely and will in no wise be connected with the new management. The transfer to the new managers will be made during the present week. The purchasers of the hotel are George H. Bates, of Philadelphia, Sylvanus Stokes, of Boston, and Mahlon A. Newton, of Woodbury, N. J.

About one year since we noted a number of improvements projected at Torresdale, on the Delaware River, by a syndicate headed by Edward de V. Morrell and others, and which, to some extent, last year improved the properties indicated at that time. They have now purchased a controlling interest in the Delaware River Transportation Co., and the line will be used as an adjunct in their interest, Mr. Morrell being the principal buyer of the stock. Their purchases now include the Nelson, Meyers, Hopkins and Fisher farms, on which they intend to continue improvements in the way of summer resorts, parks and drives.

Charles McCaul, contractor, No. 20 North Eleventh Street, has received a contract to erect a fine six story hotel on the northwest corner of Filbert and Eleventh Streets for Mr. Charles J. Gallagher, of the firm of Burton & Gallagher, liquor merchants. The structure will be 22 x 136 feet in area, rear extending to the train shed of the Terminal Depot; first floor will be of iron chiefly, whilst the remainder will be of buff colored brick, red granite and marble trimmings. The interior will have elevator service, electric work and light and bells, steam heat and best of sanitary plumbing. Fire escapes and all modern conveniences will be introduced.

What is hereafter to be called the Palace Theatre, formerly the Casino, at Tenth and Arch Streets, has passed into the hands of Al Haynes, who for the past ten years has been connected with the management of the Palace Theatre, Boston, and it will at once be turned over to a corps of workmen to be thoroughly renovated and improved. Manager Haynes will open the theatre on Washington's Birthday, presenting a continuous performance from 1 to 10.30 P. M. of vaudeville and drama. Mr. Haynes' connection with the Palace Theatre, of Boston, was marked with much success. He announces that his performances will always be refined and excellent.

The Kensington Presbyterian Church, Frankford and Girard Avenue, have passed resolutions uniting their future work with that of the York Street Church of the same denomination and located on York Street, near Coral, which was erected some years since. The result of this union is upon condition that the proceeds of the sale of the former's property shall be applied to the extinguishment of mortgage debt upon the latter edifice and enlargement and addition to the same, these to include a new pipe organ, and alteration and addition to Sabbath-school and lecture room. The Revs. Robert Hunter, D. D., and A. G. McAuley are to be associate pastors of the union.

The Faculty of Jefferson College and the Board of Trustees have finally agreed upon a site for the erection of a new hospital and college structure, and will ultimately sell and abandon the present one. The site fixed upon is on the west side of Broad, and between Christian and Catharine Streets, and extends 250 feet along Broad and running back to Cadwalader Street in the rear towards Fifteenth. It is proposed to erect upon this ground one of the largest and finest institutions of the kind in this country, and it will be constructed upon the most approved system regarding sanitation, ventilation and heating, as well as curative principles. The details for plans have not as yet been fully agreed upon, nor have any contracts been awarded for construction; but it is understood that both will be considered at an early day.

The Committee of the Master Builders' Exchange, which appeared before the Committee on Property of the Board of Education a short time ago, attended a special meeting of the committee on the 8th inst., with reference to the adoption of a plan whereby subcontractors can be protected. Mr. Kavanaugh presided. City Solicitor Warwick and Assistant Solicitor McMichael were present. Stacy Reeves appeared at the head of the builders' delegation and presented a plan which was similar to the one offered a short time ago. After considerable discussion the Property Committee adopted a clause to be inserted hereafter in specifications for new school houses, which in effect is: "If any contractor shall fail to pay for material or labor done, he shall hereafter be disqualified from bidding or doing work for this department, and that subcontractors shall be notified of the time payments are made to the contractors."

The buildings and general improvements now under way within the limits of the city may be summarized as follows: The Reading Terminal and approaches, the John F. Betz office building, additions to the Baldwin Locomotive Works, office building and lodge rooms of the Iron Hall, an immense freight station for the Pennsylvania Railroad, Thirtieth and Market Streets, and passenger shed and depot of the Reading Railroad at Wayne Station, alteration and addition to Provident Life and Trust Building, the new "Hotel Vendig," Twelfth and Market Streets, and preparations are being made to start the new addition to the Fidelity Trust Co., on Fourth, above Chestnut Street; also the new addition to the Pennsylvania Railroad Depot, Broad and Market Streets, and the new "Snellenberg stores," to be erected at 932-4 Market Street; also quite a large number of operations of a minor character are in course of construction in different localities, each of which have previously been noted in this journal.

A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Master Builders' Exchange was held on Saturday last for the election of committees for the coming year. It is one thing to know just what you want when you are going to buy a piano, and quite another thing to see that you get it. You may have the most accurate ear for discriminating between the false and the true in chords and yet be deceived. It is in the nature of things that pianos must be bought, to a great extent, on faith. The point about which there must be no dispute is the reliability of the maker. The drawings contemplate a new kitchen, boiler room, electric light plant, enlargement of the present buildings, placing of an elevator and introduction of a number of fine luxurious sleeping apartments and such conveniences as will make this the most comfortable club house in this section of the country. Additional properties have been secured upon the west of the present club house on Moravian and Sansom Streets, upon which these improvements will be made. One of the features will be a handsome raised flower garden, about central in the surroundings, and which will be so arranged as to be utilized for either winter or summer. The cost of the whole work will be about $150,000.

William B. Allen, lumber dealer, and H. M. Betz, jeweler, both of Frankford, have taken title to the old skating rink on Frankford Avenue, Paul and Arrott Streets, and the Oxford Pike. These gentlemen intend to spend $50,000 upon the site by erecting what will be known as Music Hall. The structure will be of brick with ornamental front, handsome cornice of galvanized iron in the centre of the structure. In front will be a large gilded harp. Two business offices will be placed in front on ground floor, a stage and trappings will be placed in the auditorium. The second floor will be fitted for society purposes, having a banquet hall which may be used for fairs, etc. The entire building will be fitted in the most approved manner and with all the latest improvements and conveniences. PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, FEB. 24, 1892.

THE City Council, of Reading, Pa., recently passed resolutions rejoicing over the Philadelphia and Reading leases, and commending the enterprise and ability of President McLeod.

THE story about the big hotel, the erection of which is said to be a matter of consideration with the Girard Trust, is not altogether mythical, but its premature announcement can be regarded as a breach of confidence, and may be the means of defeating the project altogether. The idea of a large hotel originated with the Trades League, and was one of the many good schemes suggested by that organization, and which were imparted to a number of newspaper men, the editor of this journal being among them, who, as soon as the hotel project was mentioned, pointed out the desirability of the site bounded by Eleventh and Twelfth, Girard and Chestnut Streets, and with Mr Thomas Martindale visited the site at that time. A committee of the League immediately started a canvass in order to obtain, if possible, the sentiment of the Trust, as well as to remove any uncertainty as to its character as an investment for their funds. A prominent architect of this city, acting in confidential relations with the Trades League, immediately made the necessary survey of the site and commenced the preparation of plans for the hotel, which have been completed, and which represent the most imposing structure of this nature on the continent, this journal being cognizant of the Architects work from the start; in fact, entering into many of the discussions of the details as the work advanced, the whole subject, however, was understood to be a matter of the strictest confidence, and has been treated as such. As a herald of building news we can afford to be beaten; but we cannot afford to betray confidence reposed in us.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Jacob Myers, contractor, 1315 Sansom Street, has begun work upon the new Nurses' Home, to be erected on the grounds of the Pennsylvania Hospital, at Eighth and Spruce Streets, for which Addison Hutton, architect, prepared plans. It will be 36 x 104 feet, three stories high, of granite and brick, slate roof, and fitted with all modern conveniences.

The Tioga Baptist Church have bought the Barlow property, at Tioga and Ontario Streets, the lot being 110 x 180 feet, and upon which they proposed to erect at once a stone chapel on rear, after which a main edifice will be built upon the front. The seating will be for about 600 persons. Cost of the proposed chapel is to be between $13,000 and $18,000. Rev. Rutger Dox is pastor in charge.

W. S. P. Shields, builder, 731 Walnut Street, has just returned from the Everglades of Florida, and announces that his spring operations will be started soon with about one hundred fine houses upon a block of ground just purchased and bounded by Glenwood avenue, Twentieth, Twenty-first and York Streets, through which he proposes to cut a new street, and which will be named "Inquirer Street."

The Quaker City Elevated Railroad Co. bill, having been signed by the Hon. Edwin S. Stuart, Mayor, that organization is now making preparations to begin the practical work of construction. The start may possibly be at Lehigh Avenue and Ridge, as that is the northern terminal of the line. As yet no contracts have been let; but President Briggs announces that these will be considered at an early day after the proper surveys are made by their engineers.

A strong move is being made by the members of the Builders' Exchange, on Seventh Street, below Market, to establish in our city a bank which will be under the almost exclusive patronage of that organization. These men represent a capital of more than $2,500,000 and, are many of them the leading citizens of this city in financial and political affairs. There can be no doubt as to the success of an institution fostered by these gentlemen, if organized and put into practical operation.

At a meeting of the members of the Union League of Philadelphia, held on the evening of the 17th inst., for the purpose of considering the feasibility of making the improvements noted in our Architectural Notes of this issue, it was resolved that no enlargement be made at this time, or further improvements considered, as it seemed almost the unanimous sentiment of the meeting that an entirely new structure should be erected. From present indications this will be the outcome of the present agitation.

Magician Harry Kellar, of this city, is considering the feasibility of erecting in the near future, in this city, a theatre for himself, which will be more in keeping with his ideas for the production of magical wonders than his present cozy home at Egyptian Hall on Chestnut Street, above Twelfth. He has not yet selected a site, nor have any contracts been awarded for either plans or building; but it is more than likely that during the current year, Mr. Kellar will mature his plans for the matter spoken of above.

A handsome hotel is in the prospectus to be erected by M. Obermeyer, proprietor of a restaurant on west side of Twelfth Street, south of Filbert. The building will be named the Terminal Hotel, and will be erected at Twelfth and Filbert street, adjacent to and covering the proprietor's present house. It will be at least a ten-story structure, furnished with every modern convenience, steam heat, electric work, elevators, and will have a front of 65 feet on Twelfth Street, with almost the same depth. It will be a bachelor hotel entirely, and the estimated cost will be about $150,000. Plans are now in course of preparation by an architect.

It is expected that within a few days the Building Committee of the Mercantile Club will select an architect to prepare the plans for their new Club house, which will be erected on Broad, South of Jefferson Street on site No. 1422-24-26. Enough has developed thus far to indicate the fact that this will be one of the finest and most ornamental structures of its kind in this city, as well as being fitted with every luxury and comfort known to art. In conjunction with its uses as a club house, a handsome auditorium will be included in the plans for parties, balls, etc. When the drawings have been ordered and completed we shall note them in full.

The Committee of the Bourse on location have finally chosen a site for the erection of the proposed building for trade exchange purposes. The announcement that the site had been determined upon was made at a meeting of the Bourse Executive Committee on Thursday, at which Messrs. Bartol, Albrecht, Harkness, Moore, Ayres, Bailey, and Walter Wood, of the Bourse, William Wood, from the Manufacturers' Club, and Messrs. Passmore, Hagar and Brooke, the Committee on Bourse from the Commercial Exchange, were present. The area of ground will be about 125 x 300 feet, and will be adjacent to many of the leading surface railroads, also to river communications and in the very centre of the wholesale market. It will now be in order to award the contract for preparation of plans to an architect, after which the great Bourse Building will be contracted for, erected, and become one of the fixed institutions of Philadelphia. The location chosen is the old Fifth Street Market.

Miscellaneous.

At Fall River, Mass., the Mayor has been authorized to petition the Legislature for permission to borrow $350,000 for the improvement of streets and the extension of sewers.

At Charlotte, Mecklenburg Co., N. C., Architect Charles C. Hook has made plans for the Consolidated Construction Co. for a dancing pavilion, bath house and boat house, all of modern style and convenience; and also plans for enlarging the present pavilion at Dilworth. Also, plans for a modern style residence for Dr. Lowenstein. Also, plans for a residence for C. L. Alexander. The same architect has made plans for a dwelling for Superintendent Moncure, of the C. C. R. R.

At Birmingham, Jefferson Co., Ala., plans have been prepared by W. A. Bird for a Baptist church to be erected by the congregation of the South Side Baptist Church at the southeast corner of Avenue F and Twentieth Street. It will be of press and ornamental brick, with stone trimmings, terra cotta work, slate roof, plate and stained glass windows, steam heat, hard wood interior finish, etc. The estimated cost is about $35,000. John G. Smith, Box 151, Birmingham, Ala., can give additional information.

At Providence, R. I., the new State House Commissioners have decided in favor of the plans submitted by Architects McKinn, Mead &amp; White, of New York City. The building is given a monumental character, and the idea of massing its principal effects at the central point has been well executed. The principal floor is the second, and on this, at the extremities, are the legislative halls. The library is over the rear portico. There is a circular rotunda with four corridors running from it in four directions. The rotunda is especially designed to serve as a memorial hall.

It is one thing to know just what you want when you are going to buy a piano, and quite another thing to see that you get it. You may have the most accurate ear for discriminating between the false and the true in chords and yet be deceived. It is in the nature of things that pianos must be bought, to a great extent, on faith. The point about which there must be no dispute is the reliability of the maker. One thing that is sure is that you will make no disappointing discoveries with the Weber.

Architect Notes.

Lindley Johnson, architect, Girard Avenue, has completed in detail all the plans for the country house of Sydney L. Wright, in Germantown, and noted in full in a previous number of this journal. Mr. Johnson will supervise the construction.

Furness Evans & Co., architects, 209 South Third Street, have completed plans for the Mt. Sinai Mortuary Chapel, located at Bridge Street and Frankford Avenue, and invited estimates upon the drawings. It will be of stone and brick, stained glass windows, and quite ornamental in design.

Franklin Keagy, architect, Chambersburg, Pa., has in course of preparation plans for a fine double brick dwelling, 32 x 59 ft, located on Market Street, for Samuel Rinehart, Esq. Structure will be quite ornamental on exterior and interior and fitted with all modern conveniences. No contracts have been let.

Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 S. Fourth Street, Philadelphia, has made plans for a fine large store to be erected at Eighth and Race Streets. Also, plans for a new church for the St. Mark's Lutheran congregation at Conshohocken, Pa., which will be of stone, one story high, and fitted with all the latest and best of church fittings.

Pritchett Bros., architects, 1430 Penn Square, have prepared plans for a fine stable to be erected at Conanicut, opposite Newport, R. I., for J. B. Lippincott. It will be built upon the grounds of his summer residence, to be of stone, slate roof, and will be furnished with all modern conveniences. The contract has been given to S. R. Rile, 627 Filbert Street.

Miller & Smith, architects, Harrisburg, Pa., have made plans for a handsome store and dwelling for P. H. Vaughn, corner of Third and Reily Streets. The structure will be 25x69 feet, three stories high, built of brick and granite trimmings, interior to have all modern conveniences, including electric bells, slate mantels, hot water heat, etc. J. Wheeler has the contract to build.

The Art Club has appointed its committeemen who are to award the gold and bronze medals offered by the club for the best architectural designs shown in the exhibition, which closes on March 6th. The committee is composed of Professor Warren P. Laird, of the Architectural School of the University of Pennsylvania; Stanford White, of McKim, Mead & White, of New York; and Thomas Hastings, of Carrere & Hastings, of New York.

Jacob Herold, architect, 932 North Eleventh Street, is engaged on drawings for the alteration of and addition to 612-14 Chestnut Street, known as the Philadelphia German Democrat Building, and owned by Dr. Morwitz. As yet no definite details have been decided upon as to the amount of work that may be done, but it is more than probable that two stories will be added, elevators introduced and electric work and other office building advantages included. No definite time as to when the work may be started has been fixed upon, as no contracts have even been thought of or considered in any way, as the plans may be materially altered even after completion.

Furness, Evans & Co., architects, 209 S. Third Street, Philadelphia, have completed all plans in detail for the new addition to the Provident Life and Trust Building, on Fourth Street, above Chestnut. The new structure will be in keeping with the architecture of the present structure on the corner, and will be of buff and enamelled brick, with dark granite trimmings, slate roof, copper cornice, sand finished walls, electric work throughout, one or more elevators, steam heat, and oak finished hard wood, considerable grill work in iron and brass, lavatories, American tile work, ventilators, wash stands, toilet rooms finished in marble, and all modern conveniences. Estimates are being made for the construction.

Cope and Stewardson, architects, 324-26 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, are engaged on plans for an immense carriage and wagon factory for W. D. Rogers & Son, the owner of the property and builder being Charles C. Harrison. It will be located upon the lots 919-21 Walnut Street, recently owned by John Cadwalader. It is understood that this will be one of the most complete establishments of the kind in the State. The basement will contain a blacksmith shop and machinery, first floor will be a salesroom, whilst the second and third will be occupied as factory and finishing departments; a freight lift, steam-power and heat, electric work, best of sanitary plumbing. The structure will be of stone and brick, ornamental and substantially built. No contracts have been let.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, MARCH 2, 1892.

ARCHITECTS as a rule are not only favorably inclined to new and better things in the interests of their clients, but they cheerfully investigate even the most radical innovations, if they possess a moderate showing of practical worth and superiority over the old way. The trouble is in the absolute worthlessness of many of the new things submitted, taking valuable time and taxing a busy man's patience, who owing to his trained eye and practical methods sees at a glance that "there is nothing in it," and unceremoniously dismisses his interviewer, not from any churlishness or a proper want of interest in new methods, but through a sense of self-protection for waiting clients and a month's hard work crowded into a single week, with a must behind it, leaves little room for a long and senseless palaver from an overzealous salesman who recognizes his side of the question as the only side. That architects are largely interested in new things is sufficiently evinced in their ready acceptance of improvements that belong to their office work, a notable instance of which is the Solar Printing Frame, manufactured by the Philadelphia Engineering Works. This instrument, owing to an articulated arm, overcomes many of the troublesome features of the old frame, the principal one being the ease with which it is adjusted to the sun's rays; the fastenings being inside and entirely free from the window, the necessity for a platform or other device being entirely overcome. This is one of the new things that is rapidly forcing its way into the offices of architects all over the country, and we make mention of it in our columns because we believe it will interest thousands of our readers who daily feel the want of some better way than their present method of solar printing.

Philadelphia in the South.

Mr. Henry A. Ingram has just returned from a trip to Asheville, N. C., and reports that all the Philadelphia interests there represented are in a decidedly flourishing condition. These include the famous Kenilworth Inn, said to be excelled in the South only by the Ponce de Leon, at Jacksonville; the Kimball Land Co. and the North Carolina Hedge and Wire Fence Co.

The stained glass for the Kenilworth Inn was made by the well-known house of C. H. Postel & Co., 1314 and 1316 Ridge Avenue, Philadelphia.—Phila. News.

Architect Notes.

Walter Geissinger, architect, S. W. corner Twelfth and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia, has completed plans for a large five-story warehouse for the Abram Cox Stove Co., to be erected at American and Dauphin Streets. The structure will be built in the best and most substantial manner. The first story will be of broken red stone work, while the remainder will be of brick, interior to be steel columns and beams, and generally of fireproof construction. Steam power and heat, electric work, elevator service, and all modern conveniences will be introduced. The whole structure will be covered by a substantial tin roof. The drawings are on boards for estimates by contractors, and bids will be opened and contracts announced after March 2, 1892. Time to be allowed for construction will be about six months.

The matter of the "Bourse" for Philadelphia having been definitely settled as to locality, the next matter for consideration will be plans by architects. The preliminary feature has already been determined upon, which is that the plans for the structure shall be an open competitive one for all city architects, without limits or restrictions of any kind, except area of ground to be covered. This measurement will be obtainable from the committee in charge of building. The selection of the location on the site of the old Fifth Street market house, and bounded by Fourth, Fifth, Minor and Ransstead Streets, has been ratified, and will be purchased for $624,000. The real estate committee have selected Professor William R. Ware, of Columbia College, to assist in the selection of the best design presented under the conditions as noted.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Firth & Foster, dyers, Taylor and Emerald Streets, will at once enlarge their plant by another building upon Emerald and Adams Streets, three stories high, 36 x 54 feet.

Disston & Sons are about to enlarge their works at Tacony by erecting a structure over 200 feet in length and two stories high, of brick, stone and iron. It will also have steam power and heat.

Schofield & Watson's Mills will have two additional structures built at once on Fairhill, above Cumberland Street, each to be one story high and fitted with steam and other appliances for woolen mills.

C. A. Warfield, builder, 1807 North Twenty-second Street, at once begins the operation of thirteen two-story houses on Dover Street, south of Cumberland. All to be of press brick, stone facings and best of modern conveniences.

Archbishop Ryan has purchased the Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium on West side of Franklin Street, between Race and Vine Streets, for $10,000, and will make such alterations as will render it convenient for parochial purposes.

Bids were opened on the 26th inst. for the construction of wards two and three at the County Prison at Holmesburg. Following are the bidders: J. E. & A. L. Pennock, $110,891; Melody & Keating, $111,843. Charles McCaul, $127,875; John Fritzinger, $131,710.

The Diamond Street Omnibus Co. are looking about for a site on which to erect permanent stables. A location has been offered at Thirtieth and Diamond Streets, which may yet be taken, as it requires quite a large tract of ground for the structure which will be erected.

John M. Sharp, builder, 1936 College Avenue, has taken title to a piece of ground at northwest corner of Twentieth and Susquehanna Avenue, also two lots at Twenty-first and the same avenue for $24,000, upon which he will erect quite a number of houses during the coming season.

The Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania have decided to erect another building upon the grounds of the Veterinary Hospital. The structure will be 22 x 47 feet, two stories high, and to be of pebble-dashed work and stone base. It will be fitted for the special care of canines.

W. T. B. Roberts, builder, Twenty-ninth and Thompson Streets, will at once begin the erection of sixty-six two and three-story houses on Woodstock between Dauphin and York Streets. These are to be of fine press brick with stone trimmings, and interiors to have all modern conveniences.

Carmel Presbyterian Church, Nineteenth Street and Susquehanna Avenue, are making preparations to erect a new church at that locality. It is proposed to build a stone front with brick sides, and will be 60 x 50 feet ground space. Interior will be fitted in a handsome manner.

The plans for the new Girls' Normal School, to be erected at Thirteenth and Spring Garden Streets, have been placed on boards for general estimate at the Builders' Exchange, on Seventh Street, south of Market. A full description of the structure has been given in this journal in a previous number.

Lewis Hallowell has contracted to alter and make additions to the old Church of the Disciples of Christ on Twelfth Street, south of Melon, and for which he prepared plans. These contemplate an addition in length of 8 feet, and placing of a second-story floor on interior, together with considerable minor work.

The City Property Committee of Councils at a late meeting, approved the report of the sub-committee recommending that the Washington Monument of the Order of Cincinnati be located in Independence Square, and directed that the ordinance be returned to Councils with a favorable recommendation.

The Real Estate Investment Co., Walnut Street, above Seventh, have bought the residence of Clayton French, lately deceased, together with its grounds at York Road and Fisher's Lane, and will at an early day improve it by cutting streets, grading grounds and erecting a limited number of comfortable houses thereon.

The Park Committee on Plans and Improvements have directed Superintendent Thayer to report upon the cost of preparing one of the arcades of Memorial Hall to receive permanently John Baird's model of the Centennial grounds and buildings, and the probable cost of improving the east river bank between the two bridges at the Falls.

Dr. George W. Roxberry is erecting on Erie Avenue, east of Sixteenth Street, a veterinary hospital and stable combined. Also upon the same lot of ground a residence for himself. C. J. Hecker has the contract for both. The best of sanitary work will be introduced, and all modern conveniences, including an elevator to reach second floor of the stable.

The Pennsylvania and New Jersey Dairymen's Association has at last secured a suitable site for the establishment of a new creamery as a means of absorbing such surplus stock of milk as may from time to time accumulate on their hands. The new site is at 624 Race Street, Philadelphia, and in it will be placed four milk separators and one butter extractor, having a joint capacity of 40,000 quarts per day.

Harry Weekley, contractor and builder, late with C. M. Busch as assistant manager, has opened offices at 1620 Filbert Street, and will in a few days begin quite a fine operation of two and three-story houses on Eaglesfield Street, and the immediate vicinity of Fortieth and Eaglesfield. These will be in keeping with others erected in this locality under his supervision. Mr. Weekley's residence is 1047 Belmont Avenue.

The convent for the Sisters of Mercy at Merion, Pa., noted by us in architectural notes some time ago, and the plans for which were prepared by Edward F. Durang, architect, has now been commenced, the three principal contracts having been awarded to Edward Delaney, M. McShane and John J. Conway, being that of stone work, carpenter work, and tin roofing, respectively. The entire work of construction will cost about $300,000 when complete.

Chief Eisenhower, of the Bureau of City Property, and Architect Windrim, recently visited the sub-pole station at Olney. The residents of Chestnut Hill want a similar one at Twenty-seventh Street and Highland Avenue. Councils have appropriated $10,000 for the new building, which is to have accommodations for twenty-five policemen, two street sergeants and two house sergeants, and be provided with two lodging rooms for wayfarers.

William C. Merritt, Secretary of the Operative Builders' Association, will break ground shortly for twenty-four eleven-room houses on the east and west sides of Forty-first Street, north of Poplar. These houses will be built up to the usual standard of this well-known builder, which is a guarantee that all the material and workmanship in these houses will be first-class. They will be built on lots 17 x 100 feet, have press brick fronts, brownstone trimmings, recede from the street fifteen feet, have handsome porch fronts, grass plots and coping. The estimated cost of this operation is $136,000.

Funds are now being raised for a palatial club house to be erected for the Fencing and Sparring Club, near the centre of the city. Sites on Chestnut, Broad and Walnut Streets have been viewed, as well as the northeast corner of Juniper and Locust Streets. The latter site cannot be secured, and No. 919 Walnut Street, which has been favorably considered, will soon be occupied by a large factory, and is therefore no longer to be considered; but the committee having the affair in charge will continue the search until a thoroughly desirable place is secured. The building to be erected thereon will cost much over $100,000, and will be one of real architectural beauty. Cope & Stewardson will design the edifice. The present site of the club, on Sixteenth Street, north of Chestnut, will be abandoned.

The Continental Brewing Co., Twenty-first and Washington Avenue, contemplate making extensive additions and alterations to their plant. Contracts have been placed for a new copper boiling kettle, of 500 barrels capacity, an enormous mash tub 30 feet in diameter, new copper water tanks, hop back and coolers. In addition to the foregoing, changes will likewise be made in the electric lighting arrangements, by which, in place of using both arc and incandescent systems, as at present, the company will use the latter system exclusively, requiring two 300-light incandescent machines for that purpose. These improvements and extensions will necessitate numerous alterations and additions to the brewery buildings, and work in this direction has been already begun by John O'Donnell, the well-known builder, who has charge of all such matters for the company. The new structure will be built entirely of iron and brick, no wood being employed in the construction. Extraordinary efforts are being made to have everything in working order by May 1st, and to that end it is probable that work will be rushed day and night. When finished, the new brewery will be one of the most complete in this country.

Contractors have been busy during the past two weeks upon estimates for the work of erecting the new Girls' Normal School, which will be located at Thirtieth and Spring Garden Streets. We present herewith the bids as opened from the sealed envelopes and submitted by the various contractors of Philadelphia. These have been scheduled and will be considered by the authorities at an early day. The lowest bid came from J. Wenzelberger, being $282,000, with a reduction of $3200 if wooden floors are used in place of mosaic, and $12,400 if copper cornices are put in instead of stone. The highest bid came from W. S. P. Shields, it being $344,500, with a reduction of $7044 for the first and 13,700 for the second substitution. The estimates were made in three ways, first, according to plans and specifications, which include mosaic tiling in all the floors; second substitutes wood in the place of tiling, and the third, substituting copper for stone cornices. These changes would reduce the bids from $15,000 to $25,000. Following are the bidders, according to their plans and specifications: F. H. Somerset, $311,500; W. K. Richards & Co., $286,912; T. M. Seeds, Jr., $305,000; Brookelhurst & Ewing, $316,469; C. W. Stewart, $314,200; Charles McCaul, $311,522; Thomas Doan, $362,160; George W. Roydhouse, $304,000; W. S. P. Shields, $344,500; W. H. Dougherty, $324,600; J. Wenzelberger, $282,000; R. C. Ballinger & Co., $322,000; Kohl & Bro., $333,397; F. J. Amweg, $296,027; William Steele & Son, $305,951; Jacob Garber, $296,644; J. E. & A. L. Pennock, $321,316; John Fritzerger, $301,000; National Construction Company, $299,290; Michael McManus, $335,000; Johnston & Byrne, $314,494; J. D. Hart & Co., $306,749.

We present herewith the three plans proposed for the new Boulevard to Fairmount Park and the tabulated expense for each one. The selection of plan No 3 has been warmly commended and endorsed as the most feasible by both the Mayor, Hon. Edwin S. Stuart, and Director of Public Works, James H. Windrim. Plan No. 1 proposes a route on the line of Pennsylvania Avenue, beginning at the Green Street entrance of the Park, and terminating at the intersection of Broad and Arch Streets, crossing Arch Street sixty feet west of Broad Street and extending northwest to Pennsylvania Avenue to Twenty-first Street, and thence along the northwest side of Pennsylvania Avenue to Twenty-fifth Street. On account of a slight divergence in Pennsylvania Avenue the width would increase from 160 feet at Twenty-first Street to 240 feet at the Green Street entrance or Twenty-fifth Street. This plan involves building the Boulevard over the railroad by depressing Pennsylvania Avenue through a four-track tunnel from Nineteenth Street to Twenty-sixth Street, a distance of about 4000 feet, raising and lowering streets between Nineteenth and Fifteenth Streets, and removing thereby the grade crossings at Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth and Nineteenth Streets. The necessary change of grade upon Pennsylvania Avenue would involve consequential damages from Broad Street to 200 feet west of Twenty-first Street. The railroad from the west entrance of the tunnel would rise to Thirtieth Street. Plan No. 2 proposes a route commencing at the Park, at Twenty-fifth Street, at the intersection of Spring Garden Street, and continuing in a straight line, terminating on the north side of Filbert Street, seventy-five feet west of Broad Street. Plan No. 3, the one recommended, is as follows: It proposes a route commencing at Twenty-fifth and Callowhill Streets, extending in a direct line to the northwest corner of Broad and Filbert Streets. This plan proposes an extension of Callowhill Street westward, commencing with Twenty-fifth Street, now opened and paved to a width of 144 feet to the Green Street entrance to the Park. By clearing the land westward to the river the Park would commence at Twenty-fifth and Callowhill Streets, the west end of the Boulevard, from which four roadways would diverge, two into the East Park and two into the West Park; the first along Twenty-fifth Street to the Green Street entrance to the Park; second, by a road through the approach to the lower deck of the Fairmount Bridge, and continued between Fairmount basin and the river over the forebay, and leading to the Lincoln Monument; third, by a drive to the lower deck of Fairmount Bridge, thence along the west river shore to the Zoological Gardens; fourth, by a connection with the upper deck of the bridge cross the river, and continue north over Thirty-fourth Street into the West Park. To establish this route interferes very little with public buildings, as follows: Seventy-five feet of the southwest corner of the Friends' Burial Ground, the buildings of the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital, passing on the north side and clearing Will's Eye Hospital, sixty feet south and clear of the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, crossing through the southwest corner of Logan Square, removes two buildings of the Fairmount Iron Works, the Second Reformed Presbyterian Church at Twenty-second and Wood Streets, entering on the line of Callowhill Street at Twenty-third Street. Callowhill Street being widened to 160 feet, and the eastern side enlarged by a curve to Twenty-fifth and Biddle Streets, takes a part of the Star Braid Mills. Comparative statement of the distance or length of road by plans Nos. 1, 2 and 3, with an approximate estimate of the cost to acquire property and construct the Boulevard.—Plan No. 1: Distance, 6250 feet. Estimated value of property (double the assessment) and cost of construction, $5,168,700. Extra width at west end, $50,000. Cost of depressing railroad and tunnel $2,691,864. Total, $7,913,564. Plan No. 2: Distance, 6275 feet. Estimated value of property (double the assessment) and cost of construction—Total, $6,959,200. Plan No. 3: Distance, 4480 feet. Estimated value of property (double the assessment) and cost of construction—Total, $5,721,800. The department recommend the selection of plan No. 3 for the reason that it is the shortest route between the City Hall and the Park. In its course there is the least disturbance to public or private property. The west end of such Boulevard will make a most desirable entrance to the Park, which can be embellished by monuments or works of art. From it direct roadways will lead to the main points of interest in either the East or the West Park. The surroundings to such an entrance will provide a location for historic monuments. The views of the river scenery from the river drives will be most desirable—an advantage not possessed by either of the other plans. The three plans have been submitted to the committee of citizens who have been deeply interested in this improvement, and Plan No. 3 has their endorsement and approval. I therefore most respectfully submit Plan No. 3, and ask your favorable recommendation of it to Councils, with the recommendation that the same be placed upon the city plan. Very respectfully yours, (Signed) JAMES H. WINDRIM, Director. The communications were referred to the Survey Committee.

The report that the Fourth Street National Bank of this city intended erecting an office building, which appeared in the daily papers of last week, is officially denied. That institution has no intention of building at Broad and Chestnut Streets, or elsewhere.

It is one thing to know just what you want when you are going to buy a piano, and quite another thing to see that you get it. You may have the most accurate ear for discriminating between the false and the true in chords and yet be deceived. It is in the nature of things that pianos must be bought, to a great extent, on faith. The point about which there must be no dispute is the reliability of the maker. One thing that is sure is that you will make no disappointing discoveries with the Weber.

Architect Notes.

J. F. Stuckert, architect, 524 Walnut Street, has made plans for considerable alterations to premises 872 North Seventh Street, including both exterior and interior work.

William H. Free, architect, 27 North Juniper Street, has made plans for a dwelling and bakery at Clifton Heights for George Griffiths, to be of brick and stone, with all modern conveniences. Also, plans for a residence for Mr. E. B. Beans at Fallsington, Pa.

Robert A. Pitts, architect, 224 South Third Street, has made plans for a fertilizing mill to be built at foot of Bainbridge Street, Schuylkill River. It will be 30x40 feet and four stories high, fitted with steam power and machinery for the purpose indicated above.

Furness, Evans & Co., architects, 209 South Third Street, have prepared plans for the rebuilding of 629 Market Street, recently destroyed by fire. The structure will be about six stories high, and be fitted with steam heat and power. Electric work elevator lift, and all modern conveniences will be introduced. The contract has been given to Thos. Little & Son, 207 Pear Street.

Walter H. Geissinger, architect, Twelfth and Chestnut Streets, has prepared plans for alteration and additions to factory buildings of John H. Dearnly, at northeast corner of Eighth and Somerset Streets, to be of brick and stone, three stories high, slag roof, the interior to be fitted with steam power and heat and all modern conveniences. Plans are being estimated on by contractors.

Isaac Purcell, architect, 119 South Fourth Street, has prepared plans for a large six story factory and store building to replace the burned Shaw Building on Vine Street, below Eighth. The structure will be of buff brick and carved stone, fitted on interior with freight lift and passenger elevators, electric wiring, speaking tubes, lavatories, toilet rooms and best of modern conveniences. Estimates are being made on the drawings by contractors.

Joseph D. Austin, architect, 713 Filbert Street, has been directed by the Board of Education to prepare preliminary drawings for a boys' high school, to be located upon one of two sites, Twenty-sixth and Jefferson Streets or upon the present one, at Broad and Green Streets. These plans are for the purpose of enabling the Board to approximate the cost in asking for an appropriation from City Councils. This school is an absolute necessity, owing to the present crowded condition of the one in use.

W. Frisbie Smith, architect, northeast corner Broad and Arch Streets, has been authorized by Mr. Eisenbrey to prepare the drawings and supervise the erection of a fine house at Clifton, Delaware Co. It will be frame, with stone foundations. The exterior will be sheathed with hemlock, papered and weather-boarded with German siding shingles, slate roofs and slate mantles, tile hearths, stained glass windows, hot air heat. The water will be supplied from a well or drive pump if possible. All materials used will be of the best.

Commencing on the 21st inst., and extending to the 26th, inclusive, a public exhibition of architectural designs for the construction of all kinds of buildings, drawn by professional architects from Philadelphia and vicinity, will be given in the Exhibition Department of the Builders' Exchange, 18 to 24 S. Seventh Street, and to which the public will be invited free. No restrictions are placed upon the profession as to the kind of drawings to be presented. A magnificent opportunity is thus presented to display the genius and handiwork of the craft.

Smith & Robinson, architects, Altoona, Pa., have been awarded a contract, after competition, to make plans in detail for the Blair County Almshouse, and will at once push the work forward. It will be a three-story structure of stone and brick, fitted with iron stairs upon interior, as well as fire escapes outside. Steam heating and plumbing of the best, electric plant, engines, laundry fixtures and best culinary arrangements, bids for all the latter kind of work to be in by April 5, 1892. Separate estimates for each, as indicated, desired by the architects. See column of wants in this journal.

Hazlehurst & Huckel, architects, Drexel Building, have completed plans for a new store, colonial style of architecture, decorated in buff and gold, for M. Zineman & Bro., 130 South Ninth Street. Same architects are also engaged on drawings for a fine three story residence for Albert L. Murphy, at Conshohocken, Pa., first story to be stone, remainder of shingle work, to be heated by steam and finished in hard wood, with all modern conveniences. A stone wall will be built entire length of front. The same architects have made plans for a fine colonial residence for James C. Cox, to be built at Orange, N. J., to have a fine porch and port-cochere on exterior. Interior to have all modern conveniences of the best.

Edwin F. Bertolett, architect, 257 S. Fourth Street, has left at the Builders' Exchange for examination a complete set of plans for a very fine residence for T. R. Helb, of York, Pa. These drawings are made in exact accordance with the desire of the contractors and builders, and upon which estimates are to be based upon them. No modification or alteration will be made without the mutual consent of all parties concerned, and upon the exact scale laid down for measurement the estimates will be based. The structure will be three-story stone, with a tower at one corner, capped by a handsome dome tiled work. The roof will be of tile and slate work. Large porches will be placed around the exterior, while upon the interior the finish will be in hard wood, electric work, steam heat and finest of sanitary plumbing will be introduced. The basement will be a model for culinary arrangements, having all modern conveniences.

The Board of Managers of the Pennsylvania Hospital, at a meeting on the 28th of February, resolved to make considerable addition to the present number of buildings on their grounds by erecting at an early day a new hospital, a new outdoor patients' department in conjunction with the Nurses' Home now being erected. The former will cost about $175,000 and will be built of brick and stone on Eighth Street south of Spruce, extending to the gateway, three stories high and furnished with best of modern improvements, inclusive of steam heat, electric work, elevator lift, etc. The latter structure will stand on a lot northeast corner of Spruce and DuPontean Streets, and will also be built of stone and brick, at a cost of about $40,000. This structure will also be fitted with everything necessary to the comfort of the patients. All the plans will be prepared by Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut Street, who made the drawings for the new home in course of construction.

Louis C. Hickman, architect, Penn Mutual Building, 925 Chestnut Street, has plans on boards for a store and printing house for the American M. E. Book Concern, at 631 Pine Street, to be three stories high, of buff brick front, tin roof, steam heat and power, best of sanitary plumbing, and modern conveniences, including a hand freight lift. Same architect has drawn plans for a stable for Miss Mary Tryon, at Twenty-ninth and Glenwood Avenue, to be two stories high, of brick, slate roof, with speaking tubes and accommodation for coachman. Also, plans for a boat house, for the Pennsylvania Barge Club, on the River Drive at Fairmount Park, to be built of stone, two stories high, shingle roof, interior to be fitted in a handsome manner with ladies' parlors, a large reception room with music gallery at one end, a locker room, toilet rooms and lavatories, enlargement of the store room for boats. Steam heat and electric light and bells will be introduced, and when completed will be a model of comfort. Also, plans for alterations and additions to stable of Mrs. A. Armbruster, at Merionville, Pa., the contract for which has been awarded to A. L. Fretz, Wynwyd, Pa. Also, drawings for extensive alterations to residence of Mr. A. Kelsey, of Chestnut Hill, including the introduction of steam heat, best of sanitary plumbing, electric work, speaking tubes, and all modern comforts and improvements. Same architect is engaged on plans for extensive alterations and additions to residence of Chas. W. Potts, 1317 Spruce Street, which will include an entire new front of Indiana limestone and Pompeian brick. Interior tile work and modern ornamentation in hardwood. Also an entirely new rear building, three stories high and fitted with all modern conveniences. For same gentleman, plans were prepared for a pleasure cottage at Somers Point, N. J., for which the contract has been let, and is now in course of construction.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, MARCH 9, 1892.

It seems always that when the proper thing should be done by Councils the improper thing is sure to be done. The selection of Independence Square as a site for the new Washington Monument is fully up to the standard of wisdom that usually emanates from our legislators. Any school boy could point out a hundred prominent spots in our city where the monument would become conspicuous for its beauty, besides enhancing the value of property in its vicinity. A marked feature of the city of Washington is the number of its small, beautiful parks in which a monument stands in bold and pleasant contrast to the usual unbroken sameness of things in large cities.

We must use our monuments for better purposes than hiding them away in spots where the visitors to our city must go on a quiet hunt to find them.

There are many sites in Fairmount Park infinitely better adapted than the site selected; besides which old Independence Hall is attractive enough for any single locality, and the square itself is better as it is, and every effort to compound its attractions is wasting an opportunity to embellish the city in places where it is most needed.

For schemes, public and private, of massive proportions that never materialize, Philadelphia can discount any city in the world. What has become of the proposed gravity railroad through Fairmount Park? The Northeastern Elevated? The bridge to Camden? The B-It Line? The corporation to shovel snow from sidewalks? The underground railroad? The many large hotel schemes? The repaving of Broad street? The new Boulevard? The piazza around the Public Buildings? The Market Street Elevated, etc., etc.?

An Important Sale of Fine Paintings.

It is seldom that a truly Philadelphia collection of high art paintings is offered for sale at auction.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of this week, Davis & Harvey will sell the collection of paintings belonging to Craig & Evans, of this city.

This sale is important owing to the many pictures of a high order it embraces as, well as the great popularity of the artists represented.

The noticeable features of the collection are—24, a Market by Night, by J. Rosierse; 29, The Rose, by J. Portielje; 34, Sympathy, by Theo. Gerand; 36, A Cunning Fellow, by Augustus Kraus; 48, November in the Fields, by Henri De Beul; 67, The Jolly Guest, by Theo. Kleehaas; 91, A Sheep Fold, by C. Van Leemputten; 97, Our Pet, by L. Eug. Lambert; 124, Asleep With One Eye Open by Col. David and E. Remi Maes; 156, A Norwegian Waterfall, by H. Herzog, and many others.

A company is being formed in this city for the manufacture and sale of the Briggs lock joint brick in Eastern Pennsylvania. The Briggs brick, it is said, has been received with considerable favor among Western architects and builders, and an effort is to be made to push it in this section. J. S. Briggs, 852 Union Street, West Philadelphia, has the matter in charge, and can give information.

Architect Notes.

M. Fielding, architect, 110 South Fourth street, has made plans for a school building for Mr. George W. Miles, Jr., to be erected at Radford, Va. The structure will be stone and brick, three stories high and fitted with all modern conveniences. The drawings are now on boards for estimates by contractors.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The Fales Hot Air Furnace Co., of Philadelphia, contemplates the erection of a factory for the manufacture of their furnaces.

The Tulpohocken Tennis Club, of Germantown, is making preparations for the erection of a club house on grounds belonging to the club in the early spring.

The Park Avenue Wheelmen will change their quarters as soon as they purchase one of the properties offered them on Broad Street. If this result be reached they will remodel entirely the new house.

J. E. and A. L. Pennock, contractors, 305 Walnut Street, have been awarded the contract for wards 2 and 3 of the County Prison at Holmesburg, and will at once begin the work of construction.

The Columbia Cycling Club, 1501 Montgomery Avenue, is now seeking new quarters and one of two choice locations will be settled upon at an early day, when the work of alteration and refitting will be started.

Jacob Wenzelberger, contractor, 260 Bridge Street, White Hall, Frankford, has received the contract to erect the new Girl's Normal School at Thirteenth and Spring Garden Streets, being the lowest bidder. Work will be started at an early day.

Woelfel & Schmunk, builders, 614 Cambria Street, will at once begin the erection of nine two-story houses on north side of Cambria, west of Seventh Street, to be press brick fronts with stone trimmings and modern conveniences on interior.

William F. Albrecht, contractor and builder, 2341 North Twenty-ninth Street, will at once begin the erection of twenty-one two-story brick stores and dwellings on Fontaine Street, east of Thirty-first Street, all to be of the same class of houses in that vicinity.

The Midvale Steel Co. have purchased 30-15th acres of ground adjoining their present immense plant lying on Roberts and Wissahickon Avenues and Payran Street, for $226,124, and it will at an early day make large improvements and additions to their works.

Superintendent Shearer, of John Wanamaker's Grand Depot, has invited estimates upon plans for extensive alterations to 604 Market Street. These include a new front, rear addition, and perhaps one or two stories in height. The interior to have modern conveniences, etc.

William N. Read, roofer, 43 North Seventh Street, has received the contract to roof both the Reading Terminal Train Shed and the Nurses Home, which is now being erected at Ninth and Spruce Streets. These two large operations will require many tons of the roofer's material.

William C. Merritt, builder, Fortieth and Poplar Streets, has purchased a number of lots for building purposes at Twenty-first and Poplar Streets, for which he paid $20,500. Also, several lots at Sixteenth and Westmoreland were transferred back and forth by G. H. Hill and W. G. Brown.

It is understood that the recently burned residence of Mrs. C. P. Shoemaker, at Glenside, Montgomery Co., Pa., will be rebuilt at an early day. The house burned was fully covered by insurance, but considerable loss is sustained in furniture and bric-a-brac, much of which cannot be replaced.

Estimates are being offered on the power house of the Reading Terminal, which will be located above Arch Street, and south of Cherry. This will include also the room for the electric plant, as well as heat and steam power. The plans are made by Wilson Bros, architects and engineers, Drexel Building.

Michael McShain, carpenter, 226 North Fifteenth Street, has received from Archbishop Ryan a contract to alter the old Lutheran ministerium on Franklin Street, above Race. It will, as indicated by this journal in a previous number, be adapted to parochial purposes, the cost of the work being $7000.

The Eastern Market Co. are endeavoring to negotiate for the old Quaker Burying Ground, on Fifth Street, below Locust, for the purpose of erecting a large market house in place of the present one, which will now give way to the Bourse Building. Fred Sylvester & Co., agents, Sixth street, below Walnut, have charge of the property.

Upon investigation it is understood that the great tapestry chenille mills recently occupied by J. B. Ryer, Son & Co., at Frankford Avenue and Westmoreland Street, and burned last week, will be rebuilt as soon as the insurance matters have been settled. The mills were owned by J. C. Moore and the machinery by J. B. Ryer, Son & Co., who leased the structure, which was 54 x 183 feet, and four stories high.

A number of improvements and decorations are contemplated for Rittenhouse Square in the early spring by an association of citizens residing in the vicinity. New trees will be planted and beds of evergreen. It is also hinted that at no distant day a fund sufficiently large will be raised to have a handsome fountain placed in the centre similar to those in Fairmount Park. Mr. G. Heide Norris, 631 Walnut Street, and Mr. John Moss, Jr., 120 Drexel Building, solicit subscriptions for the work, and are members of the association.

Among the transfers of properties the past week was that of the northwest corner of Twelfth and Arch Streets, by H. A. Hornickel to William Weightman for $90,000. This site will be occupied by a fine hotel, for which plans are now being completed by Willis G. Hale, architect, 1524-26 Chestnut Street, and which has been previously noted in this journal. The same purchaser has taken title to two lots on Race Street, west of Tenth Street, south side, on which a large factory building will be erected from plans also prepared by Mr. Hale and fully described in our journal of February 3, 1892.

The Chambers Presbyterian Church, at Broad and Sansom Streets, are about completing a compact with the West Arch Street Church, of the same denomination, whereby they will remove from the present location and join forces with the latter at Eighteenth and Arch Streets. The plans for the union contemplate the erection of a mission church from the proceeds of the Chambers Church sale, which will amount, it is thought, to about $300,000, and the alternation between the West Arch Street pulpit and this new church, of Rev. Thomas A. Hoyt, D. D., now pastor of Chambers Church, and Dr. Hemphill, The West Arch Street Church, will change its name to Chambers Church.

Frederick J. Hafner, jeweler, 232 North Eighth Street, will, during the summer season, begin the erection of a new theatre upon the site occupied by 239-41-43-45 North Eighth Street, having leased for a long term these premises. The architectural plans will likely be prepared in Brooklyn, N. Y., and the contract for construction awarded to a city contractor. The area of ground covered will be about 65 x 110 feet, and it is Mr. Hafner's intention to erect a very ornamental and cosy structure, introducing all the latest features for theatrical comfort and convenience, and have it as nearly fireproof as is possible. It is also his desire to have it completed so as to open previous to the holidays of 1892. When all plans are completed in detail they will be fully noted.

George W. Roydhouse, contractor and builder, Builder's Exchange, has been awarded the contract to tear down the two old buildings of the Provident Life and Trust Co., on Fourth Street, above Chestnut. Also, to construct the masonry, concrete work and superstructure of the new addition to the company's building now standing at Fourth and Chestnut Streets. The remainder of the contracts for the interior work has been given in detail to different contractors. As noted in our journal of February 10th, these plans, drawn by Furness Evans & Co., architects, 209 South Third Street, contemplate a structure in unison with the present corner building, fitted with all conveniences, elevators, electric work, steam heat, lavatories, toilet rooms, etc. Work has been started, and will be pushed with vigor to completion.

A delegation of prominent citizens of Philadelphia appeared last week before the Committee of the House of Representatives at Washington, D. C., to urge the necessity of passing the appropriation of $800,000 asked in the Sundry Civil bill to purchase a new site for a Mint. The delegation were met by the Philadelphia Congressmen, who also appeared before the committee. The site selected by the committee appointed for that purpose is the block between Walnut and Sansom and Sixth and Seventh Streets. The gentlemen invited to go to Washington were Anthony J. Drexel, Samuel Gustine Thompson, ex-Mayor Edwin H. Fitler, William M. Singerly, Colonel A. K. McClure, Director of Public Works James H. Windrim and Colonel O. C. Bosbyshell, constituting the committee to select a site, and John C. Bullitt, Hon. Richard Vaux, Charles E. Warburton, George E. Bartol, James Elverson, William V. McKean, Frank McLaughlin, L. Clarke Davis, Samuel C. Perkins, Hon. E. S. Stuart, Clayton McMichael, Thomas Dolan, J. Simpson Africa and Henry M. Dechert.

At the meeting of the Water Committee of the City Councils on the 1st inst, the plan of Direct-Windrim for the expenditure of the money set aside for extensions in the Water Bureau was considered. The plan is as follows: For work on the Roxborough reservoir, $160,000; for mains to the reservoir, $60,000; engines and boilers for Roxborough pumping station, $70,000; engines and for Spring Gaaden pumping station, $75,000; engines and boilers Frankford pumping station, $90,000; enlarging Spring Garden engine house, $10,000; mains at Spring Garden station, $6000; mains for Fairmount Avenue and alterations, $17,000. Total, $515,000. This leaves a balance of $35,000 for emergencies. Director Windrim said that, in addition to the above, the Bureau needed $225,000 for a new main from Lardner's Point to the Wentz farm reservoir, as the latter now depends for its supply upon a single main, and should any accident happen to it Frankford and the adjacent territory would be deprived of its water supply. A new 48-inch main is also needed from the East Park reservoir to Broad and South streets, which would cost $324,000. The Water Committee approved of the project and referred the matter to the Finance Committee.

The War Museum, which is to be erected in this city by the Loyal Legion with the assistance of the State, may possibly be placed on the present site of Beth Eden Baptist Church, at the northwest corner of Broad and Spruce streets. Colonel Sylvester Bonaffon is authority for this statement. He said that a number of localities had been considered, and that a selection would not be made until the necessary funds had been raised. He added: "The $100,000 required in addition to the State grant of $50,000 is coming in rapidly. We have fully half the amount in hand already. Small subscriptions are just as welcome as large ones, and you would be surprised at some of the small donations we get. Quarters, dimes and even nickels rain in upon us. One man sent us four cents in stamps. On the other hand, we get checks for $100 and upwards. Of course, we shall do nothing toward selecting a site or purchasing plans for building until every cent of the $100,000 has been placed in care of our treasurer, Colonel Goodman. Many relics have already been presented to the museum, while many others have been promised. Magistrate W. D. Lelar has quite a collection from Southern battle-fields which are destined for us. Other relics, among which is the celebrated banner presented to us by the Comte de Paris, are stored in our headquarters, at No. 723 Walnut street, and in the homes of members of the commandery.

The Real Estate Investment Company proposes to hold the Episcopalian Diocesan House Committee to its agreement to purchase the site owned by the company on Locust street, if it is possible. The site is on the southwest corner of Locust and Deau, containing forty feet in Locust and a depth of that width of ninety-five feet along Dean street. The price was $40,000. The sub-committee of the general committee favored the site, and in view of probable purchase the company acquired adjoining land, which the committee said was necessary. The sub-committee then reported the general committee wanted an option. This was refused, the company preferring to enter into an agreement for the sale of the property. The committee consulted and signed an agreement of purchase, the agreement being approved by Charles C. Binney, who is a member of the committee. This agreement was signed February 6, by C. Woolsey Hodge, Charles C. Binney, and James Logan Fisher, the committee, and John J. Ridgway, the president of the company. The last paragraph of the agreement was this: "Provided, however, and this agreement is conditioned thereon, that we shall be able to secure within ninety days the necessary contributions to make purchase, which may, however, be consummated earlier." It is on the strength of this promise that the committee is now trying to free itself from the agreement that it may purchase the property on Broad Street above Locust, next to the Natatorium building, which, the committee states, it has learned is more acceptable to those who are to furnish the money for the purchase of the site. As was stated in yesterday's Press, the committee, having failed to obtain a release from the obligation, has placed the matter in the hands of the attorneys. John J. Ridgway, President of the Real Estate Investment Co, says: "It was a simple business transaction, and should be carried out according to ordinary business rules. I presume that no matter what location is selected there will be objections by many, and as the constituted authority of the Diocesan Convention, to wit: The committee appointed for that purpose, after the careful consideration of months, and with the report of the sub-committee, including architectural plans for the respective lots, decided against the Broad Street one and preferred ours, it would seem that a written agreement to purchase the lot, thus duly authorized, could not be destroyed at the option of these gentlemen; and, further, the action of these bodies indicates that there are very many representative Episcopals favorable to the location already purchased.

It is rumored that the Girard House will shortly change ownership and that the entire character of the hotel will be changed. A syndicate of gentlemen will it is said, purchase the property and make it a first class hotel on the European plan. The establishment is to be renovated, a first-class cafe is to be established in connection with the bar, and the general hotel features are to be discontinued.

A hotel on the principle of Dooner's and Green's is to be established and a number of alterations and improvements are contemplated by the new management.

A Handsome Ornament for Table, Mantel or Counter.

This illustration represents our ELECTRIC LIGHTER, and is one-half its actual size. It is complete in itself—requires no extra Power Wires or Connections. The Current of Electricity is generated by Chemical Action. It occupies the space of but SIX SQUARE INCHES. The construction is simple in the extreme. It can be taken to pieces at will, and just as easily readjusted. A CHILD CAN OPERATE IT. Simply by pressing the Centre Rod, the Current of Electricity is generated, and the light is instantaneous.

ECONOMY.

The material to charge the Battery can be obtained at any drug store at a cost of Ten cents, and will run 30 to 60 days.

Any part can be replaced at a cost not exceeding Ten cents. Aside from its use as a Lighter, this apparatus does away with the use of matches and the dangerous results and disagreeable odors arising from same.

We have taken especial care in the manufacture of these Electric Lighting Batteries. They are handsomely constructed in nickel plate and highly ornamental, and will take a prominent place among the bric-a-brac of Reception Rooms, Parlors, etc.

Full directions and one charge for the Battery accompany each apparatus. All orders for less than $20.00 must be accompanied by Postal Express Money Order or by draft on New York. Goods shipped C. O. D. on receipt of Twenty per cent. (Remittances with order save return charges.) LIBERAL DISCOUNTS TO TRADE AND AGENTS. We desire reliable representatives in every State in the Union, and invite correspondence on the subject.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Northwestern Architect.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well. Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city."

[From the Builder, Decorator and Wood-Worker.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

"There is not the least doubt about 'Adamant' wall plaster will last as long as the building upon which it is used."

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, MARCH 16, 1892.

IT IS OFTEN a matter of surprise that Philadelphians do not appreciate more fully the fine art work done in their own city. A tour of the various churches would probably be a revelation to many who live in blissful ignorance of the fact that a large number of the magnificent stained glass windows which adorn our places of worship are the work of Philadelphia artists. Temple Baptist Church, at Broad and Berks Streets, furnishes the best possible evidence of what can be done right here in Philadelphia in the way of artistic stained glass work. These windows are conceded to be not only of superior mechanical execution, but unsurpassed in design and artistic treatment. Masonic Temple, Harper Memorial Church and a large quantity of beautiful work found in private residences, testify to the ability of Philadelphia artists to meet the demands of a rapidly growing taste in this direction on the part of the people. All of the above mentioned work was done by the firm of C. H. Postel & Co., and demonstrates beyond a doubt that the American style of art glass is in a fair way to supersede all others. The firm's works at 1314 and 1316 Ridge Avenue are well worth a visit.

Architect Notes.

R. G. Kennedy, architect, Drexel Building, having made plans for improvements and alterations to residence of Dr. Charles E. Hopkins, at Bryn Mawr, will continue to supervise the work which has been started.

A. P. Benner, architect and contractor, No. 11 N. Thirteenth street, has made plans for a dwelling house which he will erect on north side of Christian Street, west of Fifteenth, to be of brick and stone, and furnished on interior with an modern conveniences.

Harold Godwin, architect, 905 Walnut Street, has made plans for a stone addition to house of Bunford Samuel, at Chestnut Hill. It will be three stories high, and have an open balcony top with battlement ornamentation. All modern comforts and conveniences will be introduced.

Romulo Vasquez, architect, Holmesburg, has completed plans for the rebuilding of Frankford

Music Hall, at Frankford. These include a new auditorium, class rooms and a number of minor alterations. The contract has been awarded to C. W. Fester, of Holmesburg.

Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, have completed plans for a large engine house and repair shop for the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, to be erected at Ninth Street and Fairmount Avenue. Structure to be of brick, stone trimmings, slate roof, two stories high. Estimates are being made for the work.

Samuel Milligan, architect, 708 Chestnut Street, has made plans for a fine residence for Addison Foster, at Ashbourne, Pa. The contract has been given to A. M. Walkup, contractor, 815 Filbert Street. The structure will be furnished with all the modern conveniences and comforts, and will be in keeping with the standard of buildings in that vicinity.

Theophilus P. Chandler, Jr., architect, Brown Bros. Building, Fourth and Chestnut Streets, has made plans for an addition of two stories to the Gladstone Apartment House, located at Eleventh and Pine Streets. These will be in keeping with the architecture of the present building, Mr. Chandler being the original architect. Bids have been invited upon the work.

C. W. Bolton, architect, 1510 Chestnut Street, has prepared plans for a church at Pender, Neb. Frame, brick foundation, etc. Also, plans for a church, at Ponca, Neb. Frame, and will cost about $6000. Also, plans for a theatre at Saulsbury, N. C. To be two stories high, first to be for stores, second to contain auditorium with a gallery, and all theatrical fittings for a house of that class.

Horace Traumbaur, architect, 310 Chestnut Street, has made plans for house and stable at Jenkintown, Pa., for Mr. W. A. Cochran. House 36 x 80 feet, 2½ stories high. Stone first story and frame the two remaining. Interior to be in hard wood, electric work, hot air heat and all modern improvements. Stable will be constructed as a coachman's house and furnished with all conveniences.

Edwin F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut Street, is engaged on plans in detail for the church school and parochial house to be erected at Sixth and Tioga Streets for the Roman Catholic Church of St. Veronica, at Second and Butler Streets. These are very complete and contemplate handsome structures of stone, and fitted with the best of church furniture. Mr. Durang will supervise the entire work of construction.

Edwin F. Bertolett, formerly of 257 S. Fourth Street, has taken a suite of offices in the new Sibley Building, at 1217 and 1220 Filbert Street, and situated between the terminal stations of the Pennsylvania and Reading Railroads, where he will find pleasure in welcoming his former clients and friends and all persons desiring designs, plans, drawings, surveys, or seeking counsel in building or structural operations.

M. B. Bean, architect, Landsdale, Pa., has made plans for a fine public school which will be erected at Perkasio, Bucks Co., Pa. They show a fine building, two and a half stories high, built of brick, stone trimmings, and fitted on interior with modern comforts and appliances. A tower will be placed at one corner, and the upper floors will be reached by wide stairs. Heated by hot air and ventilated by the most approved methods. The school board has approved the drawings.

Willis G. Hale, architect, 1524-26 Chestnut Street, is engaged on preparation of plans for large hotel to be erected at Hartford, Conn., and will be known as "Park Central Hotel." It will cost $100,000. It will be five stories high, built of Portland stone and mottled buff brick, fitted with electrical work throughout, elevator, steam heat, best of sanitary plumbing, etc. The contract for the plans was won after considerable competition, in which architects of Boston and New York took part. The owner is W. C. Daly, the well-known turfman.

J. T. Windrim, architect, 132 S. Third Street, has just completed plans for a new building for the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, on Tenth Street, above Cherry, which will be erected during the early summer months. The faculty has recently purchased additional property, Nos. 139-41-43, adjoining which will be incorporated in the new structure. This will be five stories high, the first being of brownstone, while the remainder will be of buff brick. The interior will have an elevator, electric lights and bells, best of sanitary plumbing, steam heat and all modern conveniences. No contracts have been let, but it is likely the plans will be placed for estimates in a few days.

Amos M. Godfrey, formerly of this city, but now a resident of the far east Cairo, Egypt, and whose business is to act as agent in securing architectural plans for homes in that distant land which are in keeping with our school of architecture, paid a visit to the Builders' Exchange on the 9th inst., as he expected to find on exhibition in that place drawings of structures by all Philadelphia architects, or at least a majority of them. He will during his stay among us call upon a number of those in the profession and state personally his objects. Mr. Godfrey paid a glowing tribute to the genius of Philadelphia draughtsmen, and said the Egyptians were fast becoming Americanized as to comforts embodied in their ideas of home construction.

The Philadelphia Chapter of the American Institute of Architects held its regular monthly meeting at its rooms, 31 South Fifteenth Street, on the 10th inst., and awarded prizes offered for the best plans for a house front. The first and second prize of $30 and $20 in gold were awarded respectively to James P. Jamieson and Edwin Gilbert, the design by Charles Z. Klauder receiving honorable mention. For this month's competition, a Chestnut Street store front, twenty designs of high average merit were submitted, the award for which will be made at the next chapter meeting, April 12. The chapter has also established a water-color class, which is free to all professional and junior members and all students in the offices of the professional members. George Nattress, English water-color painter and architect, 430 Walnut Street, has been engaged to give the instructions.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 138 South Fourth Street, have on boards plans for alteration and addition to two houses for Mr. John W. Cheney, Sixth and Cooper Streets, Camden, N. J. A new house will also be erected upon a central lot between the above. All will have stone fronts, slate roofs and be three stories high. The interiors will be finished to some extent in hard woods, electric work, open grates with tile work, best of sanitary plumbing, steam heat and all modern conveniences. Also, plans for alteration and additions to the Hurley estate, Seventeenth and Chestnut Streets. The first floors will be turned into stores, while the second, third and fourth will be fitted for offices and studios. Also, on the third will be located a hall for society purposes. The same architects are making drawings for a handsome coachman's house to be erected by Mr. S. B. Brown at his country place, Bryn Mawr, Pa. It will be a two-story house, ornamental stone front, slate roof, and contain also a laundry. All modern conveniences will be introduced. Also, in course of preparation plans for alterations to house of Mr. E. J. Harety, 619 Spruce Street, which contemplate an entirely new back building and stone front to second story, for which brown stone will be used. Considerable interior work will also be done. Estimates have been made only upon the latter work.

Wilson Brothers, Architects and Engineers, Drexel Building have completed the plans for the Reading Terminal Station, at Twelfth and Market Streets. The Market Street front will present an ornamental, though massive appearance, with a frontage of 266 feet 10 inches, and a height to the corner of the balustrade of 130 feet. It will be pink New England granite, and brick and terra cotta. The main house will be 107 feet deep and north of it will be a lobby 50 feet wide, extending to the train shed proper, now approaching completion, and which extends to Arch Street, a distance of 512 feet. The main entrance for passengers will be in the central part of the front, where there will be an arcade twelve feet wide from which the passengers will go into the general waiting room. On the west side of this waiting room will be located the ticket office and sub-post office. On the north side communication will be had with the baggage room for convenience of checking baggage, and on the east side there will be a stairway to the second floor, and also two passenger elevators. There will be a broad passage way connecting the general waiting room on the ground floor with the carriage way, which runs from Twelfth to Eleventh streets, through Hunter Street. At the east and west ends of the building the space will be occupied by offices for the company's business, and the floors of these offices are arranged to be some five feet above pavement level, so that the stores underneath them will be only partially below the street level. From the track floor level there will be wide exit stairways to both Market Street and Twelfth Street. The waiting room will be 78x100 feet, and will have a height of about 35 feet, the ceiling being formed of immense iron girders filled with ornamental stucco work. The room will contain a large fireplace and handsome mantelpiece of carved wood. To the east of this general waiting room there will be a large waiting room for ladies, 59x44 feet in size, a parcel room and necessary toilet rooms. The floors of the waiting rooms will be handsomely tiled, and the walls ornamented with plastering in artistic forms. To the west of the general waiting room will be located the dining room, 86x44 feet, and the restaurant, 47x66 feet in size. The general waiting room will be handsomely wainscoted in hard wood, and there will be a balcony running around the east, north and west sides which will afford convenient means of communication to the occupants of the offices, which will be located over the various rooms surrounding the general waiting rooms, these having only half the height of the latter. The south front of the general waiting room will open out into a loggia or balcony on Market Street, which will form an attractive feature in the architectural appearance of the building. The kitchen for the service of the dining room will be located in the upper story. Above the portion of the building devoted to public use there will be four stories and an attic, which will contain offices for the company's business, it being the intention to remove the executive and operating offices to the new building as soon as it is completed. At the east end of the building, and also on the Twelfth Street front, there will be provided stairways, with two elevators at each point extending to the top of the building for the building for the accommodation of the office portion of the building above the passenger rooms. Large front elevators will be provided in the baggage rooms, running thence to the track; floor level for the convenience of handling baggage, mail and express matter. South of Filbert Street, on the street level, the plans provide for restaurant, express office, driveway for carriages, and for the baggage room for incoming and outgoing baggage. The driveway for all carriages and wagons is from Eleventh Street, through a little thoroughfare called Hunter Street, to the main passage way provided on the company's property, terminating at Twelfth Street, so that the passage of carriages and wagons will not interfere with the entrance and exit of passengers to and from the station. The train shed proper, which, at a track level, is about twenty-five feet above the street level, contains thirteen tracks. The roof over the train shed is an arch of a single span of about 266 feet, giving ample light and ventilation. It is of iron construction with abundant skylights. This span is the largest roof span of the kind in this country. The arches spring from the top of the piers at the level of the tracks, about twenty-five feet above the pavement. The sides of the building from the pavement to the track level are brick piers capped with granite, and between the piers there are doorways and sashwork to give the maximum of light to the market and other rooms. The total height of the top of the arch from the track level is about eighty feet. Underneath the train shed the space from Arch to Filbert Street is occupied by the new market, which affords ample accommodations for all the tenants which have been occupying the Farmers' and the Twelfth Street Markets which were compelled to give way for the construction of the main station building. Underneath the market there is a capacious cellar which will be fitted up for cold storage. There will be large boiler plants for steam heating, steam power, etc., and two separate and distinct electric light plants: an incandescent plant for lighting the station proper, and the other an arc light plant for lighting the main shed, market house, its line of the road to Broad and Callowhill Streets, and to Fairmount Avenue. Supervising Engineer Smith will have charge of the construction for the company.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Hugh McNeille, builder, Buck Road and Moyamensing Avenue, has bought a piece of ground for building purposes at Twenty-ninth Street and Lehigh Avenue.

Friendship Division, No. 19, Sons of Temperance, have purchased dwelling houses 1609-11 Columbia Avenue, and will make extensive alterations in order to fit the property for society purposes.

William McDowell, of the firm of Liebrandt & McDowell, whose residence at Elm, Pa., was burned recently, will likely at an early day rebuild upon the site. As yet no plans have been prepared or contracts awarded.

The Baldwin Locomotive Works will enlarge its erecting shop by raising the walls six feet and introducing a number of trolleys as well as other minor additions. Jacob R. Garber has the contract for the work.

The Roman Catholic church on west side the of the Philadelphia and Bristol turnpike will build a parochial house, 28 x 53 feet, two stories high, of stone, to cost about $12,000. It will be furnished with best modern conveniences.

Upon investigation we find that there is no truth in the assertion that the great stove manufacturers, Liebrandt & McDowell, of this city are considering propositions to remove their immense plant to Middletown, Pa., or any other locality.

A. M. Walkup, contractor, 815 Filbert Street, has contracted to make repairs and build extensive outbuildings on the farm of S. P. G. Anderson, near Three Tuns, Montgomery Co., Pa. Also, ten dwelling houses for the same owner at Tenth and Diamond Streets, Philadelphia.

James V. McGarvey & Sons, contractors, 2115 Race Street, have received the contract to make alterations and additions to the Roman Catholic Female Seminary, at 1716 Race Street, which will consist of an entire new front building, 14 x 42 feet, and the remainder of structure will be entirely refitted on interior.

A mission has been organized in the public hall, southwest corner of Huntingdon and Fifth Streets, under the auspices of Emanuel Reformed Episcopal Church, who have been raising a fund for the erection of a church in the near future in the immediate locality. Rev. Forrest E. Dager is interested, and preached the first sermon after organization.

James H. Stevenson & Son, builders, Ridge Avenue and Diamond Streets, begin their spring operations by erecting eighteen two-story houses on York, near Twenty-fourth Street, and on Twenty-fourth Street, south of York; also at Sedgely and York Streets. All to be of press brick, stone facings, and best of modern conveniences and trimmings on interior.

It is generally conceded on all sides that Jacob R. Garber, contractor, 52 North Thirteenth Street, will erect the new Masonic Temple and theatre to be built in Camden, N. J., from plans prepared by Angus S. Wade, architect, 20 South Broad Street, Philadelphia, and who will also supervise the construction. The above has been fully described in a previous edition of this journal.

Hamilton & Dissinger, silversmiths, 810 Sansom Street, have bought, through George S. Parker, real estate agent, from Dr. George McClellan the old college of anatomy located on southwest corner of Tenth and Medical Streets, and will erect a fine factory building five stories high, the front to be of stone, remainder of brick and iron principally, fitted with steam heat and power, elevator, electric work, etc. The plans are being prepared by a local architect.

It is indicated by the President of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, Charles F. Mayer, that that organization intend to make large improvements and addition to the terminal on the Delaware River front below Dickinson Street early this spring. These plans contemplated a new and larger freight depot, new trackage and sidings for delivery of bulky freight, as well many minor alterations, this location being now in use by the company.

The managers of the proposed Bourse have purchased Nos. 420, 422 and 424 Market Street for the purpose of securing an entrance on that street, and plans will be prepared for the same. This will make a frontage on Market Street of about 60 feet. It is also probable that an entrance will be secured on Chestnut Street through the Philadelphia National Bank, and the Fidelity Trust Co. is considering a change in its plans by which an entrance will be obtained on Fourth Street.

Councils Committee on Surveys met on the 1st inst., and favorably recommended the placing on the city plan of the Boulevard from Broad and Filbert Streets to the Park, as approved by Mayor Stuart. There was a fair attendance of prominent citizens in favor of the Boulevard, and speeches were made by William Platt Pepper, E. W. Clark, Thomas S. Harrison, John C. Bullitt, Clayton McMichael and Edward T. Steel. They all thought that the Boulevard would not only beautify the city, but benefit it largely financially.

A company has just been formed in this city having for its object in business the manufacture of ready mixed mortar for building purposes. The capital having all been raised and paid in a charter has been applied for and a plant purchased at Twenty-third and Filbert Streets, known as the old "Arcade" building, upon which considerable alteration and addition will be made under supervision of the company's engineer. An entire equipment of new machinery will be placed, which will necessitate steam power as well. Much of the success of this organization is due to the indefatigable energy of Ralph Beverly of this city.

The Wistar-Horner Biological Museum, connected with the University of Pennsylvania is at last to have a permanent home and one worthy of it. General Wistar, a descendant of Dr. Casper Wistar, the founder of the museum, has offered to build a $100,000 fire-proof building for the museum and to endow it with a sum sufficient to insure an income of $3000 per annum. The matter was before Councils' Finance Committee for its approval of an ordinance authorizing the trustees of the University to deed to a new corporation a piece of land at Thirty-sixth and Spruce Streets for the purpose. The lot is tied up in such a manner that this cannot be done without the consent of Councils. Provost Dr. William Pepper explained to the committee that the object to be attained was perfectly in accord with the educational objects embodied in the gift of the ground to the University. There was an attempt to keep secret

The fifteen members of the Board of Directors of the Philadelphia Bourse who visited New York on Wednesday, the 2d inst., to examine the Stock, Produce, Cotton and Consolidated Exchanges, with a view to obtain ideas to be utilized in the construction of the Bourse here, were back at their places of business in this city on the 3d. All the members of the party took notes on the buildings visited, and many useful suggestions, were made. President George E. Bartol, speaking of their trip yesterday, said: "The information we gained was very useful. We made incidental comparisons between our proposed building and the New York Produce Exchange, which has the largest board-room in the country. The New York building has a floor space of 220 x 144 feet, and the contemplated Bourse structure will have 250 x 126 feet, making comparatively little difference in the area of the respective floors, except a trifling advantage in space favor of the Bourse. In the dimensions of the building the Bourse will have a still greater superiority, the ground area of the Bourse being 364 feet in length by 130 feet in width, as compared with 312 x 140 feet, the size of the New York structure." The party also consulted with Professor Ware, of Columbia College, who has been selected to supervise the architectural features of the proposed building, and who accompanied them on their tour of inspection. It is expected that by the 1st of July possession of the market house property will be obtained and the improvement of the site speedily follow.

An interesting story relating to Philadelphia's reputation as a centre of manufactures lies back of the determination of the Holmes Fibre-Graphite Manufacturing Company to erect its principal plant in this city. It is a recently organized Illinois corporation embarking in an entirely new industry, and it has purchased eight acres of ground at Nicetown on which to erect the buildings for what is expected to be a very large industry. The company organized to manufacture the new material includes many business men of prominence. William D. Ewart, of Chicago, President of the Link Belt Machinery Co., which has a large plant at Chicago, is President. Edward A. Turner, President of the Dodge Coal Storage Co., is Vice President, and James M. Dodge, President of the Link Belt Engineering Co. and the inventor of the great machinery used in coal storage by the principal railroads of the country, is Chief Engineer. He has to assist him Dr. Coleman Sellers, the well-known scientist, as Consulting Engineer. John Sparhawk, Jr., who was instrumental in bringing the company to this city, is solicitor for the company, and among the Directors, besides those already named, are Philip H. Holmes, the inventor of the fibre-graphite, and Edwin J. Houston, the electrician. The company expects to get its big plant at Nicetown in working order in a very few months and will then be prepared to make bearings of any desired form. These may be cast to shape or bored, turned and worked more easily than wood.

Crew, Levick & Co. have purchased from J. Pemberton Ellis a tract of land extending 350 on Jackson Street and 125 feet on both Swanson and Meadow Streets, on which they will erect at once large cooperage and storage yards to be operated in connection with their works at South Chester. This particular location was chosen because it is accessible from both the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio Railroads and from the Belt Line, when the latter shall be constructed. The recent extension of the Reading's tracks to South Chester has put the site in direct railroad connection with the works of Crew, Levick & Co. at that place, and the construction of a new competitive pipe line from the McDonald oil fields has been a further inducement to the firm to enlarge its scope of operations. Application was made on their behalf on the 7th instant to the Port Wardens for permission to bulkhead their property at South Chester, involving the filling up of a large swamp, and from the docks to be constructed the firm propose to build up an export trade in paraffine wax and lubricating oil. The works of the new Crescent Pipe Line are but a short distance down the river at Marcus Hook, and from these the oil will be carried to South Chester either by pipe or lighters. This is said to be but the first of a number of important industries to be established along the Delaware River front as a direct consequence of the new pipe line under construction. Seventy-five miles of this have already been finished at the western end, and the work is being pushed actively. A large amount of dredging has recently been done at Marcus Hook, insuring a sufficient depth of water to float large ocean steamships, and in a short time it is expected that exports of oil will begin from that point.

This illustration represents our ELECTRIC LIGHTER, and is one-half its actual size. It is complete in itself and requires no extra Power Wires or Connections. The Current of Electricity is generated by Chemical Action. It occupies the space of but SIX SQUARE INCHES.

The construction is simple in the extreme. It can be taken to pieces at will, and just as easily readjusted. A CHILD CAN OPERATE IT. Simply by pressing the Centre Rod, the Current of Electricity is generated, and the light is instantaneous.

ECONOMY.

The material to charge the Battery can be obtained at any drug store at a cost of Ten cents, and will run 30 to 60 days.

The first floor will be fitted up for stores, the second will contain a hall with stage and seating capacity of 500. The third and fourth floors will be used for lodge purposes. —A number of citizens of Royersford and Spring City are agitating the question of constructing a glass plant.

—At Merion Station, Montgomery Co., Paul W. Smith will engage in an extensive building operation, to consist of the erection of about forty handsome dwellings to cost from $5000 to $7000 each. Fourteen acres of ground have been purchased for the purpose and the lots will be about 80 x 250 feet. Considerable grading will be done and the roads will be telforded. The work will be begun as soon as possible.

—At Pottstown, Montgomery Co., the trustees of the Pottstown Hospital have selected three acres of ground on the Alexander Sampson farm, at the northwest corner of Charlotte and Gay Streets, upon which a building will be erected for hospital purposes. The State has made an appropriation of $10,000; John H. Krause left $20,000, and the King's Daughters have raised $10,000, making in all $40,000 to be used for the purpose.

Through New Jersey.

The question of an electric railway to connect Mount Holly and Burlington is being agitated.

At Woodstown, Salem Co., a system of water works will be constructed at a cost of about $30,000.

At Glassboro, Gloucester Co., the plant of the Whitney Bros.' glass works will be enlarged during the present season.

At Longport, Atlantic Co., a Philadelphia syndicate, headed by William Lamburn, has purchased a large tract of land for $25,000.

At Asbury Park, Monmouth Co., E. H. Faulkner has been awarded the contract to erect a handsome residence for Frank Work, at Hempstead Plains, L. I.

At Morris Plains, Morris Co., it is probable that the State Lunatic Asylum will be rebuilt, as the present structure is too small. The Committee on Asylums has introduced a bill in the Legislature appropriating $60,000 for the purpose.

At Ocean Grove, Monmouth Co., Colonel C. C. Lefler will erect a large pavilion with glass sides for the accommodation of his guests at the Sheldon House. —The Casino Co. expect to erect a large bath house with swimming pool of salt water.

At Island Heights, Ocean Co., there is talk of a new railroad to New York. The route proposed would make use of the Jersey Central Railroad to Matawan, and the New York and Freehold Railroad to Freehold. A straight line from Freehold to Toms River would come through Lakewood. After touching Toms River on the northeastern limits a slight curve would reach Island Heights, and at Bayville, or Barnegat Park, it would join the Toms River and Waretown branch. The advantages claimed are that this would open up an entirely new and productive farming country from Freehold to Toms River; that it would lessen the distance materially from Lakewood to New York; and that it would give Island Heights an outlet to New York as well. Besides that it is well known that the Reading Railroad, who now practically own the Jersey Central and its branches, have long been working for a shorter route between Atlantic City and New York than by their present line via Winslow Junction.

Through Delaware.

The plan has been adopted by the directors and the committee instructed to continue its work. —The Olivet Presbyterian Church building, at Chestnut and Adams Streets, has been purchased by Rev. A. I. Du Pont Coleman for St. Michael's Episcopal Mission. The building will be fitted for the use of the new congregation as soon as possible.

A number of streets will be paved, the work to begin about April 1. J. N. Gawthrop can give information. —The Board of Managers of the Ferris Industrial School has appointed a committee to investigate various institutions with a view of extensive improvements to the Ferris Institute. Haines is superintendent of the school. —Lewis R. Springer has made plans for alterations to 1410 Delaware Avenue, for Captain George A. Le Maistre. G. H. Kerr can give information. —The directors of the Wilmington Institute have ordered fire escapes to be placed on the building.

Through Maryland.

At Easton, Talbot Co., the office of the "Democrat" and other buildings were destroyed by fire last week at a loss of about $20,000.

T. F. Schneider, 933 F Street, N. W., has made plans for a handsome residence to be erected at 2113 R Street by Thomas J. King, Secretary of the Builders' Exchange. It will be of press brick, tin and tile roof, copper cornice, steam heat, hard wood finish and modern improvements.—Plans have been prepared by J. H. McGill for a floor and other improvements to the K Street market, thereby converting part of it into a convention hall, with a seating capacity of 12,000. It is said that a number of chairs will be put in. The estimated cost of the improvements is $50,000.—A joint resolution has been introduced by Senator Gibson, of Maryland, providing for a survey for a new bridge across the eastern branch of the Potomac River, at the foot of South Capitol Street.—P. ## A Few Quiet Words with House Builders and Owners.

If the kitchen of your house is small, you need to economize room. You can do this by using a range with elevated boiler, such as the

"FIDELITY."

It will reduce the cost of plumbing also. We make them with seven inch or eight inch boiler holes, ovens on right or left of fire, with or without hot closets, and also to heat an upper room. Splendid bakers. Hot water in abundance. The latest and best of their class.

FIDELITY HOT AIR RANGE WITH HORIZONTAL BOILER.

Excelsior Double Oven Range.

If the kitchen is roomy and large, cooking capacity is sought. You will want a brick-set range with a vertical circulating boiler, set in the usual way. The

are acknowledged all over Philadelphia, in which city and vicinity some 75,000 have been sold as the standard brick-set range. They are furnished with ventilated ovens, oven-door pedals, rocking grates, and all modern improvements. Made in seven and eight inch sizes; single, double and hot-air ranges. Send for descriptive pamphlet, entitled "PERFECT COOKING."

Architect Notes.

W. Frisbey Smith, architect, northeast corner of Broad and Arch Streets, is engaged on preliminary sketches for Clifton Park, Delaware Co., Pa., a full description of which will be given when completed.

James N. Campbell, 814 Penn Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., has prepared plans for a two-story brick school house to be erected at Idlewood, Allegheny Co., Pa., on the Panhandle Railroad. It will be handsomely finished and furnished.

Charles L. Hillman and J. C. M. Shirk, architects, formerly at 328 Chestnut Street, have arranged to join with Addison Hutton in the practice of their profession, at 400 Chestnut Street, where they will be glad to receive clients and friends for consultation.

Frank Irving Cooper, architect, Pittsburgh, Pa., has prepared plans for a brick and stone school house, to be erected at New Brighton, Pa. The general contractor is George Krueger. Also, plans for a dwelling to be erected for James S. Ramsey. Contracts not let.

T. E. Cornelius, Maeder Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., has prepared plans for a dwelling for Frank Jamison, to be erected at Elwyn, Pa. Also, plans for a dwelling for William McClelland, to be erected at Mt. Washington. Also, plans for dwelling for J. E. Elder, of East End, and J. McCready, of Braddock, Pa.

Louis C. Hickman, architect, 925 Chestnut Street, having finished plans for a new store building 802 Vine Street, is receiving estimates for the work. Structure will be three stories high, brick, with stone trimmings and fitted on interior with best modern conveniences. Work will be started as soon as contract is awarded.

Mr. C. Henry Postel, the well-known stained-glass artist, of No. 1314 and 1316 Ridge Avenue, contemplates erecting, in the near future, at Lansdowne, near the house of his son, recently completed, a residence. It is to be built of Avondale stone; to cost about $30,000. The plans are to be secured by invited competition from architects.

Walter H. Geissinger, architect, Twelfth and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia, has made plans for alteration and additions to the southwest corner Fourth and Arch Streets for Messrs. McNeely & Co. These consist mostly of interior work, heating, painting, and glazing, plastering, drainage, gas fitting and plumbing, with some little tin roofing. Plans on boards for estimates, etc.

Collins and Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut Street, have made plans for a warehouse to occupy the site of the one condemned at Fairmount and Delaware Avenue and occupied by Leslie & Trinkle. It is owned by the Power's estate and will be rebuilt by it. The structure will be of brick and stone, and it will possess many advantages over the old one. Estimates are being made upon the drawings.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut Streets, has prepared plans for an additional office building for John Lucas, at 324 Race Street, and which, will also include a dining apartment for the employees. It is understood that another addition is contemplated upon the same ground at an early day. Estimates are being offered upon the work of the above.

D. Judge Denan, architect, Ardmore, Pa., has made plans for a fine school house to be erected at Narberth, Elm Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Structure will be of stone, two stories high, slate roof. Main building will be 35 x 72 feet and will have a wing or projection 19 x 37 feet. It will be fitted with toilet rooms, lavatories, cloak rooms. Messrs. B-van, Allison and McCully are the Building Committee. It is expected the contract will be given out as soon as possible, so as to complete the building by September next.

John Fraser & Son, architects, 413 Walnut Street, have prepared plans for four large dwelling houses, to be erected by the owner, Mr. S A Hendrickson, of Germantown. They will be of stone and brick construction, three stories high, slate roof, porches at side, interior to have furnace heat, good modern conveniences, electric bells, etc. The same architects, having prepared plans for the Presbyterian church at Wayne, Pa., about six months ago, have now received directions to invite estimates for the work of construction. Bids are being made upon the drawings noted in this journal previously.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 518 Walnut Street, is engaged on plans for alteration and addition to 1214 Chestnut Street, for Geo. W. Allen. These are quite extensive, including the running back of structure four stories in height to Sansom Street. The front will be renewed by addition of handsome bulk windows of copper work. Interior will have one passenger elevator and a freight lift steam heat and an electric plant for incandescent lighting. A sub-basement will be for the accommodation of boilers, machinery, etc. The plumbing will be quite a feature in sanitary work, including fine toilet rooms, lavatories, dining room and accommodations for salespeople. Estimates will be invited at an early day.

We again desire to call the attention of the public to the exhibition now in progress from 9 A. M. to 10 P. M., at the Builders' Exchange, Seventh Street, below Market, of sketches, plans and drawings by professional architects of this city and vicinity. All are admitted free, and after inspection of the above on the third floor can be carried by elevator to the first, where a general permanent show of manufactured commodities for building and furnishing homes, factories, hotels and all other structures is nicely arranged, the two being under the management of Superintendent William Morgan, who will also kindly furnish information required and welcome those who may call.

T. P. Chandler, Jr., architect, Brown Brothers Building, Fourth and Chestnut Streets, has prepared plans for the erection of a frame building 400 x 550 feet in extent for the purpose of amusement in horse racing. The structure will contain accommodations for about 300 horses. It will be erected upon a site near Wissahickon Station by a number of citizens interested in turf amusements.

M. B. Bean, architect, Lansdale, Pa., reports the following: Plans on hand and will soon be ready for estimates for a residence for Alvin Evans, at Ebensburg, Cambria Co., Pa. ### Building and Real Estate Notes.

The Mayor having signed the ordinance for the erection of the Washington Monument in Independence Square, it now becomes a law and unless this work is undone by a decision of the courts subsequently, it may be considered as definitely fixed as to location.

George W. Frederick, contractor, 1306 Vienna Street, has a contract to erect a four-story brick, stone and iron boiler house at 955 N. Third Street. The dimensions are 21 x 25 feet and will be fitted with the necessary machinery. The owners are J. M. Hummell & Sons.

J. C. Moore, builder, 605 Walnut Street, will build during the spring season quite a number of two and three-story houses near Frankford Avenue and Ann Street; also another lot of thirty at Fifty-third and Market Streets, all to be of the best workmanship, of pre-sed brick, stone trimmings and modern conveniences.

John T. Bailey, the rope manufacturer, will at an early day erect quite an addition to his present immense plant at Otsego and Morris Street, having just acquired the ownership of a piece of ground adjoining, 110 x 311 feet 11 inches, and the price paid being $18,000. The committee was authorized to accept plans and award the contract. A. B. Farquhar was selected Executive Commissioner to fill the vacancy made by the withdrawal of Director Whitman.

All of the bids received at Harrisburg for the Pennsylvania building to be erected at Chicago were above the amount appropriated for the purpose, the lowest bidder exceeding the limits by over 4000. The estimated cost of this paving is: Broad Street, $194,278; other streets with asphalt, $77,788.56; with new blocks, $28,105; with old blocks, $10,102.12—a total of $340,273.68. This is about $70,000 in excess of the amount now available of the original appropriation.

Important action concerning city hotels and the use of fire escapes was taken at the meeting of the Board of Fire Escapes on the 8th inst. It will be remembered that the Board started an investigation of the matter shortly after the recent hotel horror in New York. The result was a series of reports to the meeting on the 8th inst. showing that provision made by many of the hotels for the escape of inmates in case of fire was inadequate and in violation of the law. After some discussion Inspector Zimmerman, who looked after the hotels south of Chestnut street, offered the following resolutions, which were approved: "Resolved, That the owners or proprietors of the Continental Hotel be notified to erect fire-escapes on the Ninth street front, on the Chestnut street front and on the Sansom street front; also to have ropes and chains in each room and on the several stories, as the law requires. Resolved, That the owners or proprietors of the Hotels Lafayette, Bellevue and Colonnade be notified to have ropes and chains in each room and on each story as the law requires. Resolved, That the owners or proprietors of the Aldine Hotel be notified to erect fire escapes on the Chestnut street front and the Sansom street front and on the west front. Also ropes and chains in each room and on each story, as the law requires. Resolved, That all the within-named hotels be directed to have signs pointing to the location of all fire escapes and means of exit." Inspector Supplee, who visited the hotels north of Chestnut street, reported numerous places that did not have red lights, gongs and signboards, as required by law, and mentioned several instances where defects in the fire escapes existed. He recommended that all hotels be sent copies of the law, which will be done. He also stated that there were several theatres that did not have red lights, gongs and signboards, and advised that they be sent copies of the law also, which was agreed to. On motion of Inspector Supplee, the entire Board is to visit Moore's Windsor Hotel at an early day, where a question has arisen as to how and where fire escapes should be built. A complaint stating that the public school house on Third street, between Buttonwood and Green, had no fire escapes, was referred to the Board of Education.

INSTANTANEOUS ELECTRIC LIGHTER PRICE, $5.00.

FOR PARLOR, DINING ROOM OR CHAMBER.

Electricity Generated by Chemical Action.

OFFICE, STORE, CIGAR SHOP OR SALOON.
A Handsome Ornament for Table, Mantel or Counter.

This illustration represents our ELECTRIC LIGHTER, and is one-half its actual size. It is complete in itself and requires no extra Power Wires or Connections. The Current of Electricity is generated by Chemical Action. It occupies the space of but SIX SQUARE INCHES.

The construction is simple in the extreme. It can be taken to pieces at will, and just as easily readjusted. A CHILD CAN OPERATE IT. Simply by pressing the Centre Rod, the Current of Electricity is generated, and the light is instantaneous.

ECONOMY.

The material to charge the Battery can be obtained at any drug store at a cost of Ten cents, and will run 30 to 60 days.

Any part can be replaced at a cost not exceeding Ten cents. Aside from its use as a Lighter, this apparatus does away with the use of matches and the dangerous results and disagreeable odors arising from same.

We have taken especial care in the manufacture of these Electric Lighting Batteries. They are handsomely constructed in nickel plate and highly ornamental, and will take a prominent place among the bric-a-brac of Reception Rooms, Parlors, etc.

Full directions and one charge for the Battery accompany each apparatus. All orders for less than $20.00 must be accompanied by Postal Express Money Order or by draft on New York. Goods shipped C. O. D. on receipt of Twenty per cent. (Remittances with order save return charges.) LIBERAL DISCOUNTS TO TRADE AND AGENTS. We desire reliable representatives in every State in the Union, and invite correspondence on the subject.

SPRING and SUMMER 1892.

These cold March days seem a bit too early to order SPRING and SUMMER CLOTHING; but we are ready nevertheless with a splendid assortment of Imported and Domestic Fabrics, heretofore unequalled for beauty and quality.

The Spring Birds will soon be here, and it's none too early even now to leave your order and measure while our lines are full.

$5.00 TROUSERS, made to order from beautiful all-wool goods, is at least suggestive of the idea that economy, beauty and utility can be combined to the advantage of the customer. $20 suits to order equal to the $35 suits of other stores.

Architect Notes.

John F. Stuckert, architect, 524 Walnut Street, has prepared plans for a chapel to be erected at Nineteenth and Susquehanna Avenue. To be of stone and brick, one story high, open timber work on the interior, and heated by furnace.

The plans for the College of Pharmacy heretofore noted in this journal, were presented to the Board of Building Inspectors on the 28th inst., and approved. John T. Windrim, architect, 132 S. Third Street, made the drawings, and will invite estimates at once.

George Plowman, architect, 1406 Chestnut Street, has made plans for four fine houses and stores to be erected on Lancaster Avenue, above Fortieth Street. They are to be of buff brick, terra cotta trimmings, three stories high, interiors to be in hard wood, electric bells, and all modern improvements.

Robert A. Pitts, architect, 224 South Third Street, has made drawings for three fine three story buildings on Chatham Street, above Buttonwood, for Mrs. M. Hall Stanton. All to be of press brick, ornamental front and finished in hard wood upon the interior, best of sanitary plumbing, electric bells and modern conveniences.

Horace Traumbaur, architect, 310 Chestnut Street, has made plans for a fine country house for J. J. Sill, to be erected at Wyncotte, near Jenkintown, Pa. To be 56 x 84 feet, three stories high, of local stone, slate roof and all modern conveniences. A stable will be built in rear of the house, which will also contain good internal arrangements.

A. W. Leh, architect, Bethlehem, Pa., has made plans for a handsome new high school building, to be erected on Vine Street, in the above town. Josiah Wilt has been given the contract. Structure of brick, stone trimmings, three stories high. A handsome clock will be placed on top in small tower. Interior to be furnished with all latest school fittings.

T. Melon Rogers, architect, 1122 Walnut Street, has now completed all plans for the Protestant Episcopal Church at Devon, Pa., to be erected under provision of will of Mrs. Lemuel Coffin, and will soon invite estimates upon the work. Structure, as noted by us in a previous issue, will be of stone, interior walls of buff brick and wood ornamentation known as open timber work. It will be named All Saints' Church.

Angus S. Wade, architect, 20 South Broad Street, has made plans for a fine residence to be erected between Division and Rodney Streets and Delaware Avenue, Wilmington, Del. Building to be three stories high, brick, Indiana limestone trimmings, an extensive outside porch and other decorations. Interior will be fitted with tile work around fireplaces and mantels. Best of modern conveniences will be introduced.

T. Melon Rogers, architect, 1122 Walnut Street, has made plans for a fine residence for W. Moore Wharton, to be erected at Lancaster and Haverford Avenues. To be of stone and brick, three stories high, green slate roof, electric bells, and all modern conveniences. Cost, about $10,000. Also, plans have been prepared by same architect for a house at Devon, to be of English style of architecture, for Henry Howson. Structure will be stone and frame, gabled ends, interior hard wood and all modern improvements.

Edwin F. Bertollette, architect, 1220 Filbert Street, has made plans for a railroad station on Philadelphia and Atlantic Railroad at Lake Garden, N. J. To be frame, one story high, and all interior arrangements for convenience of traveling public. Also, plans for a fire engine house at Bridgeport, opposite Norristown, Pa. Structure to be brick, two stories high, stone trimmings and fitted on interior with parlor, sleeping apartment, and general meeting room. Also, plans for a handsome residence for John Sterling Deans, of the Phoenix Bridge Co. To be of stone, two and a half stories high, slate roof and fitted with best of modern conveniences.

J. C. Worthington, architect, 1305 Arch Street, and Professor C. Francis Osbourne, of Cornell University, Ithica, N. Y., have jointly prepared plans for the "Dalton Building," to be erected upon the grounds of the Bryn Mawr College, near the main line of Pennsylvania Railroad, the structure to be used entirely for scientific purposes. It will be three stories high and built of Bryn Mawr local stone, being 70 x 180 feet in size. Roof to be of dark slate, interior walls will be of buff brick, and will be rendered as near fire proof as possible. A lecture room will be upon each floor surrounded by smaller ones. Electric work and steam heat, with best of sanitary plumbing will be introduced, and all modern conveniences.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The Wrigley Manufacturing Co., at Sixteenth Street and Erie Avenue, are considering the matter of building an extensive plant at Wayne Junction, upon ground recently purchased by them.

John Pettigrew, contractor, 726 South Seventeenth Street, will erect at Sixteenth and Moore Streets eighteen two and three-story houses, press brick, stone facings, and good modern conveniences.

Armstrong & Printzenhoff, contractors, will at once begin the construction of the large warehouse destroyed by fire on the 26th of November last, Swanson, below Catharine Street. Size, 51 x 92 feet.

The modified plans for the new Normal School, at Thirteenth and Spring Garden Streets, are now on the boards for estimates. The chief work of cutting down has been done upon the interior of the structure.

Charles P. Nesbitt, contractor, 425 Locust Street, will at once begin erection of two fine three-story brick stables at 262 South Second Street. All to be of brick, supplied with best accommodations.

A. Mowbray, builder, will at once begin an operation of thirty-eight two and three-story houses at Broad and McKean Streets. All to be of fine press brick, stone trimmings and best modern conveniences.

John M. Morrow, 1525 South Broad Street, will at once begin an operation of forty-eight two-story houses on north and south sides of Taylor Street, above Twenty-third. To be of the usual class in that vicinity.

Nesbit & Coder, of Harrisburg, Pa., have been awarded the contract to erect the Pennsylvania Building at Chicago, Ill. Their bid was $67,900. Work to begin April 1st, and structure to be finished by October 1, 1892.

William T. B. Roberts, builder, Twenty-ninth and Thompson Streets, will at once begin the erection of sixty-two two and three-story houses on both sides of Woodstock Street, north of Dauphin. All to be press brick, stone trimmings, etc.

Thomas Marshall, contractor, 413 Locust Street, will build the new front to store, 604 Market Street, for John Wanamaker, from plans prepared by William Shearer, Superintendent for Mr. Wanamaker. Work will be started at once.

Joseph S. Hagan, builder, 502 Walnut Street, is about to start an operation of eighty-two two and three-story houses on Indiana Avenue, west of Second Street. All to be of press brick fronts, stone trimmings and modern improvements on interior.

The Bourse agents for purchase of real estate have begun work in earnest upon No. 18 South Fourth Street, for which $18,000 was paid, and will push the work as fast as possible. It is desirous to begin the work of construction this summer.

Mr. Howard Seal, of Germantown, will soon assume control of the old Coulter Hotel, in that place, at corner of Main and Coulter Streets. After so doing, it is understood to be his intention to remodel the building entirely, all of which is to be occupied for hotel purposes.

From present indications it is more than likely that the Commercial Exchange Building on Second Street, above Walnut, will be somewhat remodeled during the present building season. The matter is yet in embryo and will not develop before the next meeting of the board of directors. If any move is made in the matter it will be to introduce an elevator and put the building in good order without making any addition in space.

JOHN F. BRISBANE, City Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, MARCH 30, 1892.

It is a strange coincidence that both architects and builders, as a rule, isolate themselves from active political life. Indeed, the domain of either one of these very important crafts in the business world is seldom looked upon as possessing available men for political preferment of any kind, notwithstanding the fact that there is no field in the whole business or social world that possesses so many capable, practical men as are found among the architects, builders and contractors of large cities. Once in a while a single member of either calling is honored in a moderate way; but such a case is a rare exception.

As a class, the architects and builders are men of large experience, whose business success is the result of executive ability far beyond that of the average business man or those of the other professions. The members of the legal fraternity take to politics as naturally as a duck takes to water, and as a consequence naturally drift into positions both elective and appointive, whereas the constant and almost uninterrupted pressure upon our architects and builders, leaves them little time to gratify their political ambition if they have any. It is to be hoped, however, that at the next mayoralty conventions the builders and architects will push forward someone of their number as an available candidate. There is plenty of good timber among the men who have planned and constructed the $140,000,000 worth of new buildings that have been erected in this city during the last five years, and there is every reason why someone of these who have helped to make the city what it is, should be its next Mayor.

The World's Columbian Exposition.

SEND fifty cents to Bond & Co., 576 Rookery, Chicago, and you will receive, post paid, a four hundred page advance Guide to the Exposition, with elegant engravings of the grounds and buildings, portraits of its leading spirits, and a map of the city of Chicago; all of the rules governing the exposition and exhibitors, and all information which can be given out in advance of its opening. Also, other engravings and printed information will be sent you as published. It will be a very valuable book, and every person should secure a copy.

THE success of the Philadelphia Bourse is now well established. In fact, but a few thousands are needed to swell the total of the sum subscribed to a round million of dollars. As an investment, it is stated that the stock will pay eight per cent. It is desired that the real estate interests be well represented among the stockholders, as it is essential that both the building and real estate interests of this city should have a representation in the Board of Directors. There is every justification for the high estimate placed upon the influence the Bourse will have upon the business interests of this city, and whatever influence increases the business of a city, certainly increases the demand as well as the value of real estate.

THE ROYAL BLUE LINE, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Co., to New York, represents the highest possible character of modern passenger service. When you must go to New York you cannot serve the people of this city better than by giving the Reading the preference. There is more sentiment and sympathy in four dollars worth of patronage than there is in a volume of empty words. Try the Royal Blue Line just once, and you will be sure to stick to it.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The expected visitors of Buffalo, N. Y., to this city, will be entertained by the Builders' Exchange during their stay. A special committee has been appointed for the purpose of making suitable arrangements for a welcome on Thursday, at 2 o'clock P. M.

Final action has been taken by both branches of Councils upon the site of Schuetzen Park, as endorsed and recommended by Mayor Stuart and James T. Windrim, Director of Public Works, and there is now no longer any doubt as to the outcome. The work will be done.

H. A. Miller, Fifteenth and Clearfield Streets, is Chairman of Building Committee upon the addition to the Odd Fellows' Home, Seventeenth and Tioga Streets, and the plans and specifications are at his office for inspection and estimates. The contract will be awarded this month.

Mr. Claus Spreckels intends to rebuild, upon an enlarged scale, the barrel factory recently destroyed by fire, at Otsego and Reed Streets. The new building will be constructed so as to meet any increased demand made upon it after the contemplated duplicate of the sugar refinery has been made.

A. & R. Wilson, builders, Sixth and Tasker Streets, will continue their Spring operations by erecting at Twenty-third and Carpenter Streets twenty-four two and three-story houses. Press brick and stone trimmings for fronts, and the interior work will be of the best, including all improvements.

J. B. F. Johnson, builder, 2510 North Sixth Street, will at once start an operation of thirty-two two and three-story houses on Fourth, Jarvis and Y. P. M. Streets, south of Reed. All to be of press brick, stone steps and facings, with best modern conveniences, including electric bells, furnace heaters, etc.

John Devlin, builder, 2311 Lombard Street, will at once begin the erection of ten two-story houses, south side of Taylor Street, east of Twenty-third Street, and ten more on Cross Street, east of the same street, being located on both sides of Cross Street, all to be of press-brick, stone trimmings and best modern conveniences.

William Steele & Son, 506 Walnut Street, have contracted with George W. Norris, Esq., to erect a handsome residence at southwest corner of Seventeenth and Rittenhouse Square. The structure will be of brick, with ornamental front, four stories high, trimmed with stone and best of interior work, including hard wood finish, electric work, etc.

At Frankford a new club has been formed, and a portion of the Ball mansion leased. It will be handsomely decorated and furnished. The House Committee consists of Messrs. James McMaster, Frank D. Newberry, William B. Allen and others. Philip R. Wells is president, and G. Frank Lever vice-president. The club will be called the "Suburban Club."

General H. H. Bingham, member of Congress from the First District, Pa., assisted by the other city members, has been successful in having incorporated in the General Appropriation Bill in Committee an item which will give the use of about $800,000 for the new United States Mint proposed for this city, and, at last reports, it is in a fair way for passage.

Sub-estimates are being made on the new hotel for Gallagher and Burton, on the northwest corner of Eleventh and Filbert Streets, fully noted in previous issue of this journal. Charles McCaul, contractor, 20 N. Eleventh Street, has the general contract, and Henry Dagit, architect, 132 South Second Street, drew the plans and will supervise the construction. Work will begin at an early day.

Mr. E. De V. Morrell, of Torresdale, proposes to erect an immense stable upon his farm for the purpose of raising fast blooded horses. The structure will be large enough to accommodate 150 head and situated in about 500 acres of pasture. A half mile track is also to be laid out for speeding the animals. Charles Williams, of Frankford, will supervise the work for Mr. Morrell.

Benjamin Ketcham & Son, contractors, 1029 Brown Street, have been awarded the contract to erect the large hotel at the northwest corner of Twelfth and Arch Streets, owned by William Weightman. The plans for the structure were prepared by Willis G. Hale, architect, 1524 Chestnut Street, who will supervise the construction. The drawings have been fully noted in previous numbers of this journal.

James H. Stevenson & Son, builders, Thirtieth and Ridge Avenue, have contracted to erect the large stables and other structures for the Diamond Street Omnibus Co., and for which ground was bought in that vicinity some time ago and noted in this journal. The 'bus house will be 125 x 400 feet on Harold Street. Stabling will be erected for three hundred horses. The headquarters of the company is at Diamond Street and Ridge Avenue.

Hoyle, Harrison & Kaye, manufacturers of upholstery goods, have purchased a new site for their proposed factory, for which plans were made some time since and fully noted in this journal, the location being Wheatsheaf Lane and Pennsylvania Railroad, near Frankford. It is proposed by the firm to soon begin operations. Walter H. Geissinger, architect, Twelfth and Chestnut Streets, made the drawings for the structure and will supervise the work.

Now that the matter of the amount of damage due the Women's Christian Association for property taken on Arch Street, between Eleventh and Twelfth Streets, has been settled finally, it is likely that the project of erecting their new structure, at Eighteenth and Arch Streets, will be now considered, as it was understood that the success of the undertaking largely depended upon the amount of money derived from their property, taken for the Reading Terminal.

The Mercantile Club has purchased the properties, 1422-24-26 North Broad Street, and plans will be prepared in a short time for the new building. The plans will probably be competitive. The cost of ground and building to be about $400,000. The present location of club is at 864 North Seventh Street, and the Building Committee consists of Aaron Lichlen, Chairman; William B. Hackenburg, Nathan Snellenburg, Edward Wolf, William Marks, Simon Muhr and others.

The project of erecting the McCahan Sugar Refinery, and noted fully by us in 1891, is again revived, with assurance that it will at once be pushed to completion. It will be remembered that the location to be utilized has for a number of years been used as a refinery of that article from molasses, and lies just south of the Spreckles Refinery. The members of the firm are W. J. McCahan, James McCahan and R. S. Pomeroy. No plans for the building have been made or contracts let.

In an interview with the firm of John Bromley & Sons, extensive manufacturers of curtains, rugs and carpets, at Lehigh Avenue and Front Street, whose factory was destroyed by fire on the 26th inst., we find it to be their intention to rebuild at once, as the orders now on hand for their particular make of goods renders it imperative.—It is also indicated by parties interested that the cocoa factory of O. Ellwood Becker, the real estate broker, of this city, and others largely interested in the Seven Mile Beach Company, Avalon, Cape May Co., New Jersey, realizing the great want of spiritual influence on the island, are making great efforts toward the securing of a church fund sufficient to erect two frame churches of the Union denomination. The Ellwood Becker First Union Church will be located at First Avenue and Thirty-second Street, while the George Rommel Second Union Church will be located on Ninth Street, near First Avenue. The Church Extension Society is to be asked to furnish plans. Particulars can be obtained at the office of the Seven Mile Beach Co., Third Street, below Chestnut, Philadelphia.

Blasius & Sons, manufacturers of pianos, N. W. corner of Eleventh and Chestnut Streets, intend at an early day to erect one of the largest factories in the country within about two miles of Philadelphia, and for that purpose have had plans prepared by their own designer and draughtsman, William Bein. These contemplate a main building, 160 x 400 feet, five stories high, and two wings, one being 45 x 100 feet, the other 45 x 160 feet. All structures five stories high. The material will be of brick, stone and iron, principally. The interior will be fitted with steam heat and power, and one or two freight-lift elevators to each building. An individual electric plant will be built, large enough to give light to not only the factories, but to the dwellings of the employees in the immediate vicinity, for whom a large number of houses are to be constructed. The product of the plant will be about seventy-five instruments per week. Negotiations for the ground not being closed, it was deemed best by the firm to say nothing at present about the precise locality. About 150 dwelling houses will be erected in connection with the above enterprise. No contracts have been made for the work.

A Few Quiet Words with House Builders and Owners.

If the kitchen of your house is small, you need to economize room. You can do this by using a range with elevated boiler, such as the

"FIDELITY."

It will reduce the cost of plumbing also. We make them with seven inch or eight inch boiler holes, ovens on right or left of fire, with or without hot closets, and also to heat an upper room. Splendid bakers. Hot water in abundance. The latest and best of their class.

FIDELITY HOT AIR RANGE WITH HORIZONTAL BOILER.

Excelsior Double Oven Range.

If the kitchen is roomy and large, cooking capacity is sought. You will want a brick-set range with a vertical circulating boiler, set in the usual way. The

are acknowledged all over Philadelphia, in which city and vicinity some 75,000 have been sold as the standard brick-set range. They are furnished with ventilated ovens, oven-door pedals, rocking grates, and all modern improvements. Made in seven and eight inch sizes; single, double and hot-air ranges. Send for descriptive pamphlet, entitled "PERFECT COOKING."

SPRING and SUMMER 1892.

These cold March days seem a bit too early to order SPRING and SUMMER CLOTHING; but we are ready nevertheless with a splendid assortment of Imported and Domestic Fabrics, heretofore unequalled for beauty and quality.

The Spring Birds will soon be here, and it's none too early even now to leave your order and measure while our lines are full.

$5.00 TROUSERS, made to order from beautiful all-wool goods, is at least suggestive of the idea that economy, beauty and utility can be combined to the advantage of the customer. $20 suits to order equal to the $35 suits of other stores.

Architect Notes.

F. G. Thorn, architect, 235 North Thirty-sixth Street, has completed plans for a handsome residence for Moses Paxon, of Philadelphia, to be erected at Radnor, Pa., to be of stone and frame with all modern conveniences.

John T. Windrim, architect, 132 South Third Street, has been engaged to draw plans for a hospital to be built at Pittston, Pa., the cost of which will approximate $50,000. As details have not been decided upon, and plans incomplete, a description cannot be given yet. The contract for drawings was awarded by competition.

T. Frank Miller, architect, 1221 Arch Street, has completed plans for a fine house to be erected at Ridley Park for Mr. J. H. Bentley, of that place. The structure will be frame and shingle work, three stories high, slate roof, and the interior to have best of modern conveniences. Contract has been given to Contractor James Meckert, of Ridley Park.

The engineering department of the Huston Electric Co., of Boston, Mass., has prepared plans for a large electric house to be erected in Hoboken, N. J., and the drawings are now on boards of contractors for estimates. The structure is to be of brick, stone, cement and iron, two stories high, and fitted with steam and electrical power as well as machinery.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut Street, has made complete plans for addition of three stories to the Girard Building, at Broad and Chestnut Streets. These will be constructed of same material and in conformity with the present structure. Two elevators will be introduced and all features of conveniences in the other offices. Estimates are being invited for the work.

A. Feldspaugh, architect and engineer, Pennsylvania Railroad Station, has made the drawings for enlargement and repair to the market house at Thirtieth and Market Streets, recently damaged by fire. Jacob R. Garber has been awarded the contract, and will begin work at once. The new work will be in unison with the main structure in material, style and workmanship.

Rankin & Kellogg, architects, 1001 Chestnut Street, have completed the general plans for the construction of the new Insane Asylum and Hospital to be erected at Wernersville, near Reading, Pa. The structure will be arranged in four wards and an administration building. The wards to be two stories high, the main office building three; slate roof. Material for all to be brick, with white stone lintels and door caps. Interior to be fire proof, and will be of brick, tile brick for arches, etc. Iron beams, columns and door frames. Stairs of iron, with slate treads. All the partitions will be of tile brick. The central building will contain all the offices for the governor, officers' quarters, doctors, dining rooms, and a corridor will lead therefrom to the main dining room of inmates. The chapel will be on the second story, and will conform to the general plan of the whole. The kitchen will be one story high, and built separate, and supplied with all modern appliances. Steam power heat and electric work will be applied. Estimates will likely be invited at an early day.

Hazellhurst & Huckel, architects, Drexel Building, are preparing plans for a handsome three-story stone residence for W. L. McDowell, at Elm Station, on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The structure will replace the one recently destroyed by fire, and will be a model of comfort. The roof will be of slate. Interior to be in hard woods, with best sanitary plumbing, electric work, bells and light. A handsome porch will extend for some distance around one side of the house with well-laid walks from grounds leading thereto. Heat will be from one of the well-known furnaces manufactured by the firm of Leibbrandt & McDowell, of Philadelphia. All the latest improvements for comfort will be introduced. Drawings not yet completed. It is likely that the drawings for estimates on construction of the I. O. O. F. Temple, at Broad and Cherry Streets, in this city, will be placed on boards during the current week. Also, have placed on boards for estimates the drawings for the factory of Hamilton & Deissinger, at Tenth and Medical Streets, and which have been fully noted in a previous issue of this journal. The same architects have prepared plans for a colonial house for Jos. C. Cox, which will be 40 x 60 feet, three stories high, of stone, slate roof, heated by steam and furnished with all modern improvements. Also, plans on board for a stone house to be erected at Allen Lane Station on the Germantown Branch P. R. R. This structure will be three stories high, slate roof, heated by steam and finished on interior with hard wood. A fine tower will be built at one corner. Whole to cost about $15,000.

An Extraordinary Collection of Paintings.

The large number of people who crowded the Academy of Fine Arts on the occasion of Mr. William Crary Brownell's recent lectures on French Art, demonstrates beyond the peradventure of a doubt an increasing interest in such matters; an interest augmented by an excellent loan exhibition of French Art, chronologically arranged, by which means the subject could be followed from its inception to the present time. A further opportunity to continue the study not only of the French, but also of the Spanish, Italian and German schools of painting, is presented in the fine collection now on exhibition at the galleries of Davis & Harvey, 1212 Chestnut Street. "Good wine needs no bush," and such names as Alma Tadema, Fortuny, Meissonier, Corot, Millet, Diaz, Daubigny, Fromentin, Jacque, Marchetti, Gerome, Rousseau and others equally famous, are sufficient in themselves to insure a rare treat to those who appreciate what is really good and beautiful in art.

Architects' Notes.

L. C. Hickman, architect, 925 Chestnut Street, having completed plans for the Pennsylvania Barge Club House, to be erected in Fairmount Park, and previously noted in full in this journal, has placed them for estimate.

Walter H. Geissinger, architect, 102 South Twelfth Street, has placed the plans for the new mills of John H. Bromley & Sons on boards for estimates. The Boulevard bill having now passed both branches of Councils, as recommended by Mayor Stuart, it will undoubtedly become a law after his signature has been appended. The next move to be made will be an appropriation for the payment of consequential damages in taking property, as the above bill only provides that the thoroughfare be placed upon the city plan as surveyed.

Estimates are being made on the two new structures for the Pennsylvania Hospital, mentioned in this journal previously, as the plans were at that time only ordered. They have been completed by Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut Street, and are upon the boards for bids. These structures are to be located—one upon the grounds of the institution and the other at Duponceau and Spruce Streets.

City Councils will shortly be asked to consider appropriations for two new buildings at Blockley Almshouse. The first one will be for a Nurses' House, to be erected outside the grounds proper, and will contain class rooms for study and instruction, as well as quarters for them, whilst the second will be an isolated ward or building for contagious diseases, and will also be separated from the other buildings enclosed by the wall.

Also, the contract for placing in position all the granite work for the main depot at Twelfth and Market Streets. About 40,000 cubic feet of stone will be required for the whole contract. W. S. P. Shields, real estate operator and builder, 735 Walnut Street, has purchased ground for building purposes at Twenty-first and York Streets for $40,000. Mr. Shields will construct altogether about one hundred houses upon this plot. Sixty-eight two-story houses will be upon a new street to be called Inquirer, will also be very handsome, with best improvements, the cost of which as a whole will approximate $300,000.

Both branches of City Councils have passed over the Mayor's veto the ordinance giving the Traction Company the right to construct the trolley system of propelling its cars upon streets now traversed by horse cars, and upon others upon which their charter allows them to run cars from time to time, as they may find it advantageous to lay rails. The present bill embodies certain pledges to keep in repair the streets over which they may pass, and to pave others upon which poles may be erected and rails laid. As a whole, the new system of propulsion is now a law privilege, and will no doubt be carried into effect in many quarters of the city.

Palliser's Improved Form of Building Contract with Bond

Is the Standard. All others are limitations or Infringements.

Our latest revised form, printed on linen paper, is now ready. It has been constantly improved during the past fifteen years of test, application and experience, and has grown to perfection. Half a million copies have been used. They are highly commended by all the Architectural and Building Journals printed in the English language, and the Architectural and Legal professions pronounce them perfect in all particulars and what has long been wanted.

They are applicable to any part or division of building work or sub-contracts. You can fill them out yourself. No need to pay a lawyer $4.00 or $5.00 for furnishing you with an obsolete form and filling it up for you. Besides, if you do, you are sure to need the services of a lawyer later.

This is the only contract that is adapted to the lien laws of every State. All others are worthless in this respect.

Price, 5 cents each, per dozen 40 cents; 40 for $1.00; 100 for $2.00.

Be sure and have a right contract. It will save you endless trouble, and may be $500 or more in law. Address all orders and inquiries to the publishers.

The estimated cost is about $50,000. It will be of stone, and 92 x 150 feet, with a seating capacity of about 800. The Sunday-school room will seat about 700. The contract does not include the pews. The King's Daughters have promised to furnish most of the stained glass windows, and the Ladies' Aid Society will furnish the carpets and pulpit furniture and furnishings.

The Board of Port Wardens, at a meeting on the 4th inst., granted permission to M. Ehret, Jr., to extend bulkhead at Gray's Ferry, on the Schuylkill River. Also, to Crew Levick & Co., to build one at Chester, Pa. Permits were granted William Cramp & Sons; also, Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, to make extensions to wharf property at Richmond.

The Reading Railroad has leased for a long term the old Merchants' Bank Building, on Fourth Street, south of Chestnut, and will at once fit it up in a manner to accommodate the officers in charge of the coal interests. It will be occupied by Secretary Kaercher and his force of employees.

The Pennsylvania Railroad will at once enter into possession of the market house at Seventeenth and Market Streets, and begin its demolition for terminal purposes, having given bonds for damages incurred to all parties concerned.

SPRING and SUMMER 1892.

These cold March days seem a bit too early to order SPRING and SUMMER CLOTHING; but we are ready nevertheless with a splendid assortment of Imported and Domestic Fabrics, heretofore unequalled for beauty and quality.

The Spring Birds will soon be here, and it's none too early even now to leave your order and measure while our lines are full.

$5.00 TROUSERS, made to order from beautiful all-wool goods, is at least suggestive of the idea that economy, beauty and utility can be combined to the advantage of the customer. $20 suits to order equal to the $35 suits of other stores.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Northwestern Architect.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well. 'Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city.'"

[From the Builder, Decorator and Wood-Worker.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

"There is not the least doubt about 'Adamant' wall plaster will last as long as the building upon which it is used."
